Former Governor Carries

By 1339 Majority

SIXTY ONE PRECINCTS IN COUNTY REPORT

Vote Of These Shows Pin-chot 7311 And
Hemphill 4262

Sweeping through Lawrence county in even better shape than his followers here had hoped, Gifford Pinchot seemed certain to carry the county for governor by 4,000, and perhaps 4,500. With 61 precincts reported out of a total of 89, Pinchot has 7,311 votes as this extra goes to press, and his Democratic opponent 4,262.

Pinchot's showing in the city of New Castle was a surprise. Here Hemphill was conceded to have considerable strength and his followers were confident that he would carry the city, or at least hold Pinchot to little worse than an even break. Instead, Pinchot carried the city by 1,339 votes, getting 4,112 to Hemphill's 2,773.

Second Ward Heavy
The second ward was particularly heavy for Pinchot, giving him a substantial majority in every precinct. The third and fourth wards were also heavy majority wards for him, the Hemphill strength coming from the first, fifth, seventh and eighth wards. Even these did not show the overwhelming majorities they were expected to for the Democratic candidate.

The complete tabulation of the city and county returns will be shown in the regular edition this afternoon.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4. A pronounced Democratic sweep which had some of the earmarks of a moderate landslide appeared in the making tonight as returns rolled in from all sections of the country on the stormy mid-year election.

Not many of them were complete, but they were sufficiently representative to show a strong Democratic trend throughout the country, with New York leading the way by re-electing Franklin D. Roosevelt to the governorship by the enormous and unprecedented plurality of some 600,000. Not even "Al" Smith in his palmy days ever equalled that, or came near to it.

New Castle will not use voting machines for some time, the proposal to install them in this city losing on Tuesday, November 4th, by the following vote. Yes, 915. No, 3653.
There was little campaigning done for the proposal to install machines, friends of the idea preferring to present it to the people and allow them to use their own judgment without any high pressure campaign. Ramsey, Democrat, in the Tuesday, Nov. 4, election by 761 votes, polling 7,734 votes to his Democratic opponent's 2,973.
His election on Tuesday makes the third consecutive time Mr. Richards has been elected to the General Assembly from New Castle, and is the second time Mr. Ramsey has been defeated for the office, losing in 1928.

While there were no outward signs of a campaign until a week or 10 days before the election, an intensive fight was waged by Mr. Ramsey from that time on, and his vote in some precincts, particularly in the sixth and seventh wards, indicated his efforts. He also carried the third ward by a narrow margin.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 5.—(2:15 a. m.)—Gifford Pinchot has been elected to a second term as governor of Pennsylvania, on the basis of returns filed up to 2:15 a. m. today.

Shattering 40 years of precedents, the voters of Pennsylvania apparently have chosen Pinchot for another term as governor over his Liberal-Democratic rival, John M. Hemphill, according to incomplete returns which covered every county in the state. The former governor swept the upstate counties, scoring amazing victories in many counties, and particularly in Allegheny and Dauphin. He rolled up such a huge majority that, early today, it appeared impossible for Hemphill to overtake him in the complete returns.

Hemphill ran a great race, carrying the city of Philadelphia into the Democratic column for the first time in modern history and sweeping the wet agricultural counties of Berks, Lehigh, Northampton and Monroe. He also carried Montgomery and Erie counties to help swell his total vote. But all these victories were not enough to overcome the tremendous lead taken by Pinchot in coal regions and the counties touching the Susquehanna river and Allegheny mountains.

At 2:15 a. m. Pinchot had a lead of 27,000 on incomplete returns which included, however, the total majorities scored by the two candidates in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh. It appeared then that Pinchot had carried Allegheny county by 75,000 and Hemphill had swept Philadelphia by 217,000. The former governor's 26,000 victory in Dauphin county, added to his Allegheny landslide, went far toward wiping out Hemphill's Philadelphia lead and enabling the governor to roll up his winning margin in other friendly counties.

Hemphill Continues to Hope
At 2:30 a. m. Hemphill refused to concede his opponent's victory. He returned at that hour to his West Chester home after spending the evening at the home of a friend.

Unless the final returns should change the apparent election of Pinchot, he will owe his victory to the Republican organization of Allegheny county, which refused to bolt him. Instead of stumping a faculty within their own ranks, as occurred

Republican Candidates Roll Up Large Majorities In New Castle

SWICK ELECTED; HAS NO OPPOSITION

One of those "old fashioned" Republican majorities was piled up in the City of New Castle by the state wide candidates on Tuesday. While no contest was put up by the Democrats for their state wide candidates, yet it was thought that perhaps the Hemphill vote might carry the other candidates to a respectable showing. This did not materialize and the Democratic candidates were snowed under.

For the United States Senate James J. Davis polled 5373 votes in New Castle (all precincts reported), to 1055 for Sedgwick Kistler, the Democrat. For lieutenant-governor General Edward C. Shannon, Republican candidate polled 4602, to 1137 for Guy K. Bard, Democratic candidate.

Similar Judge Majorities
Similar overwhelming majorities were piled up for the Republican candidates for Justice of the supreme court and judges of the superior court. For supreme court, Judge George W. Maney polled 4772, to 1101 for Judge Henry C. Niles. For judge of the superior court (two to elect), Judge William B. Linn, an incumbent, polled 4814, while Judge James B. Drew polled 4636. Both were on the Republican ticket. On the Democratic ticket, Judge Aaron E. Reiber polled 981 votes, and George F. Douglas 633.

For congress the present incumbent, Dr. J. Howard Swick, Republican, had no opposition on any ticket, and polled 6425 votes. For secretary of internal affairs, Philip H. Dewey, Republican, polled 4749 votes while Lucy D. Winston, Democrat, polled 993 votes.

NORRISTOWN, Pa., Nov. 5.—John H. Hemphill, wet Democratic-Liberal gubernatorial candidate, carried Montgomery county apparently won over Gifford Pinchot, the Republican nominee, by between 3,000 and 5,000 votes on the basis of tabulated returns at 1 a. m. today. The outcome was one of the greatest upsets in the history of the county.

At that hour with 126 of the county's 172 precincts counted Hemphill was leading by 4,700 ballots. The vote:
Pinchot, 21,749.
Hemphill, 26,403.

Hemphill also won the city of Norristown by 484 ballots.
Pinchot's managers had claimed a victory for the Pike county forerunner by a majority of 20,000.

Thomas J. Walsh, Noted Oil Investigator, Re-Elected To Seat In Senate

(International News Service)
BUTTE, Mont., Nov. 5.—Thomas J. Walsh, noted oil investigator, will be returned to the United States Senate by a huge majority, incomplete returns late tonight from every section of the state indicated. Butte gave Walsh an indicated majority of 6,000 votes over Albert J. Galen, associate justice of the supreme court, his Republican opponent. Walsh was leading Galen by 20,000 votes and his majority was steadily increasing.

Seven Republican Congressmen In Philadelphia Win

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 5.—Every one of Philadelphia's seven Republican congressmen were re-elected without much opposition on the basis of returns at 10:30 p. m. Tuesday night.

Joseph T. Trainor apparently had run the state Senate seat lost to the Democrats two years ago, and the state assembly seats also were won back by the Republicans.

Madam Shushu was the fortune teller of the town. Among her possessions was a tract in a fine location, but upon which she had a mortgage. The mortgage was held by Ira Lay, the town's lawyer. Now Ira Lay was in the habit of going to this fortune teller for sittings. One day Madam Shushu predicted that Mr. Lay would die before a certain date, two years hence. But so sure was Mr. Lay that Madam Shushu this time was wrong that he drew up an agreement with her saying that in consideration of the numerous sittings he had received from her he agreed to give up the mortgage note to her if he died during the time she predicted.

Before the time arrived Ira Lay did die. Madam Shushu therefore called upon the administrator of his estate and asked for the note, but the administrator refused to give it up. Madam Shushu, therefore, sued.

DEMOCRATIC GAINS QUITE NUMEROUS IN VOTING ON TUESDAY

While in West Virginia it appeared that the voters had elected M. M. Neely, Democrat, over J. P. Jones, Republican, by a substantial majority of about 75,000 votes.

The apparent drift was as wet as it was Democratic.

In the only three states which held referenda on the prohibition question the wets appeared to have won overwhelmingly. In Illinois voters to repeal the amendment, as did little Rhode Island. While Massachusetts was steadily increasing its vote in favor of repealing the state enforcement or so-called "dry" law.

The south returned to the Democratic fold. It appeared, by electing Josiah W. Bailey to the Senate from North Carolina, after having chastised Senator Simmons for having bolted to Hoover two years ago.

Heflin Is Beaten
Another famous Smith bolter, Senator Tom Heflin, in Alabama, appeared to be steadily succumbing to John H. Bankhead, nominee of the regular Democratic organization.

At 10:30 o'clock tonight, with returns slowly trickling in, it appeared that Pennsylvania and New Jersey were the principal Republican cases in the East.

In Pennsylvania, James J. Davis, secretary of labor in the Hoover cabinet, appeared to have safely won the Republican senatorial election, but his gubernatorial running mate, Gifford Pinchot, was running a close race with John H. Hemphill, nominee of the Democratic-Liberal party.

Morrow Rises Strong
Seen in Jersey, Dwight W. Morrow seemed to have the Republican senatorship safely tied up. His lead was steadily mounting over Alexander Simpson, the Democratic candidate.

Traditionally Republican and Conservative Connecticut seemed on the verge of electing a Democratic governor, Dean Cross, of the Yale law school, was leading the Republican candidate, Rogers, by some 5,000 votes with returns incomplete.

The bases of the senatorial millionaires in Rhode Island between Senator Metcalf (R) and Ex-Senator Peter Gerry (D) appeared close, with Metcalf leading in the incomplete returns. Both men are immensely wealthy and are wet.

Vermont and New Hampshire returned their traditional Republican victories, although the Democrats rolled up considerably more votes than usual in these states.

Ritchie Re-Elected
Down in Maryland, Gov. Albert C. Ritchie was re-elected for the fourth time, constituting an all-time record for the Free state.

For the most part, returns were too fragmentary to give much indication as to whether the Democrats will actually control the next house of representatives. Democratic leaders, pointing to the Democratic figures in other states, were supremely confident, however, at 10:30 p. m.

Democrats Make Heavy Inroads

Control Of National House Of Representatives May Pass To Democrats.

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—Control of the national house of representatives may pass to the Democrats in the 72nd congress, it was indicated Tuesday night as early election returns revealed striking Democratic gains.

The Democrats also were certain to increase their number in the senate, but even their most optimistic leaders doubted that they could win control.

With a net gain of 19 seats in the house in scattered returns from six states, the Democrats were well on their way to capture the 53 Republican seats necessary for command of the "popular branch" of congress.

In these returns the Republicans had made but one gain. They apparently had "redeemed" Calvin Coolidge's congressional district in Massachusetts by electing Joshua Brooks, a wet Republican.

The Democrats, however, were capturing the seats in the South and border states which they lost in the Hoover landslide of 1928. These included two in Virginia, two in North Carolina, two in Oklahoma and one in New Mexico. Later returns from Missouri, West Virginia and Kentucky also are expected to show Democratic gains.

Rep. Lankford, Republican, of the Norfolk, Va. district thus far is the only "Hoover Republican" to survive the Democratic trend. Running as a dry he defeated Ex-Rep. Deal, a wet.

THE IMPORTANT POSITION OF PISCES

By Arthur D. V. Carpenter
Pisces (the fishes), twelfth constellation of the zodiac, is in the ascendency in November. It is best found by locating a V shaped figure of faint stars under the Square of Pegasus. Pisces is made very important because a long portion of the ecliptic extends through it, and still more so because it is in Pisces the sun crosses the equator March 21.

The Vernal Equinox. If one will follow down from the east side of the Square of Pegasus a distance equivalent to the length of that side of the square, he will then be resting his eye close on that point in the sky that marks the Vernal Equinox.

Democrats Gain Two More Seats

Two Congressional Seats Gained By Pennsylvania Democrats In Next Congress

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 5.—The Democratic party has gained two congressional seats in Pennsylvania's delegation to the House and may pick up a few more.

Whereas Pennsylvania has but one Democratic representative in the present House, it appeared Tuesday night that Representative Kent (D), in the 30th district, and Lichtenwalner (Dem.) in the 14th district would be sent to the next Congress along with Boyland (D), in the 19th district, who won both nominations.

There were close fights being waged in the 17th, 24th and 30th districts. Otherwise Republican congressmen were successful.

Secretary Davis Wears Big Smile

Successful Candidate For Senate Seat Is Very Happy

JAMES J. DAVIS

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Nov. 5.—With a broad smile on his face, James J. Davis, secretary of labor in the cabinets of three Presidents—Harding, Coolidge and Hoover—sat in Republican headquarters here Tuesday night and listened to the uninterrupted flow of election returns that presaged his malcontent into the United States Senate.

As county after county throughout the state reported huge majorities for "Pudding Jim", the former iron worker relaxed enough from his habitual reticence to say:

"I am grateful for my election, which seems assured on the face of the returns. I came from the people. I have always served the people, and I will continue to serve them."

Incomplete State Returns Indicate Hemphill Loses In Battle On Tuesday

In so many other cities, both the regular Republicans and the Pinchot independents co-ordinated in rolling up a record majority for the former governor. Indeed, the Pinchot majority there has exceeded even the record 65,000 plurality given President Hoover in the 1928 campaign.

In Philadelphia it was a different story. The regular Republican organization bolted to Hemphill and made it stick. They carried every single ward in the city for Hemphill, including the ward bossed by Mayor Harry A. Mackey, warm supporter of Pinchot.

Wets for Hemphill

STATE WINNERS

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 5.—The victors in Pennsylvania's state-wide election were:

Governor—(apparently) Gifford Pinchot, of Milford, United States Senator—James J. Davis, of Sharon, Judge of the Supreme Court—George W. Maxey of Scranton.

Judge of the Superior Court—William B. Linn, of Philadelphia.
Judge of the Superior Court—James B. Drew, of Pittsburgh.

Lieutenant-Governor—Edward C. Shannon, of Columbia.
Secretary of Internal Affairs—Philip H. Dewey, of Tioga county.

his attacks on prohibition. These counties, cities and farm communities alike voted wet. In did Erie and Montgomery counties, although in the latter the local Pinchot leader virtually killed Pinchot's chance of carrying the county by a last minute personal attack on the regular Republican leader.

Hemphill also was aided by the support of Norristown Times-Herald, which wields great influence in the county.

In the rest of the state Pinchot ran as well as anticipated by neutral observers, excepting Dauphin. There he rolled up a majority that has never been rivalled in a gubernatorial election. It was due to Democratic votes and probably resulted from the endorsement of Pinchot by Vance C. McCormick, former Democratic national chairman, who lives in Harrisburg.

Dauphin County Gives Pinchot About 25,000 Votes Majority

HARRISBURG, Nov. 5.—Gifford Pinchot, Republican candidate for governor, carried Dauphin county by nearly 25,000 votes over his Democratic opponent, John H. Hemphill. With only three precincts missing out of 128, Pinchot's unofficial vote is 35,749 to 9,828 for his opponent.

(International News Service)
NEWARK, N. J., Nov. 4.—An autopsy today on the body of Joseph Russell, known as "the ape", revealed that when he was shot to death by two gunmen in the Newark General hospital yesterday he was already suffering from three bullet wounds previously inflicted.

Following the visit by the summer yesterday who finished the job of killing Russell with two bullets in the head of police today held four men, pending investigation. Republican Candidates Roll Up Large Majorities In New Castle

One of those "old fashioned Republican majorities" was piled up in the City of New Castle by the state wide candidates on the election of Tuesday, November 4th. While no contest was put up by the Democrats for their state wide candidates, yet it was thought that perhaps the Hemphill vote might carry the other candidates to a respectable showing. This did not materialize and the Democratic candidates were snowed under.

For the United States Senate James J. Davis polled 5373 votes in New Castle (all precincts reported), to 1955 for Sedgwick Kistler, the Democrat. For lieutenant-governor General Edward C. Shannon, Republican candidate polled 4602, to 1137 for Guy K. Bard, Democratic candidate.

Similar Judge Majorities
Similar overwhelming majorities were piled up for the Republican candidates for Justice of the supreme court and judges of the superior court. For supreme court, Judge George W. Maxey polled 4772, to 1101 for Judge Henry C. Niles. For judge of the superior court (two to elect), Judge William B. Linn, an incumbent, polled 4814, while Judge James B. Drew polled 4636. Both were on the Republican ticket. On the Democratic ticket, Judge Aaron E. Reiber polled 981 votes, and George P. Douglas 833.

For congress the present incumbent, Dr. J. Howard Swick, Republican, had no opposition on any ticket and polled 6425 votes. For secretary of internal affairs, Philip H. Dewey, Republican, polled 4749 votes while Lucy D. Winston, Democrat polled 993 votes.

Claim Half Million
NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—The reelection of Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt by a plurality of 500,000 was estimated at 7:30 tonight by James A. Farley, chairman of the Democratic state committee.

Early returns indicated, Farley said, that the Democrats would control the state senate. And very likely by the assembly. Indications were for the greatest Democratic sweep in the history of the state, declared Farley.

According to early returns received by Democratic headquarters here Governor Roosevelt carried Buffalo by 25,000, and apparently many upstate cities that have never gone Democratic were being carried along on the crest of a Roosevelt wave, Farley asserted.

For the first time since he has run for office Governor Roosevelt carried his home district, Hyde park. He had a lead here of 268.

Farley estimated from early returns that Governor Roosevelt would carry the city of New York by 547,760, and the governor appeared to be running so close to his Republican opponent, Charles H. Tuttle, in the up-state senate that Farley predicted Tuttle would come down to the Bronx county line with a lead of not more than 50,000.

THE IMPORTANT POSITION OF PISCES

By Arthur DeV. Carpenter
Pisces (the fishes) twelfth constellation of the zodiac, is in the ascendency in November. It is best found by locating a V shaped figure of faint stars under the Square of Pegasus. Pisces is made very important because a long portion of the ecliptic extends through it, and still more so because it is in Pisces the sun crosses the equator March 21—the Vernal Equinox. If one will follow down from the east side of the Square of Pegasus a distance equivalent to the length of that side of the square, he will then be resting his eye close on that point in the sky that marks the Vernal Equinox.

Democrats Gain Two More Seats

Two Congressional Seats Gained By Pennsylvania Democrats In Next Congress

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 5.—The Democratic party has gained two congressional seats in Pennsylvania's delegation to the House and may pick up a few more.

Whereas Pennsylvania has but one Democratic representative in the present House, it appeared Tuesday night that Representative Kent (D), in the 30th district, and Lichtenwalner (Dem.) in the 14th district would be sent to the next Congress along with Boydland (D), in the 19th district, who won both nominations. There were close fights being waged in the 17th, 12th and 20th districts. Otherwise Republican congressmen were successful.

Secretary Davis Wears Big Smile

Successful Candidate For Senate Seat Is Very Happy

JAMES J. DAVIS

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Nov. 5.—With a broad smile on his face, James J. Davis, secretary of labor in the cabinets of three Presidents—Harding, Coolidge and Hoover—sat in Republican headquarters here Tuesday night and listened to the uninterrupted flow of election returns that presaged his matriculation into the United States Senate.

As county after county brought out the state reported huge majorities for "Puddler Jim", the former iron worker relaxed enough from his habitual reticence to say: "I am grateful for my election, which seems assured on the face of the returns. I came from the people, I have always served the people, and I will continue to serve them."

In so many other cities, both the regular Republicans and the Pinchot independents co-ordinated in rolling up a record majority for the former governor. Indeed, the Pinchot majority there has exceeded even the record 65,000 plurality given President Hoover in the 1928 campaign.

In Philadelphia it was a different story. The regular Republican organization bolted to Hemphill and made it stick. They carried every single ward in the city for Hemphill, including the ward bossed by Mayor Harry A. Mackey, warm supporter of Pinchot.

Wets for Hemphill

STATE WINNERS

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 5.—The victors in Pennsylvania's state-wide election were:

Governor—(apparently) Gifford Pinchot, of Milford.

Judge of the Supreme Court—George W. Maxey of Scranton.

Judge of the Superior Court—William B. Linn, of Philadelphia.

Judge of the Superior Court—James B. Drew, of Pittsburgh.

Secretary of Internal Affairs—Philip H. Dewey, of Tioga county.

his attacks on prohibition. These counties, cities and farm communities alike voted wet. So did Erie and Montgomery counties, although in the latter the local Pinchot leader virtually killed Pinchot's chance of carrying the county by a last minute personal attack on the regular Republican leader.

Hemphill also was aided by the support of Norristown Times-Herald, which wields great influence in the county.

In the rest of the state Pinchot ran as well as anticipated by neutral observers, excepting Dauphin. There he rolled up a majority that has never been rivaled in a gubernatorial election. It was due to Democratic votes and probably resulted from the endorsement of Pinchot by Vance C. McCormick, former Democratic national chairman, who lives in Harrisburg.

Dauphin County Extends Pinchot Great Plurality

Dauphin County Gives Pinchot About 25,000 Votes Majority

HARRISBURG, Nov. 5.—Gifford Pinchot, Republican candidate for governor, carried Dauphin county by nearly 25,000 votes over his Democratic opponent, John M. Hemphill. With only three precincts missing out of 138, Pinchot's unofficial vote is 35,749 to 9,833 for his opponent.

Previous Bullets Found In Gunman Two Men Arrested Ale Cargo Seized

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Nov. 4.—Two men were being held today for a hearing before the United States commissioner after prohibition agents had seized their two trucks and 240 cases of alleged ale on a highway at Locust Point, near Beaver Falls.

The load was being brought to Pittsburgh in a truck alleged to have been driven by Edward Harris, 30, of this city, agents reported.

They arrested Harris and John Dadiash, of New Kensington, when the latter came to take part of the load at Locust Point, agents said. Harris' truck became disabled at this point and Dadiash was alleged to have driven his truck from Pittsburgh to aid him.

Agents reported they followed Dadiash' truck and made the arrest when the two drivers were engaged in loading the alleged ale into the second conveyance.

WOMAN'S CLUB HEARS DR. AMOS

Mrs. William Cosel of the Department of International Relations of the Women's club had charge of the program Monday afternoon in the Highland United Presbyterian church, and it was splendidly carried out with "Peace" being the theme of the afternoon.

Mrs. A. E. Street, president, had charge of the business meeting and the club women decided to aid in the state work among the blind. The program opened with Mrs. Cosel making a statement of the purpose of her department, which is a new one this year in the club work.

The prayer for peace with a minutes' silent devotion was given by Mrs. C. Duff Scott after which Mrs. Grace Phillips Johnson gave the poem "Illusions of War," by Richard D. Gallienne; Mrs. Robert McKinney gave a reading "Unknown" after which the unveiling of the Brand-Kellogg peace past took place with Mrs. John Elliott, Rebecca Brown and Mrs. J. M. Dabaker participating in the ceremony; the salute to the flag was given by Mrs. W. H. Hanger, assisted by girl scouts and this part of the program closed with the club women singing "America the Beautiful".

Mrs. Cosel, in a most pleasing manner, introduced the guest speaker, Rev. Walter A. Amos, pastor of the St. Peter's Episcopal church of Pittsburgh, whose subject was "Making and Breaking the War Habit". Rev. Amos addressed the club women on the importance of the United States guarding against all future wars, going deeply into the subject of how these may be avoided. He also stated that the United States must not be a follower, but a leader in any and all national movements that tend toward peace among the nations.

As a nation the United States stands forth as the greatest one on the earth and the people of other countries look to her for leadership and we must not disappoint them. Our attitude toward war and peace will be followed and if we lead in the abolishing of war and putting the world in a position which will ultimately lead to everlasting peace, the nations of the world will follow the example.

This, of course can not be done in a day, but such meetings as the one held by the Woman's club, if persisted in, will bring the subject of peace before the coming generations and war will be obliterated from the face of the earth.

Rev. Amos' speech was enthusiastically received by the club members. November 10 will mark the date of the next meeting of the club, when Mrs. Charles Wallace and Mrs. Margaret Rice will be hostesses and Mrs. E. F. Harper will be in charge of the program.

The meeting will be marked by a "Psychological" program, the speaker being none other than Dr. Joseph Jastrow, eminent American Psychologist and Professor emeritus of the University of Wisconsin. His specific subject for the day will be "The Psychology of Wit and Humor" and he will take up "Why Do We Laugh?" our instinctive expressions; "What Do We Laugh At?" and other interesting points of a range and reach of a sense of humor.

Mrs. W. H. Hanger and Mrs. W. A. Womer were hostesses for the afternoon.

November Is Coat Month At Higgins

You Will Find YOUR Coat, YOUR Price Among the Fashions in the Higgins Collection

We recommend a speedy trip to Higgins. For a new winter coat is almost a necessity this year, because of the great difference in 1930 style lines. Though your last season's coat may be warm and whole, you'll probably find it won't do. Fortunately Higgins prices are going to make a change easy to finance.

So come and see them. They are individual. There are copies and adaptations of the Paris models. There are others distinctly American in conception. But all are decidedly new and we believe these coats are going to convince everyone that Higgins is leading the city in coats.

WOMAN'S CLUB HEARS DR. AMOS

Mrs. William Cosel of the Department of International Relations of the Women's club had charge of the program Monday afternoon in the Highland United Presbyterian church, and it was splendidly carried out with "Peace" being the theme of the afternoon.

Mrs. A. B. Street, president, had charge of the business meeting and the club women decided to aid in the state work among the blind.

The program opened with Mrs. Cosel making a statement of the purpose of her department, which is a new one this year in the club work.

The prayer for peace with a minutes' silent devotion was given by Mrs. C. Duff Scott after which Mrs. Grace Phillips Johnson gave the poem "Illusions of War," by Richard D. Gallienne. Mrs. Robert McKinney gave a reading, "Unknown," after which the unveiling of the Briand-Kellogg peace pact took place with Mrs. John Elliott, Rebecca Brown and Mrs. J. M. Darbaker participating in the ceremony; the salute to the flag was given by Mrs. W. H. Hanger, assisted by girl scouts and this part of the program closed with the club women singing "America the Beautiful".

Mrs. Cosel, in a most pleasing manner, introduced the guest speaker, Rev. Walter A. Amos, rector of the St. Peter's Episcopal church of Pittsburgh, whose subject was "Making and Breaking the War Habit". Rev. Amos addressed the club with the importance of the United States guarding against all future wars, going deeply into the subject of how these may be avoided. He also stated that the United States must not be a follower, but a leader in any international movements that tend toward peace among the nations.

As a nation the United States stands forth as the greatest one on the earth and the people of other countries look to her for leadership and we must not disappoint them, our attitude toward war and peace will be followed and if we lead in the abolishing of war and putting the world in a position which will ultimately lead to everlasting peace, the nations of the world will follow the example.

This, of course can not be done in a day, but such meetings as the one held by the Woman's club, if persisted in, will bring the subject of peace before the coming generations and war will be obliterated from the face of the earth.

Rev. Amos' speech was enthusiastically received by the club members. November 10 will mark the date of the next meeting of the club, when Mrs. Charles Wallace and Mrs. Margaret Hice will be hostesses and Mrs. E. F. G. Harper will be in charge of the program.

The meeting will be marked by a "Psychological" program, the speaker being none other than Dr. Joseph Jastrow, eminent American Psychologist and professor emeritus of the University of Wisconsin. His specific subject for the day will be "The Psychology of Wit and Humor" and he will take up "Why Do We Laugh?" our instinctive expressions, "What Do We Laugh At?" and other interesting points of the range and reach of a sense of humor.

Mrs. W. H. Hanser and Mrs. W. A. Womer were hostesses for the afternoon.

UNIFORMITY IN AIR LAWS

GOVERNOR FISHER has named Elwood J. Turner and Robert M. Ginter to represent Pennsylvania at the national conference in Washington in December to discuss uniform aeronautic regulations.

Mr. Turner is a member of the legislature who was active in framing state aeronautic laws, and Mr. Ginter is vice chairman of the State Aeronautics Commission. Besides a uniform state code they will consider the problem of federal traffic rules to aid local enforcement and matters affecting airports.

There is no doubt that supervision of the airways demands a plan of co-operation as urgently as any activity within ordinary policing powers. In fact, the interstate aspect of aviation transcends that of highway travel, not only because airplanes may cross state lines so quickly, but also because state jurisdiction in the air lacks the well-defined boundaries available on the earth's surface.

The police problem itself will be difficult. This is one of the topics on the conference program. Assuming that it can be settled satisfactorily, the question of prosecutions will be full of hazards. All the obstructive devices and legal delays that impede the ordinary course of justice will be greatly multiplied by the increased possibility of technical subterfuges. If crimes go largely unpunished when committed in a two-dimension space the escapes in three-dimension space may be appalling. One must remember, too, that efforts at a statutory control upset age-old defenses in the common law traditions about freedom of the air. Readjustment to the new order may come only slowly.

All these factors suggest the desirability of making state authority as nearly uniform as possible and backing it up with a vigorous public opinion.

SETBACK FOR METROPOLITAN PLAN

Judge Siddons of the District of Columbia Supreme Court has dismissed the petition asking a mandamus to compel the director of census to list the population of Atlanta at 360,692 instead of 270,367. The latter figure is the enumeration for the city proper, and the former includes outlying districts that were annexed by recent act of the Georgia legislature without completely merging their corporate identity. They still retain certain separate municipal powers.

Whether this semi-independent status operates against their exclusion or in favor of it, for census purposes, is a question the director has no authority to determine, according to the court's decision. It is also held that the law does not require the director to publish a census of cities, since that duty lies outside the necessity, which the constitution recognizes, of enumerating the inhabitants in order to apportion their representation in congress fairly.

This ruling, unless challenged, means that Philadelphia and other places contemplating a metropolitan plan of annexations are by no means sure of being able to count such accessions in the federal returns. Perhaps pressure may bring from some future congress a new definition of what constitutes the population of a "city." In the past the Census Bureau has sought the aid of Chambers of Commerce and other bodies for views on what makes up the so-called "greater" city. In general the agreement has been that a unified trading zone within certain restrictions comprises the "greater" city. But the bureau usually issues such information as supplementary to its main report, and it has lacked official sanction. The significance of these estimates now dwindles further if Judge Siddons's decree becomes final. Meanwhile a new petition has been filed seeking to restrain the director from publishing any other figure for Atlanta's population than the 360,692. In other words, an injunction is asked where a mandamus was refused.

Atlanta, like her sister cities, has counted too much on the label from the Census Bureau. Her buying power, her labor market and similar assets are not dependent on the rating given at Washington. The suburbs do represent a coefficient of consumption in spite of Census Bureau arithmetic. If business men would recognize the fact and play up to it more effectively there might be less hysteria in watching the federal scoreboard—Philadelphia Inquirer.

IF ADVERTISING STOPPED

"What would be the reaction upon the cost of living if advertising ceased and its beneficent force were stopped?" This question provides much food for rumination.

It is an interesting conjecture. Advertising largely takes the place of personal selling effort, which is very much more expensive.

A California editor cogitating on the possibility of a cessation of advertising says:

"It would mean that our railroad trains would be thronged with salesmen whose homeward bound mail would carry fewer orders, all of smaller volume than now.

"Distribution upon the present scale would be impossible. Manufacturing would fall off, with a consequent decrease in labor demand. Jobbers would find their business proportionally limited. Retailers would make fewer and slower turnovers.

MEN ARE THE MYSTERIOUS ONES

Are women mysterious? That's a joke. That's old stuff.

They used to be, but they aren't any more. The MEN are the mysterious ones now—and everybody knows it.

The women were mysterious back in the days when men didn't know what they were thinking. But now everybody knows what they're thinking.

They talk right out in meeting. They say what they want to SAY. And if they can get away with it they do what they want to DO.

They get the jobs and they fill them capably. And if they marry and have children, they still aren't the old-fashioned wives they used to be.

They talk about the men. Of course they ALWAYS talked about the men—when the men weren't there—but now they talk about the men when the men are present—and uncomfortable—and laughing hollowly—and getting red ears from embarrassment.

They talk about the men just as the men used to talk about the women. And they talk to the men in that same condescending-of-course-you-don't-understand, pet-kitten way the men once used in talking to women.

They say the most astounding things. That's what the women are doing.

And, of course, the men pretend to like it. They SAY they do.

They say: "Isn't it swell that the women are emancipated, that our daughters and mothers and sisters and wives are like this—so modern and independent and refreshingly natural. They used to repress themselves, now they EXPRESS themselves. Isn't it fine?"

Yes . . . Isn't it? THE LIARS.

The FAKERS! They don't mean a word they say. They feel cheated. They don't want women to be their "equals." They don't really want to see women doing those things saying these things being "modern." They want them to be like "the girl that married dear old dad." But they DON'T DARE TO SAY IT! They know what would happen. They can imagine the peaks of laughter—the howls, the chuckles, the unladylike display of amusement.

They don't dare say that, so what do they DO—the cowards?

They keep STILL. They become MYSTERIOUS. They say one thing and think another, just as the women did. They say things about the women that they don't say when they're around. They think one thing and do the opposite. They're all muddled and rebellious just as the women were. They're messes—they're MYSTERIOUS!

And here I stand . . . all defenseless . . . with one garter hanging down . . . saying what I shouldn't say . . . and the odds are ten to one I can't fine ONE man in all this town who'll back me up and admit I'm telling the TRUTH!

The Money Grabber

Perhaps you find yourself with a larger income than you ever expected to command.

You remember when you thought that half the amount would satisfy you.

Are you happy?

No, you want still more and live in constant fear of losing what you have.

Even a small loss makes you despondent.

You are not having the pleasure you thought would be yours.

Your thoughts are so wrapped up in making more and fear of losing some that you have little time left and no desire to think of anything but your financial possessions.

Money is your god and it alone, you worship.

As an employer you are niggardly, perhaps, in the wages you pay because you prefer a larger accumulation for yourself rather than the good of your men.

You have as much as your family and you will ever need, so why the determination to carry on the fight for increasing fortune.

Why not relax and begin to enjoy some of the things money will buy?

Why not get acquainted with your family and learn their desires?

There are many commendable ways you might get more out of life than it now affords you.

Program Of Chinese Reform Viewed As Difficult Course

Horrible Massacres Charged To Communists Impress Americans As Evidence Of Great Obstacles In Chiang's Future Pathway

Opinion regarding Chiang Kai-shek's statement outlining measures required for the establishment of law and order in China is tinged with comment on the measure of thousands under lawless conditions in some sections. These atrocities are charged by some to the Russian communists. The conversion of Chiang to the Christian religion is studied in its possible bearing upon his control over the people of China. "What China and the outside world will be interested in," says the CHICAGO DAILY TRIBUNE, "is not what the subjective nature of Gen. Chiang's conversion may be, but its objective results, if any." The Tribune holds that "a plausible hope is that measures for the suppression of Chinese communism, with its violent anti-religious policy, may be intensified. But the Nationalist government," continues that paper, "is fully aware of the danger to itself and to the interests of China as it intelligently conceives them, of the communist warfare, both as a devastating force and as a means of imposing soviet control over Chinese affairs. If the Red bands have not yet been crushed, it has not been from lack of will but from lack of means. Now that the campaign against the northern coalition has become inactive, through the intervention of the Manchurian warlord, Gen. Chiang may be free to attend to the communist forces in central China, and if he can do so there is little doubt he will at the first opportunity. It is to be hoped the young Manchurian dictator will be disposed to give the Nanking government reliable assurance that no advantage will be taken of the disposal of its forces for the pacification of the regions now overrun by the communist and bandit bands."

"It is a strange phenomenon," declares the NEW YORK HERALD TRIBUNE, "this conversion, when China is reported torn with anti-Christian propaganda, when missionaries are being forced to give up posts where they had worked for three decades, when Chiang's own government has just banned religious instruction even in the mission schools. . . . To the philosophical Chinese mind, all religions are but partial approximations of universal truth. And Chiang, when he sees his country adrift, unsatisfied with old loyalties, old religions, old traditions of every sort, undisciplined and chaotic, must feel the need of something to tie to."

"In its cultural aspect," as interpreted by the LOUISVILLE COURIER-JOURNAL, "Chiang's conversion is a manifestation of the New China, a definite break with tradition. Politically it stamps the Western religion in China with conservatism and consigns communism to affiliation with Russian theories. In foreign relations it unquestionably places the central Government in a position to cultivate the sympathies of the Powers at the moment when it has crushed military opposition and is ready for the first time to undertake civil reform and internal improvements with foreign financial assistance."

"Fetters attacks by the communists, carrying out the Moscow Red program," says the JAMESVILLE GAZETTE, "are aimed against all Christians—missionaries, the laity of all nations and natives as well. By embracing Christianity, Chiang issues a challenge to the Reds of all the universe. There are other examples of such conversions, the most outstanding being that of Constantine, emperor of Rome, who turned his realm over in a day from paganism to Christianity by one ukase. The Chinese anarchy appears to be more certain each day. Great areas are in the hands of Reds. They move about rapidly, plundering and exacting huge ransoms. Calls are made for foreign intervention. Nations hesitate about a direct move to halt these red armies of irregulars. It would cost millions in money and lives would have to pay the penalty. It would be no Boer rebellion with a definite objective but a war scattered over a great nation with no one with whom peace might be made. It would be worse than Pershing's attempt to capture Villa."

"The Communists in China," observes the BUFFALO EVENING NEWS, "have captured another city. Reports of the number of people massacred run all the way from 8,000 to 60,000. Exaggerations probably reflect wrong guesses about the number who fell into the hands of the horde rather than merciful moderation by the victorious bandits. A philosophy which teaches the forcible redistribution of property and extermination of persons who do not join the movement shows illuminating results when it is taken up by the Chinese robber bands."

"The possibility of further spread of the activities of so-called communists in China," in the judgment of the CHATTANOOGA TIMES, "renders the future of that country something of which one does not like to think. But Europe and America would seem to be all but powerless to prevent the worst. Responsible government has disappeared from large sections of the land and the people have been left a prey to the lawless. It is a dark hour for China, and one through which it must pass largely alone."

Hope for the future is seen by the NEW ORLEANS TIMES-PICAYUNE in Chiang Kai-shek's manifesto announcing reforms, which that paper believes shows "a careful study of American political platform and programs," with a suspicion that "it was addressed to the outside world rather than more than to the Chinese people." The Times-Picayune concludes: "The manifesto is chiefly noteworthy because it signifies that some at least of China's present-day leaders realize their country's needs in the way of governmental and administrative reforms. That recognition should force soon or late, and probably through the PLINT DAILY JOURNAL, agrees that 'if Chiang, the young dictator, can first of all quiet the people and rid the country of its communist leaders, there is a possibility that he can institute a constructive program.'"

"The OAKLAND TRIBUNE finds significance in the fact that 'other nations are giving back what they took long ago,' referring to the British action on Wei-hai-wei, and declaring: 'Now, after many delays, the city and port are returned and China may check another victory to the list of those which have seen its nationalist ambitions gain even in the face of the most threatening civil warfare. Britain the word given at the four at the Washington Conference in 1922 has been kept. But for the fall of the Peking Government in 1924 the return would have been made at earlier date.'"

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

WHAT OF "WHUSKY?"

Around the advertising slogan 'whoever drinks beer will live to be 100 years old,' a fierce fight is being waged between brewers and wine makers in Italy. Each side is asking the government to expound its cause.

Italy produces more than one-fifth of the world's supply of wine, being second only to France, but her consumption of the beverage is steadily decreasing.

Two causes contribute to this. The lesser is anti-alcoholic propaganda, which has had its effect, although it will be many years before Italy is ready to enact an Eighteenth Amendment. The other is the increased consumption of beer, brought about by the $125,000 advertising fund of the Italian brewers.

Country Districts Favor Prohibition

Political Sharps Find Rural Sections Stick With Prohibition

(International News Service)

NEW ASHFORD, Mass., Nov. 4.

Political weather sharps attempting to discover which way the "winds of destiny" were blowing in today's election scanned the vote of New Ashford, the first town in the nation to report.

The count showed the country districts apparently still in the prohibition column. On the question of repeal of Massachusetts' "baby vote" act, The Berkshire hill farmers voted: yes 11, no 19.

Comparative votes of the heads of the tickets were:

For United States Senator, 1930: Butler, (R) 29; Coolidge, (D) 4; 1928: Leaning, (R) 27; Walsh, (D) 4; 1926: Butler, (R) 14; Walsh, (D) 8.

B. And O. Starts
New Coach Service

Trains 19 And 20 Operating Through Here Have Easy Chairs In Day Coaches

An innovation in passenger service was inaugurated by the Baltimore and Ohio railroad on trains No. 19 and 20, operating through New Castle between Baltimore and Detroit, when the new style day coaches equipped with reclining individual chairs were put into service.

It is expected that eventually the new style chairs will be placed in service on all through trains, but only the two trains are carrying them at the present time.

The seats are adjustable and can be changed to suit the whim of the passenger. They are placed two in a row on each side of the car, with arm rests between.

In addition to the regular car lights, side lights have been placed beside each pair of chairs so that if other passengers, riding at night, desire to take a nap, the car lights can be turned out and the individual lights turned on so that the occupant of the chair may read.

Lights are placed at either end of the car to enable passengers getting on or off the cars to see the way out.

Members of the train crew have been instructed to keep the comfort of the passengers in view, and to guard against disturbing passengers.

WAR CRY OF THE RED ANTS
Peter stared at Commander Ant, and Commander Ant stared at Peter. "There must be something I can do!" remarked the boy. "Now that I am here, I may as well be useful." "Right!" agreed Commander Ant. "Let me think. How would you like to be messenger boy? Somebody has to carry the word from one part of the hill to another, and if you would be so good as to do so, it would relieve one of our scout ants for active duty!"

"That suits me!" Peter nodded. "I may get lost now and again, but I'll try to hang on to my sense of direction! Ye gods and little catfish! What is that awful noise?"

No wonder Peter was startled. A shrill sound, half hiss, half scream, tore the silence.

"That's the war cry of the Red Ants!" answered Commander. "Just as I expected! They have broken through the first line, and are bearing down upon us. We have gotten our forces together just in time. Even so, there's no time to lose in taking our posts. Quick, sisters! Fall into line. Mark time! Forward march! And when you catch a glimpse of the enemy's eyes, light as you never fought before!"

The horrible noise was coming nearer and nearer. Peter felt his blood curdle. The enemy meant business, that was certain.

"Now, I guess I know how the early American settlers felt when for the first time they heard the Indian warwhoop. Almost it is as if I were a little white boy hiding behind a stockade waiting for the Redskins to attack!"

Stubborn Coughs
Ended by Recipe,
Mixed at Home

Here is the famous old recipe which millions of housewives have found to be the most dependable means of breaking up a stubborn, lingering cough. It takes but a moment to prepare and costs little, but it gives real relief even for those dreaded coughs that follow severe cold epidemics.

From any druggist, get 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex, pour it into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey. This you make a full pint of better remedy than you could buy ready-made for three times the cost. It never spoils and tastes so good that even children like it.

Not only does this simple mixture soothe and heal the inflamed throat membrane with surprising ease, but also it is absorbed into the blood, and acts directly upon the bronchial tubes, thus aiding the whole system in throwing off the cough. It loosens the germ-laden phlegm and eases chest soreness in a way that is really astonishing.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form. Nothing is known in medicine is more helpful in cases of distressing coughs, chest colds, and bronchial troubles.

Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

Aviation Line Has Been Sold

Clifford Ball Aviation Company Passes To Holding Company

NEW NAME GIVEN ORGANIZATION

(International News Service) PITTSBURGH, Nov. 4.—The Clifford Ball Aviation company, operators of the air-mail and passenger service from Cleveland to Washington, via Pittsburgh, has been purchased by the Pittsburgh Aviation Industries corporation, a holding company, according to an announcement today from Clifford Ball, head of the Ball lines.

The new organization will operate under the name of the Pennsylvania Air Lines, Inc. No changes nor additions to the present service are being contemplated at the present time, according to Ball.

Richard W. Robbins, executive secretary of the Pittsburgh Aviation Industries corporation, becomes president of the new system and Clifford Ball will act as first vice president and general manager.

Other officers will be Major H. S. Martin, vice president; C. Beffel, Monroe, secretary and treasurer; A. L. Humphrey, George R. Ham, R. W. Robbins, Clifford Ball, W. L. Monro, C. T. Ladd, Norman Alderdice, Andrew J. White and R. M. Baldrige, directors.

Merging of the Ball system marks the passing, in name, of the pioneer air service company in Pittsburgh. The Ball lines began operation in 1926 between Pittsburgh and Cleveland and in 1929 extended their service to Washington, D. C.

The Pittsburgh Aviation Industries corporation has established the Pittsburgh-Butler airport, the Pennsylvania aviation and the Pittsburgh Aerial Surveys company. It recently acquired the Transcontinental & Western, Inc., to establish a coast-to-coast all air passenger service through this city.

May Utilize Free Wood And Coal For Needy Ones Of City

Applicants For Aid Would Rather Do Something Than Accept Charity

Wood which is being burned up by the Pennsylvania railroad company may be utilized for the poor of the city if plans now being made by County Investigator M. B. Hogue are carried out. The wood, which is obtained from the wrecking of old cars, is hard and dry and would make excellent firewood. Heretofore the railroad company has piled it up and burned it.

Hogue says that many of the applicants for help are able bodied men and that they could be put to work cutting up the wood, if they had some means of having it hauled ed to their homes. The county, it is believed, can arrange to do the hauling at $1 a load.

Mr. Hogue also found that there is a small vein of coal at No. 2 Cement plant, now controlled by the New Castle Brick Products company, that can be had for the digging. It is a stripping proposition and anybody can dig it. The coal vein is covered by limestone, and then by a layer of clay which the brick company uses.

Able bodied men who apply for help can be put to work taking out this coal which can be hauled at a considerable saving to the county. Mr. Hogue reports that most of the able bodied men who are out of work and apply for aid, would rather work at something and be paid for their work, even at a low wage, than to accept charity. Considerable thought has been given to this phase of the county and aid business, but the trouble has been to find work that the applicants can do.

Some of the streets of the city or county could be put in good shape by men who apply for help and who would rather do something to earn the money than to have it given to them.

Two Generations Make Big Change In Library

That the function of the public library has changed greatly within the past two generations was the statement made today by Alice M. Sterling, librarian at the New Castle Public Library.

"The old conception of the public library," said Miss Sterling, "was that the library was a musty institution where human knowledge was stored away. It took on somewhat the aspect of a museum."

"Today, fortunately, all that is changed. Now people recognize the public library as the helpful service institution it is. True, human knowledge still reposes here in printed form, but it is indexed and cross-indexed so as to be readily available to any individual seeking information on any subject."

While the use of the library is increasing, according to Miss Sterling, twice as many New Castle people would use the library's facilities if they were fully acquainted with them.

Visitors, she said, are always welcome at the library, and members of the staff are ready and willing anytime to show people through the building or to assist anyone in finding books or data that might be desired.

Suit For Damages In Auto Accident

Catherine Zelesnak And Father Andy Zelesnak Want $25,000 From Walter Mora

Catherine Zelesnak, by her father, Andy Zelesnak of Koppel, has filed a suit and issued a capias at the prothonotary's office, against Walter Mora of Chetwin in which $25,000 damages are asked for injuries to Catherine Zelesnak as the result of an automobile accident near Chetwin.

This is a case in which a car driven by Mora crashed into a car belonging to Jefferson Winston of New Castle. Winston was killed and a lady occupant of the Mora car afterwards died as a result of injuries sustained in the accident.

Winston had parked his car on a curve to change a tire. It was while the change was being made that the Mora car crashed into the Winston car. At the coroner's inquest on Jefferson Winston the jury returned a verdict of accidental death. The woman who was injured died in the Rochester hospital.

It is claimed that Catherine Zelesnak, in whose behalf the present suit is brought, had her pelvic bone broken, left shoulder dislocated and suffered injuries to her spine, as well as internal injuries. Carelessness on the part of Mora in operating his car is alleged.

Mystery Of Missing Guns Has New Sequel; Another Returned

Troop F's "Mystery of the Missing Guns, or the Return of the Three" reached a new chapter this week, and, as a result, the puzzle is still unsolved. But the troop officers are jubilant because the last in missing equipment from the troop armory has been returned, according to Capt. Harvey G. Bintrun, the commander.

Capt. Bintrun said today that the armory's long lost automatic pistol, which mysteriously disappeared while the outfit was camping at Mt. Gretna in 1929, has been returned in an equally mysterious manner.

The latest return is the third. Several days ago the commander found two other pistols which had been missing from the troop stores.

Missing for a year, the automatic was returned to the armory, with the serial number of the weapon mistreated. The other two weapons had been missing for only a few months and were left by the taker on the commander's doorstep on Boyles avenue.

Capt. Bintrun said today that a wide search has been instituted to apprehend the person who took the automatic a year ago from the campment at Mt. Gretna.

Aviation Line Has Been Sold

Clifford Ball Aviation Company Passes To Holding Company

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Nov. 4.—The Clifford Ball Aviation company, operators of the air-mail and passenger service from Cleveland to Washington, via Pittsburgh, has been purchased by the Pittsburgh Aviation Industries corporation, a holding company, according to an announcement today from Clifford Ball, head of the Ball lines.

The new organization will operate under the name of the Pennsylvania Air Lines, Inc. No changes nor additions to the present service are being contemplated at the present time, according to Ball.

Richard W. Robbins, executive secretary of the Pittsburgh Aviation Industries corporation, becomes president of the new system and Clifford Ball will act as first vice president and general manager.

Other officers will be Major H. S. Martin, vice president; C. Bedell Monro, secretary and treasurer; A. L. Humphrey, George R. Hann, R. W. Robbins, Clifford Ball, W. L. Monro, G. T. Ladd, Norman Alder, Andrew J. White and R. M. Baldridge, directors.

Merge of the Ball system marks the passing, in name, of the pioneer air service company in Pittsburgh. The Ball lines began operation in 1926 between Pittsburgh and Cleveland and in 1929 extended their service to Washington, D. C.

The Pittsburgh Aviation Industries corporation has established the Pittsburgh-Butler airport, the Pennsylvania corporation, the Pittsburgh Aerial Surveys company. It recently affiliated with Transcontinental & Western, Inc., to establish a coast-to-coast all air passenger service through this city.

May Utilize Free Wood And Coal For Needy Ones Of City

Applicants For Aid Would Rather Do Something Than Accept Charity

Wood which is being burned up by the Pennsylvania railroad company may be utilized for the poor of the city if plans now being made by County Investigator M. B. Hogue are carried out. The wood, which is obtained from the wrecking of old cars, is hard and dry and would make excellent firewood. Heretofore the railroad company has piled it up and burned it.

Hogue says that many of the applicants for help are able bodied men and that they could be put to work cutting up the wood, if they had some means of having it hauled to their homes. The county, it is believed, can arrange to do the hauling at $1 a load.

Mr. Hogue also found that there is a small vein of coal at No. 2 Cement plant, now controlled by the New Castle Brick Products company, that can be had for the digging. It is a stripping proposition and anybody can dig it. The coal vein is covered by limestone, and then by a layer of clay which the brick company uses.

Able bodied men who apply for help can be put to work taking out this coal which can be hauled at a considerable saving to the county. Mr. Hogue reports that most of the able bodied men who are out of work and apply for aid, would rather work at something and be paid for their work, even at a low wage, than to accept charity. Considerable thought has been given to this phase of the county and aid business, but the trouble has been to find work that the applicants can do.

Some of the streets of the city or county could be put in good shape by men who apply for help and who would rather do something to earn the money than to have it given to them.

Vare Secretly Hopes Pinchot Will Be Licked
Powerful Philadelphia Political Boss Fights Gifford Pinchot
FEUD EXTENDS SEVERAL YEARS
Vare Motors From Atlantic City Home To Cast Ballot For John M. Mump-hill
(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 4.—A physical broken man, wearing dark glasses and shuffling along on a cane, cast his secret ballot here today, undoubtedly, against Gifford Pinchot and hoping the republican nominee would go down to defeat.
Thus, William S. Vare, whose high aspirations for National leadership in the republican party were smashed when the senate struck from his shoulders a senatorial toga, turned another page in his feud with Pinchot. Vare motored here from his convalescent retreat in Atlantic City to oppose Pinchot and to spur on the great Philadelphia republican organization into rolling up a tremendous majority of the liberal-democrat, John M. Mump-hill.
Caused Revolt
Down at his Villa at the seashore, Vare was credited with having given the "nod" that launched the state-wide bolt of republicans to the Hemphill banner. At least, the politicians say, he jerked the republican organization in Philadelphia from the Pinchot camp, turning this great city democratic for the first time in modern history. Without his silent accord, the bolt against Pinchot probably would have died by the wayside.
If Pinchot is defeated—and his defeat, if it occurs, will be due to Philadelphia's bolt—Vare will be credited with keeping the republican nominee from the governor's chair, just as Pinchot is credited with keeping the Philadelphia from a seat in the senate. It was that classic "certificate of doubt," written by Pinchot in 1925 just before he ended his first term as governor and describing Vare's election to the senate as "partially bought and partially stolen," that gave a tremendous incentive to the senate group fighting the Philadelphia. It resulted in the senate denying Vare even privilege of taking his oath of office as a senator.
Never Forgave Pinchot
Having beaten Pinchot for the senatorial nomination that year, Vare never has forgiven the governor for writing that "certificate of doubt." Early this spring, Vare sponsored Francis Shunk Brown, aged attorney, as an opponent to Pinchot in the primary only to watch the entry of a third and dripping wet nominee divide his own ranks, permitting the former governor to

Big City Fire Loss In October Revealed By Report Of Chief
Loss By Fire Was Approximately $187,138.96 in Buildings And Contents
A fire loss that has not been eclipsed in the city for many years was recorded for the month of October by Fire Chief H. Lynn whose statement to Superintendent of Public Safety Reeves reveals that total loss sustained by fire during the past month amounted to approximately $187,138.96. Of that amount, the chief's report indicated, $84,873.29 was the estimated loss on buildings and $102,265.67 the estimated loss in contents.
During the month the department responded to 37 alarms. An out-of-city appeal for aid to quell a fire was made to Neshannock township. Chief Lynn's report follows:
"Clayton H. Reeves, 'Supt. Dept. of Public Safety, 'Dear Sir:
"The following is the report of the Department of Fire for the month of October, 1936:
"Number of alarms answered by the department, 37.
"By service truck, company B, 23 alarms; by aerial truck company A, six; by engine company No. 1, eight; by hose company No. 2, six; by hose company No. 3, one; by hose company No. 4, six; by engine company No. 5, 13; by hose company No. 6, five; by engine company No. 7, two.
"Still alarms by chief or assistant 10 alarms. Engine company No. 5, advanced to Central station on two alarms. Hose company No. 6, advanced to Central station on one alarm.
"The total loss (estimated) by these fires was $187,138.96.
"On buildings $84,873.29
"On contents $102,265.67
Total loss (estimated) by insurance except approximately $12,000.
"During the month hose company No. 2, and service truck company B answered a call from Neshannock township, on the Graceland cemetery road to the home of R. E. Hanna. The place was owned by Herb McGowan.
"And by the use of hose company No. 2, large chemical and the booster tank on truck B were successful in extinguishing a fire that not only had destroyed the Hanna home, but in all probability would have been communicated to two other homes that were very near the Hanna house.
"Yours respectfully,
"Charles H. Lynn,
"Chief of Department of Fire."

Takes Courage To Oppose Crowd And Carry-On
"During the recent war many hundreds of soldiers of all armies received distinguished service medals for outstanding bravery. And many hundreds of thousands more displayed wonderful courage upon the field of battle. Too much praise can not be given to this type of valor. But there are often situations which demand great courage also," said Doctor Theodore B. Apple, State Secretary of Health, today.
"Without wishing to minimize the heroic deeds which were so common in no-man's-land, the tremendous urge of military necessity and group action were inspiring factors. On the other hand, it takes an entirely different type of courage to oppose the crowd and carry on single-handed. This fact, forcibly illustrated when habits and customs are concerned.
"Comparatively a few weeks ago, despite the excessive temperature, most men discarded straw hats for their felt ones, not from any comfort standpoint, but because the imperious dictates of fashion rang the courthouse bell on the summer style of headgear. And it was a brave man indeed who dared defy tradition in this respect by continuing to appear in his straw hat.
"Much the same psychology can be blamed for the practice of following certain trends of habit, common to the crowd, and which are decidedly detrimental to health and the chances of long life.
"For instance, it takes a very particular type of courage to refuse invitations to late hour parties which are likely to rob one of sleep and vitality if frequently indulged in. By the same token, no little bravery must needs be exhibited on the part of the modern young man and woman who, for their health's sake, in the face of the almost universal affection for inhaled cigarettes consistently refuses to smoke. Again, a very definite force of character is required to limit one's food intake to physical necessity rather than to be guided by the measure of the capacity displayed by appetite alone.
"And in general, it demands a strong will to withstand the alluring temptations of present-day civilization which have their foundation in so-called pleasures and thrills rather than on the solid basis of physical well-being.
"Therefore, the person who can stand the gauntlet deserves real credit for his personal courage. But he too will get a magnificent reward. Remember, that to the victor belong the spoils; and in conquering one's self on a health basis the spoils are represented by a healthy, happy and lengthy life—than which there is no greater reward."

Vare Secretly Hopes Pinchot Will Be Licked

Powerful Philadelphia Political Boss Fights Gifford Pinchot

Vare Motors From Atlantic City Home To Cast Ballot For John M. Mephill

(International News Service) PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 4.—A physically broken man, wearing dark glasses and shuffling along on a cane, cast his secret ballot here today, undoubtedly, against Gifford Pinchot and hoping the republican nominee would go down to defeat.

Thus, William S. Vare, whose high aspirations for National leadership in the republican party were smashed when the senate struck from his shoulders a senatorial toga, turned another page in his feud with Pinchot. Vare motored here from his convalescent retreat in Atlantic City to oppose a Pinchot and to spur on the great Philadelphia republican organization into rolling up a tremendous majority of the liberal-democrat, John M. Mephill.

Caused Revolt Down at his Villa at the seashore, Vare was credited with having given the "nod" that launched the statewide bolt of republicans to the Hemphill banner. At least, the politicians say, he jerked the regular republican organization in Philadelphia from the Pinchot camp, turning this great city democratic for the first time in modern history. Without his silent accord, the bold against Pinchot probably would have died by the wayside.

Never Forgave Pinchot Having beaten Pinchot for the senatorial nomination that year, Vare never has forgiven the governor for writing that "certificate of doubt." Early this spring, Vare sponsored Francis Shunk Brown, aged attorney, as an opponent to Pinchot in the primary only to watch the entry of a third and dripping wet nominee divide his own ranks, permitting the former governor to win. Since then, just as Pinchot declined to abide by the tabulated result of either the 1926 primary or election, so Vare refused to abide by the results of this year's primary. The bolt to Hemphill followed.

Vare has not publicly declared against Pinchot, but he did approve the speech made by his daughter, Miss Beatrice Vare, against the former governor. In that speech, Miss Vare declared "Pinchot" tried to crucify my father and begged republican voters to support Hemphill.

Proud of Daughter "My daughter's speech was read to me," was Vare's comment "I am highly pleased with it and I am proud of her."

The results of the election today may give Vare a measure of victory over Pinchot but it will end their feud. So long as they live, these two men will fight each other politically with all the resources at their command.

If Pinchot wins, the Vare organization will fight his legislative program at Harrisburg throughout his administration while Vare, original sponsor of secretary of labor James J. Davis for the senate seat he lost, will have a large word to say about federal patronage in the eastern part of the state.

If Pinchot loses, the Vare organization will command respect at Harrisburg throughout Hemphill's administration, while Pinchot will be relegated temporarily to the sidelines, probably to reappear two years hence when Davis must stand for re-election to the senate.

But the vote that Vare cast against Pinchot today turned the page in another chapter of this tremendously poignant political battle between two men, known throughout the country and each powerful in his own way.

Fourth Pension Bill In Council

Councilman Burns Presents Pension Bill For Police

COMMISSION TO DIRECT FUND

Councilman W. T. Burns, superintendent of finance for the city during council session at the municipal building Monday introduced an ordinance which creates and establishes a Police association and a Police fund. The measure also provides for its administration, management, regulation and control. The Burns measure is the fourth Police pension bill, others having been presented by D. O. Davies during his term as a councilman. Councilman Trever and also Councilman Reeves.

The Burns bill, which was sent to committee for consideration later, provides that the fund is to be created and maintained by an annual appropriation made by council and also by an equal and proportionate monthly charge of three percent of the pay for each member of the force who becomes a member of the association. The measure calls for an appropriate annually to the pension fund of $4,000, of which one twelfth shall be paid into the fund at the end of each calendar month. Police to get a pension must have served 20 years continuously.

The other salient points of Councilman Burns measure follows. The fund created shall be under the direction of a committee, to be known as the Police Pension Fund commission, membership to consist of the mayor, four members of council, police chief and two members of the association selected by council recommended by the majority of members of the association.

The commission is to meet, organize, name a president and secretary and shall adopt such rules and regulations for the administration of the fund providing, however, that the rules and regulations shall be approved by the city council and shall conform to and be in accordance with the provision of any and all acts of the Commonwealth of this (the present) ordinance and of all other ordinance of the city in force or hereafter passed.

Applies to Association
The Pension Fund is to be applied only to the association members and who shall receive honorable discharge by reason of age or disability and the allowance that shall be made to those retired by these foregoing reasons and shall be in conformity with a uniform scale.

Before they can become members they must agree to pay an amount equal to three percent of his pay towards such Pension fund. The fund cannot be used for any purpose than to pay pensions. The commission can accept gifts, grants, device or request, a money or property.

It is to be held in trust for the benefit of the Pension fund and the care, management, investment and disposal of such trust funds or property shall be vested to the commission. When there is a surplus in the fund above the current requirements it can be invested as follows: Bonds of the United States, bonds of the state, of any municipality, or municipal division of the state; or certificates of indebtedness for public improvements issued by the city of New Castle; but it is provided however that if the donor of any such trust fund stipulates how the same shall be invested or disposed of, such stipulation shall supercede the requirements of this section as to donations only.

Can Retire at 70
Any member of the association may retire from active duty when he becomes 70 years old but he is subject to service from time to time as a police reserve until in the opinion of council he shall be unfit for service, when he shall be finally discharged by reason of age or disability.

Members of the association may retire from active duty at the age of 70 and receive the pension but it can show to council that he is able to perform the duties of a policeman, he may continue working on the force until such time as he becomes incapacitated for duty.

The bill also provides that any member between 60 and 70, may be retired at his own request and the recommendation of the other association members, concurred in by four members of council. Any member between these ages can be compelled to retire by a vote of four members of council when it is shown he is unfit to perform a policeman's duties.

No member of the association shall receive a pension from the fund set up and compensation from the city for injuries at the same time.

Reasons for Non-Payment
He can be deprived of his pension rights for any one of the reasons following:

Conviction of a crime or misdemeanor; becoming a habitual drunkard; becoming a non-resident of the state and failing to comply with the general regulations relating to the fund after notice and hearing before council.

The bill provides for the appropriation annually of $4,000, one twelfth of which shall be paid to the fund at the end of each month.

One during the first year after the effective date of the ordinance. Members who will be 7 years old and older at the effective date of the ordinance and who have served continuously twenty years on the force, shall receive a sum equal to 33 1-3 percent of their annual pay which they were receiving immediately preceding their retirement.

The bill also provides that members between 60 and 70 years of age at the effective date of the ordinance and who have served continuously 20 years shall receive a sum equal to 50 percent of the annual pay which they were receiving immediately preceding retirement.

Members under 60 years at the effective date of the ordinance and who have served continuously 20 years shall receive a sum equal to 50 percent of the annual pay which they were receiving immediately preceding retirement.

Must Repay Money
Persons hereafter entering the service of the city as policemen and becoming members of the association may retire at the age of 70 if they have continuously served 20 years and receive a sum equal to 50 percent of the annual pay which they were receiving immediately preceding retirement.

Any member voluntarily withdrawing from the force and who is an associate member and is not on the retired list and not under any charges, upon notice to the commission, shall be entitled after the first year of his entrance in the association to receive all moneys paid into the fund by him together with interest at the rate of three percent. Should he withdraw as a policeman and desire again to enter the association, he shall be required to pay back the money he has withdrawn, together with all the dues that would have accrued between the time of withdrawal and reinstatement.

Any member of the association being discharged for any cause shall not be entitled to a return of the moneys paid in by him to the fund, nor if he is reinstated on the force, shall he become a member of the association until he has paid all dues accruing from the time of discharge until reinstatement to the association.

The bill concludes that "all ordinances or parts of ordinances inconsistent with the provisions of this ordinance are hereby repealed."

VILLENEUVE-LES-AVIGNON, Nov. 4.—The French theatrical producer Lugne-Poe who owns a charming country estate near here, has asked every author whose works he at one time produced to send him a tree for his garden. They will soon make a fine grove and each tree will be marked by a label bearing the name of its donor and thus make a little monument to both playwright and producer.

Miss Nance Pugh, director of the city Girl Scout troops, has announced that a scrap-book contest will be conducted and that the best books will be exhibited at the regional conference that will be held in the Spring at New Castle.

Any individual Scout may make a scrap-book, or the book may be made by a patrol or an entire troop, as is desired. The contents of the book don't have to pertain to Scouting but it would be better if they did, the director explains.

Leaders of the troops and patrols may suggest and help in the planning and making of the scrap-books. They may start to collect material immediately. More information will be given to the leaders at the November leaders meeting.

Miss Pugh is making a scrap-book of etchings, and will show the girls this book as an example. She made a collection of Scout songs some time ago and formed a scrap-book out of those.

It is believed that the plan will meet with great enthusiasm on the parts of the energetic New Castle Girl Scouts and by Spring there will be some worth while exhibits for the regional conference.

HARLINGTON, Texas, Nov. 4.—The reason a great many people don't attend church often is that the long tiresome sermons delivered by most ministers bore them to distraction. In the opinion of Bishop Sam R. Hay, of the West Texas Conference, Methodist Episcopal Church South.

HAVANA, Nov. 4.—A step to curtail government expenditures in the state department, effecting economies in the neighborhood of $200,000 a year, was announced by Secretary of State Rafael Martinez Ortiz, who said there will be a fusion of consulates in Europe, and elimination of some others.

Faster, by seventeen hours, than the fastest train time, a stock Buick 8-66s flashed across the continent and back to set a new record. "Stu" Hawley, director of Texaco national road reports, drove this Buick eight from New York to Los Angeles in 67 hours and 38 minutes. After a brief pause of 4 hours and 46 minutes he made the return run in 69 hours and 20 minutes. In this remarkable test of man and car, the veteran "Cannon Ball" Baker's record for the same run was broken by better than fifteen hours. The Buick service men who examined the car after this dramatic, record-breaking run were pleased with the excellent condition of the motor. Buick engineers have equipped this remarkable new eight with an oil temperature regulator, an oil cleaner, and a crankcase ventilator which enable you to drive at top speed for a thousand miles a day, as Mr. Hawley did to set this record, and still be sure that your motor is safeguarded against lubrication troubles.

Reeves' Bill Provides Sanitary 'Cops' Pension

Councilman Clayton H. Reeves, superintendent of the department of fire and health today pointed out that his proposed pension ordinance, which was presented Friday to council and sent to committee for consideration, also provides pensions for members of the city sanitary police.

According to a copy of the measure which was furnished by Reeves to the New Castle Police Pension Fund Association, "shall consist of the chief of police, sergeants of police, captain of detectives, detectives, lieutenant of police, the police clerk, all patrolmen and policeman, sanitary police and other officers attached to the bureau of police in the city."

Under the provisions of the measure, it is different than other ordinance as it makes provision for a police clerk and the sanitary policeman.

Reeves explained that a police clerk may at some time in the future be named. The sanitary police, according to state law, are under civil service.

Reeves method of raising funds would be practically the same as other bills, excepting that the appropriation amount is different. Reeves would have the city appropriate $2,400, annually to the fund and it would be increased by the members paying 3 percent of their regular monthly salary. The fund could also be augmented by gift, bequest, legacy or donations.

His measure does not provide for continuous service of 20 years. The rate of pension would be:

Fifty five years of age, 25 percent of the average salary paid during their last five years service; 60 years, 40 percent; 65 years, 50 percent and at 70 years of age he or she is to be retired.

Find Old Fire Hose Of City Is Useless After Rigid Tests

Exhaustive Tests By Department Shows Ancient Hose Can't Stand Pressure

When the fire department's periodic water hose test had come to a conclusion Monday afternoon it was decided that five sections of hose from two fire companies were useless when subjected to intense water pressure by firemen.

The city, Fire Chief Lynn explained, is still using some water hose that had been bought in 1902. The sections found unsatisfactory after Monday's tests by engine crews from No. 5 and No. 6, and also some firemen from Central station, are at least 28 years old.

"Fire hose is only guaranteed for three years and the very best as high as five years," Chief Lynn said. Still, the fire department has used the same hose in some instances, for about 28 years.

"Our hose is being replaced each year," Chief Lynn explains. Only last week the department received 1,250 feet of new rubberized hose.

In the tests on Monday it was discovered that one section from No. 6 and four sections from No. 5 were no longer serviceable. The tests were conducted from a hydrant at Sampson and Emery streets, where 215 pounds of pressure were successfully raised to at least 300 pounds by opening and closing the hydrant supply in quick succession.

First plans for the campaign here were discussed at a meeting attended by 15 representative Jewish leaders of New Castle Monday evening at this preliminary organization meeting Samuel Shulman, field representative of the New York office and others spoke on the plans for the drive.

Harry H. Frank, Esq. was elected the chairman of the Allied Jewish Campaign in this district at the meeting. THE PARENT PROBLEM

Plan Party For Kiddies Hallowe'en

Train Your Children To Respect Rights Of Others

By GARRY C. MYERS, PH. D.
Head Division Parental Education,
Cleveland College, Western Reserve University

To the average child Hallowe'en stands for jack o' lanterns, ghosts and goblins and witch tales; means rolling out in masked gangs, ringing door bells, defacing and destroying and disturbing adults.

Some problems for us parents come with it. Children who, as a rule, annoy no one else, and who have due regard for others' rights and property, feel it no wrong at all to go out in all sorts of wild capers and depredations in their neighborhood. Any child at such times is less likely to exercise self-restraint than ordinarily. The psychology of the mob gets hold of him.

We owe it to our children to caution them against property destruction and defacement, particularly on Hallowe'en. If your child and mine has always had a high regard for others' property he will profit by a calm request that he be careful to do no damage. In case he has not learned so to respect the rights of others, better not let him go out at all, if you have spine and skill enough to keep him in.

Hallowe'en is the time a great many of us wish that more children had learned in babyhood some inhibitions and restraints. The average parent fails to train the child in appropriate regard for private and public property. We ought to realize that the difference is only one of degree between the deliberate breaking of a window or screen door and the holding up of a man or woman at the point of a gun.

If your child is sure he must soap windows, suggest that he center his activities upon yours, with the understanding that he will clean them on the morrow. Better persuade him and his gang to limit their visits to certain houses where they will be understood and will not prove themselves great annoyers. If you know of old people in the neighborhood, induce your children and their gang to avoid these folk.

We can do a great deal for our own children and their gang by planning an attractive program for them at our home with ample eats and fun under guidance. Anything we can do to cultivate harmless, wholesome fun in our children and the children of the neighborhood is a contribution toward their character and education and the well-being of the whole community.

Let us protect the younger children against painful fright, leading the older ones not to scare them purposely. We need also to guard these tender little ones from gruesome ghost stories and witch tales. Look out for fires. A good many homes are turned to ashes and some children are burned to death on Hallowe'en.

As for ourselves, we have an opportunity to grow good sports by not making fools of ourselves with children come around teasing us just to see how we will act when we are mad.

Drive Against Accidents Is On

Local Industries Co-Operate In National Safety Movement During Month

Local industries are co-operating with the Western Pennsylvania division of the National Safety Council in the observance of Thanksgiving-No Accident Month.

Most of the larger industries are continually waging a battle against accidents and keep the question before their employees in a forcible manner at all times.

However, they are putting forth special efforts to cut down lost-time accidents to a minimum during this special period.

Statistics of the National Safety Council show that accidents in the home cost almost as many lives as those through other accidents, and this phase of safety is being stressed.

During 1929, the figures show, there were 31,000 people met their deaths through automobile accidents, 25,000 died as the result of accidents in the home, while 23,000 died as the result of industrial accidents.

There were 7,991 people drowned in the United States during the year. 2,485 met their deaths through railroad accidents and 485 were killed in civilian aviation accidents. During the year 97,000 people died of all causes from accidents, almost twice as many as were killed in the United States during the World War.

Fattening Thin Folks Is Difficult

Constitutionally Lean Hard On Dietitians—Clendening

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

The most troublesome problem of the dietitian is to "fatten up" people who are constitutionally lean. It is about as hopeless as stuffing a greyhound so it will look like a pug. Many thin people, as was noticed yesterday, are thin because they have an organic disease. The "living skeleton" of the side shows a nervous disease resulting in atrophy of the muscles. The commonest organic disease responsible for underweight is tuberculosis. In the general vogue for the slender figure those who were able to diet themselves into it with the greatest ease were often found afterwards to have tuberculosis. The depressing list of prominent motion picture actresses who died of tuberculosis testifies to that. The fact that they dieted so strenuously in order to preserve figures which would hold their positions was frequently blamed for the tuberculosis. This was probably only partially just. The tuberculosis was present all the time, but the starvation diet certainly did not help to hold it in check.

But the "born to be thin" type is much more common. They are built on the long plan—generally tall, but whether tall or short, with long, thin neck, enormous flat chest, gauging arms and bony, slender hands and narrow feet.

The skin is so loose you can pick up a layer and pull it away from the flesh. There is no fat layer to cement it to the underlying tissues. The muscles can be seen, interlarded with tendons, like cordage under the paper layer of silky skin.

Their whole machinery seems absolutely incapable of storing up any extra pounds of flesh. They can shovel food into themselves endlessly with no apparent results.

That is not quite a proper statement, however, because one of their difficulties is that the digestive system follows the architecture of the external framework of the body. The stomach is long and hangs low. It does not empty itself easily. The intestines are looped down, and hang low in the abdomen. These structural changes render these people considerably inefficient in digestion. They are likely to be dyspeptics. Food remains in the stomach overlong and causes "heavy feelings" and "gas." They are constipated. The whole digestive system adds to the difficulty of the situation by having a very limited capacity to utilize food. If you could stuff any amount into them they might fatten, but you can't.

Along with all this goes a general spiritual depression—a settled melancholy. The Lincoln type. They are restless and expend energy needlessly.

A gain in weight changes many of their peculiarities. Fat deposited in the abdomen raises the stomach and intestines and relieves much of the dyspepsia. With the first gain in weight these people begin to improve. If they go over the hump in their weight curve, they then gradually, but steadily, get heavier.

Gas Firm Confronted By Big Annual Task; Test 14,000 Places

Two Gangs Of Men Engaged In City And District Testing Of Curb Boxes

The annual inspection of gas curb boxes in the city and vicinity has been started by the Manufacturers Light & Heat Company. The utility company will make rigid tests of the gas lines for leaks in order to make repairs where necessary before frosts set in, it was announced by D. W. Brown, agent in charge of the New Castle and Ellwood City districts served by the company.

A. M. Elder, foreman who is in charge of maintenance, estimates that the company will inspect 14,000 curb boxes. One third of the total number of inspections has already been finished, Elder said.

Two gangs of workmen, numbering 18 in all, are at present engaged in testing boxes on the North Hill, West Side and the East Side districts.

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—The Volstead Vigilantes swooped down on twenty "shock houses" along the Bowery, an hour before noon the other morning, destroying countless bottles and kegs of "smoke" and sent 2,000 bums there in various stages of intoxication, scampering and shivering out into the chill October sunlight.

In one of the joints a wall sign, prominently displayed, heralded the intelligence: "Eye Openers 5 a. m. to 9 a. m. Sleepers Two Drinks," which meant that a couple of shots entitled the victim to snoring space. Sprawled on the floor or slumped across tables, 200 poor devils, having paid the price, were awaiting temporary respite from the injustice of existence.

In another place smoky murals, bucolic in essence, lined the walls. "Harry's Green Leaf," it was called—a popular hang out for those of The Lost Legion who, once upon a time, lived among green fields and running brooks.

And back of the bar, in still another den, the Vigilantes came upon a set of false teeth filled with gold, several glass eyes and a great pile of shoes, overcoats and other wearing apparel—all taken in exchange for portions of "smoke."

"Smoke," the staple poison of the Bowery, retails there at ten cents a shot, or 25 cents an ounce.

HEAVY TRAFFIC.
Some of the Boob Bazaars along the Bowery have installed Mammy Marquises, who stand at the portcullis of each shop and with lazy lids greet the female shopper as she enters.

The Mammy Marquise has a faint air of perfume about him and a gardenia jabbed in his left lapel. And when, with a rising inflection, and in a brand of Gaud-forsaken English that would bring tears to the eyes of a plain-clothes cop, inquires, "Ahnd Mah-DAHNM wishes she is about to be soaked all the traffic will bear.

WILLING TO PAY.
Some of the patchy, middle-aged Grand Dames who patronize certain Boob Bazaars that maintain Mammy Marquises at the portcullis, know in their hearts that the whole thing is a lot of hokey. But they're so hungry for the least bit of deference and courtesy in this raw, raucous, razor-edged age that they're willing to pay for it even at the hands of a sublimated flunkey at a shop door.

THE PARENT PROBLEM

Plan Party For Kiddies Hallowe'en

Train Your Children To Respect Rights Of Others

By GARRY C. MYERS, PH. D.
Head Division Parental Education,
Cleveland College, Western
Reserve University

To the average child Hallowe'en stands for jack o' lanterns, ghosts and goblins and witch tales; means going out in masked gangs, ringing door bells, detaching and destroying and disturbing adults.

Some problems for us parents come with it. Children who, as a rule, annoy no one else, and who have due regard for others' rights and property, feel it no wrong at all on Hallowe'en to engage in all sorts of wild capers and depredations in their neighborhood. Any child at such times is less likely to exercise self-restraint than ordinarily. The psychology of the mob gets hold of him.

We owe it to our children to caution them against property destruction and defacement, particularly on Hallowe'en. If your child and mine has always had a high regard for others' property he will profit by a calm request that he be careful to do no damage. In case he has not learned so to respect the rights of others, better not let him go out at all, if you have spine and skill enough to keep him in.

Hallowe'en is the time a great many of us wish that more children had learned in babyhood some inhibitions and restraints. The average parent fails to train the child in appropriate regard for private and public property. We ought to realize that the difference is only

Motorcycle officers Ralph Crisswell and Charles Augustine accompanied the caravan of automobiles. The 19 mile trip proved to be most interesting and educative as well, for some of the girls had never seen a number of the public institutions of the city.

Success of the event was largely due to the planning and work of Miss Eva Coulter, chief faculty advisor to the Franklin Girl Reserve club. Miss Dorothy Baldwin, a member of the club and of the cadet, all the guides and automobile donors also helped to make it the success it was.

The numbering of the automobiles was in the capable hands of Misses Wilma Kriol and Anna Mae Alexander.

Mrs. W. J. Caldwell, chairman of the Girl Reserve committee, helped greatly in securing the use of the many automobiles.

Craft Work At Institution Will Be Interesting Feature Of Activity

The latest in Y. M. C. A. boys' activity and craft club work, model airplane design and construction, will be inaugurated at the local "Y" on Armistice Day, it was announced today by W. A. Thomas, Boys' Work Director.

The new venture will hold interest to scores of boys who participate in club work. For some time there has been an increasing demand for craft club work in institutions throughout the country. The most modern of these is airplane building and construction work.

The local "Y" is now planning to take out a charter in the Airplane Model League of America. The new venture here will begin at 7 p. m. on November 11.

The purpose of the Airplane Model League of America is to interest and educate the youth of America in the science of aviation. This is being accomplished by directing their attention to the study of aerodynamics, supplemented by a course in the building and flying of scientific model airplanes. Gets High Honor

MARY ALICE NEGLEY

Probably the highest academic honor which Thiel College has ever received was announced by the Carnegie Foundation for the Advancement of Teaching at a meeting of representatives of Pennsylvania College at Harrisburg in October. At this meeting Thiel learned that Miss Mary Alice Negley had won the highest score in the state in the English examination given last May. At this time thirty-two colleges in Pennsylvania entered their students in a series of comprehensive examinations which took a week to give. The results have just been compiled and are being divulged by the Foundation. The aim of the tests was to discover the amount of knowledge actually in possession of a college trained mind; to ascertain the natural ability of the student; to provide material upon which to base a system of vocational guidance whereby the student may derive the most benefit from his college training.

Miss Negley is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Negley, 407 New Castle Street, Butler, Pa. She is a graduate of the Butler High School in the class of 1926. At present she is a student at Columbia University where she is in pursuit of a Master's Degree in English.

Paying Well Is Drilled In On John Baird Farm By Bessemer Operator

Oil in paying quantities has been struck on the John P. Baird farm, a short distance south of Hillsville, by William Hedegrove, Bessemer oil operator.

Both gas and oil were found in the first well shot several days ago and Mr. Hedegrove is now putting down a second well which is expected to be drilled in shortly.

Gas and oil have been produced in Beaver township in paying quantities for a number of years, although no large producers have been found. The wells generally average from a barrel to two or three barrels, but are consistent producers.

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

Saw something rather new for the ball room of the Castleton last night when the ladies of the V. F. W. Auxiliary held their initiation of officers. The men of Post Harry L. McBride did also, but the color of the Auxiliary wasn't nearly so pronounced in the post initiation. You know how it is.

Not that it wasn't interesting. It was. But the ladies had a formal program of initiation worked out, all of them were garbed in white, and customers you should see those ladies break off a snappy salute. Wuff. Just like that.

The party was in charge of Commander Jimmy Bell whose term of office expired in the Vets, but who is now a district commander. Which is just like throwing one job out the window to take on five more. It was a real party, and they finished the thing up over at the Legion Home, with chow.

In the passing of old Uncle Davy Needler of Edenburg, the county has lost a picturesque figure. To me he typified the Civil War, for he had stood in the Bloody Angle, he had battled his way through the Rebel lines on many a Southern field, and when I thought of the Civil War of Lincoln, of Meade, or of Pickett, somehow, old Uncle Davy was a part of the picture.

Now he's gone, and the thin red line of heroes dwindles one more. A remarkable old man, a year round optimist, a well of historical lore, and a friend.

Young People Rally In First Methodist

Epworth Leaguers Of District Have Rousing Rally Monday Evening In Church

Young Methodists to the number of 560 turned out Monday evening and filled the auditorium of the First Methodist church when they held their fall rally of the New Castle district. The church was divided into sections representing the various churches and each group had a banner with the name of their church on.

The churches represented were Euclid, the Savannah, Wampum, Mahoning, Epworth, First Methodist, Croton church, the Italian Methodist, Wesley and Volant and such an enthusiastic group of young folks it would be hard to find.

Dr. W. A. Womer, president of the Epworth League, opened the service with a rousing song service that just seemed to stir up every bit of enthusiasm there was in the audience. The orchestra of thirty five pieces played so harmoniously that it seemed as if one great instrument was pouring forth the marches and special airs that started the feet tapping to their rhythm.

Excellent Program
A large chorus of nearly 100 voices filled the choir and their singing added to the pep of the meeting. Several orchestra numbers, chorus numbers and congregational singing filled in the musical program.

The Epworth League of the Epworth Methodist church had charge of the entertainment and a group of the young folks, with the assistance of Dr. Womer and Dr. S. L. Maxwell, presented a little playlet, "What the League Emblem Means." This was cleverly carried out by those taking part.

At the conclusion of the playlet Dr. Womer took the opportunity to thank all those who had taken part in making the evening so successful, the ones who arranged the various parts of the program were W. C. Ayers, who was responsible for the decorations, Milford and Harold Wright, who made preliminary arrangements in general; Ruth Buchanan, who planned the games, Mary Nunn, who arranged for the refreshments and Helen Emery, the secretary and treasurer.

Prudence Sankey and Leona Sankey, sisters, members of the Epworth group did a bit of clever entertaining, when dressed as colored women, they presented a little skit, "A Wash Out on the Line." There was clever acting in this, with the girls bringing in some really humorous jokes about the various members of the churches, which created much merriment and laughter among the audience.

Groups Entertained

The large crowd of young people was divided into groups of about 25 to 30 and each group entered a part of the building for play periods, at the sound of the whistle the groups changed, going to another room, where another play leader had a different stunt arranged for their entertainment. Some novel forms of amusement were introduced by the different leaders.

At the conclusion of the play period, at the sound of the whistle, the groups reassembled in the auditorium and getting in line, were served light refreshments by the committee.

The three deaconesses of the church were here, there and everywhere, seeing that everything was moving along smoothly and in perfect order. These three are Miss Eve Nicklin of the Croton church, who also asked the invocation at the opening of the meeting, Miss Beulah Magruder of the First Methodist church and Miss Schnacke of the Italian Methodist church.

Newspaper Ads Are Upheld By Industrial Man

Effectiveness Of Newspaper
Advertising Is Upheld

MANY MILLIONS

(International News Service)
PONCA CITY, Okla., Nov. 4.—
Striking testimony to the effectiveness of well directed advertising in American newspapers was given by an American industrial leader here today.

D. J. Moran, president of the Continental Oil company, announced that the management has just approved an advertising budget for 1931 running into seven figures.

The appropriation, which will be largely spent in newspapers, equals the largest previous advertising budget in the company's 56-year history —that of 1929 when the company used space in more than 1200 newspapers, in addition to farm papers, magazines and national radio network advertising. This year, 1934, newspapers will carry Continental advertising.

Vitality Necessary.
"The management of the Continental Oil company believes that advertising is a vital necessity third arm of business, designed for use continuously, in good times and bad," said Moran.

"We believe that during 1931, people will be born and die, work and play, marry and make homes, eat, sleep, ride in their motor cars—in fact, do all of the things that people normally do in the United States.

If they do, they will need certain products and commodities. As far as we are concerned, the Continental Oil company expects to tell them of the merits of its products through advertising, and thereby create the desire to use our products. The executives of this company know that our advertising will accomplish this result, and that is why advertising is with us an indispensable business function instead of a gambling game to be indulged in when times are good, and abandoned when they are not so good."

Griddler Almost Drowns In Game

(International News Service)
PORT ARTHUR, Ont., Nov. 4.—
Percy Lalonde may take his rubber wings along next time he plays football. He almost drowned the last game he played.

Percy mixed it with the other boys in scrimmages and when they got up he lay unconscious on the ground. He was face down in a pool of water on the field.
Respiration methods such as are used on overcome swimmers were employed, and Lalonde finished the game.

NEW SCHEMES FOR BRIDGING CHANNEL

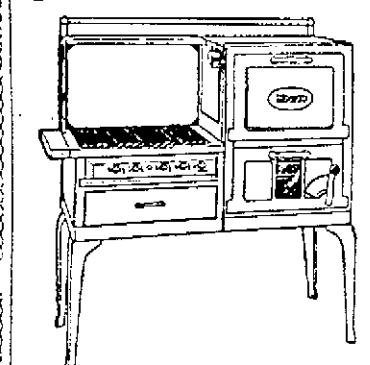

(International News Service)
PARIS, Nov. 4.—Inasmuch as the British government seems none too ready to authorize the construction of the channel tunnel the French are beginning to think up other schemes to shorten the crossing to the other side. A plan of a well-known engineer, Philippe Bunau-Varilla, is called the "mixed passage" and proposes that the British and French railways leading to the Straits of Dover be prolonged into the sea for a mile or so by means of viaducts rising about 70 feet above high tide. A tunnel would be drilled only under the central portion of the Straits and trains would be lowered into it or raised up from it at either end in watertight elevators or inclined planes.

ITCHING ENDS WHEN ZEMO TOUCHES SKIN

—thousands say. It's wonderful the way soothing, cooling Zemo brings relief to skin which itches and burns.
Even in most severe cases, itching disappears almost as soon as Zemo touches the tender and inflamed surface. To draw out local infection and help to clear away unsightly blemishes, we know of nothing better than invisible Zemo. Always keep this family antiseptic on hand. Use it freely. It's safe as can be. 35c, 60c

In High School Play This Week

PEGGY GRIFFITHS

Peggy Griffiths is to be Agatha Siscomb in "The Nut Farm" at the senior high school this week. She is the heroine of this burlesque on life in Hollywood. Moving serenely through the group of her friends who are suffering from a cinema complex, she lends a helping hand at a crisis to the only one whose ability matches his ambitions. Miss Griffiths has hitherto delighted the high school audiences with comedy roles, having appeared in several sketches before the assembly. This is her first venture with a serious part. She won it in the face of the keen competition that secures from the dramatics classes their excellent

Newspaperman's Story Told In "One Man's Gold"

Chronicle Of The Days Of '49 Revealed As History Of Washington Publisher

Pennsylvania has furnished the material and the setting for many books of history, biography and fiction and now it gives a son to that hectic period of almost 100 years ago when gold was discovered in California and there was a general exodus of young men from the East who sought wealth and adventure in the far West, little explored and less known. From the presses of Whittlesey House, McGraw-Hill Book Co., Inc., New York, comes a publication, "One Man's Gold—The Letters and Journal of a Forty-nine-year-old Christianman" compiled and edited by Florence Morrow Christ-man, secretary of the Department of Speech and Dramatics at Hunter College of the City of New York, a granddaughter of Enos Christianman.

The book is of 278 pages and is well illustrated.
Three-quarters of a century from the time when they were placed there by the hands of Major Enos Christianman, the contents of a small tin box which has reposed in his old home in Washington, Pa., were investigated and found to contain the material which has been put into book form by his granddaughter.
Here is the story of that great army of fortune seekers each of whom left home and a quiet life to plunge into the vortex of one of the world's maddest rushes for riches.
Thousands took the Oregon Trail into the West while others, like Enos Christianman, took the sea route.
It is styled the personal chronicle of the doings of Enos Christian-man yet it stands as the biography of almost every man who joined in the campaign of '49. The story of Enos is the story of the great majority of gold seekers. He never rose to more than indifferent success as a prospector, nor did many who joined him in that adventure.
Judged for its historical value "One Man's Gold" contributes a valuable and intimate chapter to the writings of that event and that period.
From a literary standpoint it contributes much in the way of clean, clear and wholesome thinking, a style of writing characteristic of the period, yet couched in the wordings of an able writer and a Christian gentleman of keen perception, analytical mind, open convictions and a faculty of seeing all and being able to reduce the events to words.

Upon his return from California and his marriage to Ellen Apple the girl who had waited for him, Enos Christianman moved to Washington, Pa., where he established The Commonwealth, a Whig newspaper and later merged it with The Washington, Pennsylvania Reporter, with which publication a Christianman has been identified through all the interesting years.

His granddaughter has handed his story as she would have handled that of any other man, as any author would have handled a similar subject.

RUMANIA NOW HAS STAGE CENSORSHIP
(International News Service)
BUCHAREST, Nov. 4.—A strict stage censorship has been introduced in Rumania at the opening of the new season.

All new plays must be presented by the theatre managers at least five days before the scheduled first performance before a committee consisting of representatives of the ministry of education, the police and the Rumanian dramatic authors' society.

Not only the text of the plays must pass censure, but also settings, costumes and decorations fall under this rule.

Or A Calliope
"Quick, doctor, do something! I was playing a mouth organ and swallowed it!"
"Keep calm, sir, and be thankful you were not playing the piano."

Mr. Morrow says no party makes poorly. And yet some people think he is something for the Presidential nomination.

Effectiveness of Newspaper
Advertising Is Upheld

MANY MILLIONS

(International News Service)
PONCA CITY, Okla., Nov. 4.—Striking testimony to the effectiveness of well directed advertising in American newspapers was given by another American industrial leader here today.

D. J. Moran, president of the Continental Oil company, announced that the management has just approved an advertising budget for 1931 running into seven figures.

The appropriation, which will be largely spent in newspapers, equals the largest previous advertising budget in the company's 56-year history—that of 1930 when the company used space in more than 1200 newspapers, in addition to farm papers, magazines and national radio network advertising. This year, 1934, newspapers will carry Continental advertising.

Vitality Necessary.
"The management of the Continental Oil company believes that advertising is a vital necessity third arm of business, designed for use continuously, in good times and bad," said Moran.

"We believe that during 1931, people will be born and die, work and play, marry and make homes, eat, sleep, ride in their motor cars—in fact, do all of the things that people normally do in the United States. If they do, they will need certain products and commodities. As far as we are concerned, the Continental Oil company expects to tell them of the merits of its products through advertising, and thereby create the desire to use our products. The executives of this company know that our advertising will accomplish this result, and that is why advertising is with us an indispensable business function instead of a gambling game to be indulged in when times are good, and abandoned when they are not so good."

North Street Work Completes City's Program For 1930

Largest Projects Of Year Were City-State Repaving
Contracts

As soon as North street has been repaved, all construction work by the city will have ended for 1930, according to City Engineer F. F. Miller who presented a list of jobs put through this year.

The biggest project was the state and city effort which resulted in repaving of Croton avenue, Grant street, and Butler avenue. Sewers were installed and Miller believes the cost in all will total about $110,000.

Of this sum the state allotted $75,000, derived from the state gasoline tax, to the city. New Castle paid for the intersections and also for the new sewers, the old ones in Butler avenue having been found faulty.

Furnace street was paved from the east right of way of the B. & P. to Moravia street by M. A. Mulcahy at a cost of $12,985.41. Winter avenue sanitary sewer was built by Smith & McQuiston at the cost of the Day Realty company. It courses west of Wilmington avenue.

Morris street sanitary sewer was built by Burns & Terry at a cost of $509.50. It runs between Balph avenue and Charles street.

North street between East and Neshannock was widened and is being repaved.

P. H. B. & N. C. rails and ties in Butler avenue were removed by a contractor and given him as payment.

M. A. Mulcahy removed the rails and ties in Stanton avenue and Cascade street at a cost of $300. to the city. He was given the material as part payment.

The city was severely handicapped for lack of funds, according to Engineer Miller.

Municipal authorities should be in good shape next year as the city has $70,000. in general revenues, secured from the sale of the city conduit system.

This money, according to councilmen, is to be spent next year for improvements of a permanent nature.

Fox was working under the floor of the drilling house, trying to attach a casing to carry off gas from the well. It is believed that the tapping of his hammer loosened the chain which held the tools suspended over him, and they crashed before he had warning.

When the father was able to hoist the tools to position and reach his son, the youth was dead.

conflict, the other making his debut as a candidate for public office—will make political history, since a victory for either will shatter forty years of precedents in this state. It has been just that long since Pennsylvania either re-elected a former governor or chose a Democrat for that high office.

The outcome was in doubt, though both candidates and their official spokesmen shattered the wilkins with the usual inflated predictions. Pinchot claimed his election was a certainty by several hundred thousand while Hemphill revealed a belief that he too would be elected by a large majority. There seemed to be no last minute development, however, which would change earlier indications of an extremely close race.

Pinchot at his home in Millford, Pike County, to cast his vote before motoring leisurely to Philadelphia to get the returns at his headquarters here. Hemphill stayed at his West Chester home to vote and hear the returns at the local armory.

Both men had a final word for the voters. Pinchot declared anew that his fight had been won and that W. W. Atterbury, bolting Republican national committeeman, and the "Philadelphia gang" were beaten. He said the taxpayers, the fare-payers and the rate-payers, would get a square deal during his administration and that his anticipated election would be a "victory for the plain people."

Hemphill, who spent Monday touring the anthracite districts in Schuylkill county, declared he had found the voters ready to "get rid of Pinchotism, Grundyism and Prohibition." He chuckled at a friend spoke of the "G. O. P.", initiated symbol of the Republican party, as "Grundy Owns Pinchot." The nominee said he was convinced the "people of Pennsylvania are fully awake in this election" and that he awaited the returns "with great confidence of victory than I have felt at any time during the campaign."

The third candidate in this extraordinary race, James H. Maurer, nominee of the Socialist party, spent the day at his office as a city commissioner in Reading. He had hopes of victory but renewed his prediction that Hemphill would win.

Many Bolters.

The outcome of the Pinchot Hemphill contest was in doubt chiefly because of the bolting within the ranks of both parties. Hundreds of thousands of Republicans will scratch Pinchot and vote for Hemphill on the liberal ticket. Hundreds of thousands of Democrats may likewise scratch Hemphill to cast their ballots for Pinchot. No prognosticator can tell exactly how many will bolt, so predictions are but guesses. Every compilation of neutral observations has placed the total vote of the two candidates within a few thousand of each other. Thus indicating how close the outcome should be.

Thus far, the campaign has been full of slush fund charges—a distinct innovation in recent Pennsylvania politics. Leaders of all four organizations, the regular Republicans, the Pinchot Republican group, the regular Democrats and the Liberal party, have complained of a lack of campaign funds. The Pinchot organization apparently benefited but little from the support of Joseph R. Grundy, noted lobbyist, former senator and described once by Boise Penrose as the "greatest money-raiser in the world." On the other hand, the Liberal Democrats apparently failed to obtain the large contributions they expected from public utilities and business men, who oppose Pinchot.

There were numerous confusing factors on which the victory of either candidate depended. The asserted shortage of campaign funds may hurt Hemphill, since the Pinchot groups are better organized. On the other hand, many Republican leaders have given so-called "lip service"

Election in Doubt.

Other elements, placing the election in doubt, include low registration in cities friendly to Pinchot, the conflict of opinion over his strength in rural communities which are normally Democratic, the extent of bolting in both parties, and the decided disagreement over the size of Hemphill's anticipated majority in Philadelphia.

As for registration, some 3,522,810 men and women were eligible to vote today. This included more than a million farmers and their wives, who are automatically registered and so do not need to indicate a desire to vote by registering on a special day as urban dwellers must do. Few experts anticipate a vote much in excess of 2,000,000 while many have predicted it will be much less.

The campaign wound up in rather a blaze of political sharpshooting. The Liberal party published advertisements declaring "the eyes of the nation are on Pennsylvania" and declaring a "Pinchot victory would mean continued prosperity for the bootlegger, continued graft, crime, corruption, hypocrisy—resulting from the present prohibition law." These advertisements charged Pinchot with being an "enemy of the Republican party" and a "menace to business and employment."

The Pinchot organization published advertisements in Philadelphia, warning against election frauds and pointing out the large number of election officials given prison sentences for frauds in the past. The Pinchot committee declared "renewed prosecutions will be brought against all persons found to have violated the election laws or who conspired to violate such laws" and pointed out that ward leaders had failed to save the election workers previously convicted of fraud.

There were other outbursts from opposing leaders all over the state. In Pittsburgh, ballots were found missing in two election divisions. In Norristown there was a flap-up between Pinchot leaders and the regular Republican organization. There T. Duncan Just, Pinchot leader of Montgomery county, announced that he knew "very little had been done" for Pinchot by Charles Johnson, the regular Republican leader. Just demanded that Johnson's organization produce a 20,000 plurality for Pinchot or there would be trouble later. This row may produce the Pinchot plurality or it may turn the county into Hemphill's column.

In Philadelphia, there were several last minute explosions. First, Mayor Harry A. Mackey ordered all city employees, some 14,000 in all, to report for work as usual today, in order to keep them out of the election, even though the day is a legal holiday. Then, Judge Harry S. McDewitt, who has put a number of dishonest election officials in jail, upbraided the mayor for urging the election board to hurry their returns and for threatening to use city police in checking the boards. The judge termed this "intimidation" and told the boards to take their time.

A little of the civic enmity between Philadelphia and Pittsburgh probably accounted for another row between Senator Samuel W. Salus and the mayor. The senator charged that the mayor's order to local boards to hasten their returns was intended to "give Allegheny county a chance to steal the election for Clifford Pinchot." The mayor reported that the senator was "guilty of palpable fabrication."

There, the campaign rested with the verdict in the hands of the voters.

(International News Service)

"Normal to heavy" balloting was reported throughout the commonwealth today as Pennsylvanians trooped to the polls to decide the issue in the most heated gubernatorial contest in decades.

Crisp, cool weather prevailed in practically all sections. In Philadelphia and the densely populated eastern portion of the state in general a threat of rain was noted. The threat was fulfilled just before ten o'clock when a slight downfall was transformed into a persistent drizzle.

The Central Pennsylvania region, from the anthracite belt to the eastern fringe of the Alleghenies, also reported overcast skies, presaging possible rainstorms later today. Materialization of rough weather would mean a corresponding decrease in the balloting.

In Western Pennsylvania, from the Alleghenies west to the Ohio border and from Lake Erie south to the West Virginia line, clear cool weather prevailed.

Pittsburgh one of the "key" points in this bitterly contested campaign just closed, reported "normal to heavy" balloting. Pittsburgh (Allegheny county) has been conceded as a "key" point that Pinchot must carry by a large majority to offset the expected Democratic landslide in Philadelphia county.

Erie, another "key" county, likewise reported "Republican weather"—clear and cold—and a heavy balloting that seemed certain to bring out the heavy registration before nightfall.

In Westmoreland county, Greensburg also reported heavy voting. Early voting in Harrisburg was reported as "slightly heavier than normal" but the great rush of electors to the polls was not looked for until later in the day.

Normal balloting was also reported from Cumberland county, across the river from the State Capital, where the result is considered an important, normal to slightly heavy voting was reported from scattered sections. Pottsville reported considerable activity at the polls. Throughout the greater part of the anthracite belt heavy balloting was looked for later in the day.

Balloting was especially brisk in the densely populated mill districts of Philadelphia during the early morning hours as factory workers attempted to cast their votes before starting the day's tasks. The balloting was mostly for Hemphill. Later in forenoon, however, as more women gathered in the lines before the polling booths much more Pinchot sentiment was heard.

In nearby Delaware and Montgomery counties, especially in the cities of Chester and Norristown, balloting also was reported brisk. The voting in the rural districts of Bucks, Berks, Chester, Montgomery and Delaware counties, however, was not so rushed. The number of citizens wishing to cast their votes speeded up towards noon.

Much "cutting" was noted in the early balloting in Allentown and sections of Lehigh county. The scratching of ballots appeared equally divided among the Democrats and Republicans and pertained chiefly to the gubernatorial race. Bethlehem and Easton and Northampton also reported much "scratching" of the two major tickets by "regular" Republicans and Democrats.

In Monroe county, the voting was also heavy in the early hours in Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg.

The Pinchot organization published advertisements in Philadelphia, warning against election frauds and pointing out the large number of election officials given prison sentences for frauds in the past. The Pinchot committee declared "rebellious prosecutions will be brought against all persons found to have violated the election laws or conspired to violate such laws" and pointed out that ward leaders had failed to save the election workers previously convicted of fraud.

There were other outbursts from opposing leaders all over the state. In Pittsburgh, ballots were found missing in two election divisions. In Norristown there was a flap-up between Pinchot leaders and the regular Republican organization. There T. Duncan Just, Pinchot leader of Montgomery county, announced that he knew "very little had been done" for Pinchot by Charles Johnson, the regular Republican leader. Just demanded that Johnson's organization produce a 20,000 plurality for Pinchot or there would be trouble later. This row may produce the Pinchot plurality or it may turn the county into Hemphill's column.

In Philadelphia, there were several last minute explosions. First, Mayor Harry A. Mackey ordered all city employees, some 14,000 in all, to report for work as usual today, in order to keep them out of the election, even though the day is a legal holiday. Then, Judge Harry S. McDevitt, who has put a number of dishonest election officials in jail upbraided the mayor for urging the election board to hurry their returns and for threatening to use city police in checking the boards. The judge termed this "intimidation" and told the boards to take their time.

A little of the civic enmity between Philadelphia and Pittsburgh probably accounted for another row between Senator Samuel W. Solus and the mayor. The senator charged that the mayor's order to local boards to hasten their returns was intended to "give Allegheny county a chance to steal the election for Gifford Pinchot." The mayor retorted that the senator was "guilty of palpable fabrication."

There, the campaign rested with the verdict in the hands of the voters.

(International News Service)

"Normal to heavy" balloting was reported throughout the commonwealth today as Pennsylvanians trooped to the polls to decide the issue in the most heated gubernatorial contest in decades.

Crisp, cool weather prevailed in practically all sections. In Philadelphia and the densely populated eastern portion of the state in general a threat of rain was noted. The threat was fulfilled just before ten o'clock when a slight downfall was transformed into a persistent drizzle.

The Central Pennsylvania region, from the anthracite belt to the eastern fringe of the Alleghenies, also reported overcast skies, presaging possible rainstorms later today. Materialization of rough weather would mean a corresponding decrease in the balloting.

In Western Pennsylvania, from the Alleghenies west to the Ohio border and from Lake Erie south to the West Virginia line, clear cool weather prevailed.

Pittsburgh, one of the "key" points in this bitterly contested campaign just closed, reported "normal to heavy" balloting. Pittsburgh (Allegheny county) has been conceded as a "key" point that Pinchot must carry by a large majority to offset the expected Democratic landslide in Philadelphia county.

Erie, another "key" county, likewise reported "Republican weather"—clear and cold—and a heavy balloting that seemed certain to bring out the heavy registration before nightfall.

In Westmoreland county, Greensburg also reported heavy voting. Early voting in Harrisburg was reported as "slightly heavier than normal" but the great rush of electors to the polls was not looked for until later in the day.

Normal balloting was also reported from Cumberland county, across the river from the State Capital.

Up in the anthracite regions, where the result is considered important, normal to slightly heavy voting was reported from scattered sections. Pottsville reported considerable activity at the polls. Throughout the greater part of the anthracite belt heavy balloting was looked for later in the day.

Balloting was especially brisk in the densely populated mill districts of Philadelphia during the early morning hours as factory workers attempted to cast their votes before starting the day's tasks. The balloting was mostly for Hemphill. Later in forenoon, however, as more women gathered in the lines before the polling booths much more Pinchot sentiment was heard.

In nearby Delaware and Montgomery counties, especially in the cities of Chester and Norristown, balloting also was reported brisk. The voting in the rural districts of Bucks, Berks, Chester, Montgomery and Delaware counties, however, was not so rushed. The number of citizens wishing to cast their votes speeded up towards noon.

Much "cutting" was noted in the early balloting in Allentown and sections of Lehigh county. The scratching of ballots appeared equally divided among the Democrats and Republicans and pertained chiefly to the gubernatorial race. Bethlehem and Easton and Northampton also reported much "scratching" of the two major tickets by "regular" Republicans and Democrats.

In Monroe county, the voting was also heavy in the early hours in Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg.

Delaware Voters Test Prohibition

Delaware Voters For First Time
Vote On Prohibition Issue At Polls

(International News Service)

WILMINGTON, Del., Nov. 4.—Delaware voters for the first time since the advent of prohibition registered their opinions about the law at the polls today. The issue was clear-cut. Daniel O. Hastings, Republican, of this city, is seeking to return to the U. S. Senate as a dry, and former U. S. Senator Thomas P. Bayard, Democrat-Liberal, also of Wilmington, is running as an out-and-out wet. He advocates repeal of the Volstead act and the whole liquor question returned to the states. An unexpired and a full term in the Senate are at stake.

Many Complications
There are many complications in the political fight in this, the second smallest state of the Union, that make predictions difficult.

There are Hastings-Democrats and Bayard-Republicans and the sudden formation of the Liberal party with its sole object of backing "Tom" Bayard, wet Democrat, and Colonel Le Peve, wet congressional nominee, which further complicates the contest.

Claims of victory were heard from both sides. The Republicans contended their senatorial candidate would win by a majority of 5,000 to 10,000. The Democrats asserted Bayard would win by 3,000 to 5,000 votes, pointing to the stiff race he can two years ago when he lost out in the Hoover landslide.

"Al" Smith lost the state by 20,000 votes, while Bayard was tossed out by only 6,000.

Crippled Newsman's Chair Delayed In Strange Manner

Hope That It Will Be Located
Some Time Today At
Local Freight Office

Wheel chair ordered for Clarence Ferec, crippled seller of newspapers and magazines, is said to be somewhere in the Pennsylvania freight house of the Pennsylvania R. R. but to date has not been located.

The local business house through whom it was ordered received nolice from the local freight house yesterday that the chair was here and sent for it, but for some reason it could not be located yesterday or yet this morning, although it is somewhere in the hands of the local representatives of the railroad. It was hoped that it might be located this afternoon.

The fact that it will soon be in possession of Clarence is pleasing news to him and his many friends, who donated to the fund to get it for him, especially as the old chair that he has been using collapsed yesterday and is now beyond repair. He was compelled to use an old invalid chair yesterday, which did not pinch but which is not suited to his needs.

It is the hope of those in charge to have Clarence operating his brand new chair, the best that money can obtain, by tomorrow.

Hoover Proclaims Armistice Day And Urges Observance

Annual Armistice Day Proclamation Is Issued Today

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 4.—President Hoover today issued the annual Armistice Day proclamation, ordering the American flag displayed on all government buildings and inviting the people generally to observe the day, November 11, with appropriate ceremony.

"It is fitting that the anniversary of this day should be commemorated by exercises which shall do honor to all those who served our country and especially to the memory of those who died in its service, believing that their sacrifice was in the cause of peace which we thereby are solemnly bound to do all in our power to advance and secure," the proclamation said in part.

Delaware Voters Test Prohibition

Delaware Voters For First Time
Vote On Prohibition Issue At Polls

(International News Service)
WILMINGTON, Del., Nov. 4.—Delaware voters for the first time since the advent of prohibition registered their opinions about the law at the polls today. The issue was clear-cut. Daniel O. Hastings, Republican, of this city, is seeking to return to the U. S. Senate as a dry, and former U. S. Senator Thomas F. Bayard, Democrat-Liberal, also of Wilmington, is running as an out-and-out wet. He advocates repeal of the Volstead act and the whole liquor question returned to the states. An unexpired and a full term in the Senate are at stake.

Many Complications
There are many complications in the political fight in this, the second smallest state of the Union, that make predictions difficult. There are Hastings-Democrats and Bayard-Republicans and the sudden formation of the Liberal party with its sole object of backing "Tom" Bayard, wet Democrat, and Colonel Le Fevre, wet congressional nominee, which further complicates the contest. Claims of victory were heard from both sides. The Republicans contended their senatorial candidate would win by a majority of 5,000 to 10,000. The Democrats asserted Bayard would win by 3,000 to 5,000 votes, pointing to the stiff race he ran two years ago when he lost out in the Hoover landslide.

"Al" Smith lost the state by 20,000 votes, while Bayard was nosed out by only 6,000.

Crippled Newsman's Chair Delayed In Strange Manner

Hope That It Will Be Located
Some Time Today At
Local Freight Office

Wheel chair ordered for Clarence Perce, crippled seller of newspapers and magazines, is said to be somewhere in the Pennsylvania freight house of the Pennsylvania R. R. but to date has not been located.
The local business house through whom it was ordered received notice from the local freight house yesterday that the chair was here and sent for it, but for some reason it could not be located yesterday or yet this morning, although it is somewhere in the hands of the local representatives of the railroad. It was hoped that it might be located this afternoon.

The fact that it will soon be in possession of Clarence is pleasing news to him and his many friends who donated to the fund to get it for him, especially as the old chair that he has been using collapsed yesterday and is now beyond repair. He was compelled to use an old invalid chair yesterday, which did in the punch but which is not suited to his needs.

It is the hope of those in charge to have Clarence operating his brand new chair, the best that money can obtain, by tomorrow.

Jordan To Open Red Cross Drive

Plans For Annual Roll Call Will Be Made At Meeting Here Wednesday Evening

CAMPAIGN STARTS ARMISTICE DAY

Plans for the 14th annual Red Cross roll call will be gotten under way on Wednesday evening at a meeting of all county workers to be held in the Y. W. C. A. Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock, when Hon. Charles G. Jordan, state secretary of agriculture, will be present to address the workers.

There has been a fine response to the call for workers throughout the county and in the neighborhood of 75 district chairmen and workers from various sections of the county are expected out at the meeting on Wednesday evening.

Never in the history of the American Red Cross is the need for funds as urgent as at the present time. Continued disasters have depleted the treasury of the national organization, while the various local chapters throughout the country have been hard pressed for funds to take care of the ever growing need for relief among disabled veterans.

Last year was a particularly hard one, and the coming year is expected to prove even more critical.

In addition to those from the rural districts, who have supported the Red Cross in its roll calls for the past several years, residents of New Castle will be given an opportunity to subscribe by renewing the memberships they held in former years.

All persons interested in the welfare of the Lawrence county chapter, American Red Cross, are invited to attend Wednesday evening's meeting when final plans for the coming roll call will be discussed and supplies given out.

Praise is to be limited. Fault is to think you have none. Mistake is never to be able to admit one.

In the coming senior high school comedy "The Nut Farm" Jno. Whalen will appear as Ezra Sliscomb, a farmer who is shrewder than no looks. He is the kind of farmer that must have chin-whiskers. We prophesy that when John is on the stage he will be the center of attention even if an iron-gray wig covers his own radiant crest. He has been cast for a humorous, vigorous role.

WORKERS SAY THAT MID-AFTERNOON IS THEIR ZERO HOUR

Many Have Discovered That Food With Sugar Content Renews Vigor

Rare indeed is the business that does not call for more speed from mid-afternoon on. Stenographers, clerks and salespeople will testify to this. Yet vitality is invariably low at this important period.

Scientific tests have proved that eating something between three and four o'clock will refresh the system almost as much as complete rest. The best food to eat is one rich in refined sugar such as candy, cookies, ice cream or a sweet beverage. The refined sugar not only supplies quick nourishment but is easily digested.

In overcoming fatigue by this method, the system is able to resist those common colds which are often "caught" on the way home. What's more, a refreshed body is much more efficient during the busy afternoon hours than one that is "tired out."

With no loss of time and practically no expense, sweet foods can be bought for a mid-afternoon snack. Sugar dissolved in a glass of water will "pick one up." This drink is known as the "athlete's cocktail." Most foods are more delicious and nourishing with refined sugar. The Sugar Institute.

28th Division Plans Reunion

National Guardsmen Who Participated In World War To Gather Next Summer

Arrangements are being completed for a reunion on the state military reservation at Mt. Gretna, of men who served with the 28th Division, Pennsylvania National Guard, in France during the World War.

The reunion is being sponsored by the Society of the Twenty-Eighth Division, A. E. P., with the aid of Adjutant General Frank D. Beary. According to present plans, the gathering will be held during the week in August which immediately follows the conclusion of the annual tour of field duty of active units of the National Guard.

Except for the cost of transportation to and from Mt. Gretna and the government charge for rations, the expense to those who attend will be small in view of the fact that General Beary has agreed to permit the use of tentage owned by the state for the quartering of the veterans.

Separate areas of the reservation for each of the various units will permit all those who served in the same companies and regiments to be quartered together.

Approximately 100 men from New Castle, former members of Troop P, were members of the 28th Division during the war, and will be included in the reunion plans.

PERSONAL The average price of goods sold at A&P stores last month was just over ten cents a pound. In the same month a year ago the average price was more than eleven cents a pound. The reason for this is that A&P gives its customers all the benefit of the lower commodity prices this year.

Jordan To Open Red Cross Drive

CAMPAIGN STARTS ARMISTICE DAY

Plans for the 14th annual Red Cross roll call will be gotten under way on Wednesday evening at a meeting of all county workers to be held in the Y. W. C. A. Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock, when Hon. Charles G. Jordan, state secretary of agriculture, will be present to address the workers.

There has been a fine response to the call for workers throughout the county, and in the neighborhood of 75 district chairmen and workers from various sections of the county are expected out at the meeting on Wednesday evening.

Never in the history of the American Red Cross is the need for funds as urgent as at the present time. Continued disasters have depleted the treasury of the national organization, while the various local chapters throughout the country have been hard pressed for funds to take care of the ever growing need for relief among disabled veterans.

Last year was a particularly hard one, and the coming year is expected to prove even more critical.

In addition to those from the rural districts, who have supported the Red Cross in its roll calls for the past several years, residents of New Castle will be given an opportunity to subscribe by renewing the memberships they held in former years.

All persons interested in the welfare of the Lawrence county chapter, American Red Cross, are invited to attend Wednesday evening's meeting when final plans for the coming roll call will be discussed and supplies given out.

THE GREATEST
Praise is to be initiated. Fault is to think you have none. Mistake is never to be able to admit one.

Shrewd Farmer In School Play

JOHN WHALEN

In the coming senior high school comedy "The Nut Farm" Jno. Whalen will appear as Ezra Sliscomb, a farmer who is shrewder than he looks. He is the kind of farmer that must have chin-whiskers. We prophesy that when John is on the stage he will be the center of attention even if an iron-gray wig covers his own radiant crest. He has been cast for a humorous, vigorous role.

WORKERS SAY THAT MID-AFTERNOON IS THEIR ZERO HOUR

Many Have Discovered That Food With Sugar Content Renews Vigor

Rare indeed is the business that does not call for more speed from mid-afternoon on. Stenographers, clerks and salespeople will testify to this. Yet vitality is invariably low at this important period.

Scientific tests have proved that eating something between three and four o'clock will refresh the system almost as much as complete rest. The best food to eat is one rich in refined sugar such as candy, cookies, ice cream or a sweet beverage. The refined sugar not only supplies quick nourishment but is easily digested.

In overcoming fatigue by this method, the system is able to resist those common colds which are often "caught" on the way home. What's more, a refreshed body is much more efficient during the busy afternoon hours than one that is "tired out."

With no loss of time and practically no expense, sweet foods can be bought for a mid-afternoon snack. Sugar dissolved in a glass of water will "pick one up." This drink is known as the "athletic cocktail." Most foods are more delicious and nourishing with refined sugar. The Sugar Institute.

28th Division Plans Reunion

National Guardsmen Who Participated In World War To Gather Next Summer

Arrangements are being completed for a reunion on the military reservation at Mt. Gretna, of men who served with the 28th Division, Pennsylvania National Guard, in France during the World War.

The reunion is being sponsored by the Society of the Twenty-Eighth Division, A. E. F., with the aid of Adjutant General Frank D. McTate.

According to present plans, the gathering will be held during the week in August which immediately follows the conclusion of the annual tour of field duty of active units of the National Guard.

Except for the cost of transportation to and from Mt. Gretna and the government charge for rationing the expense to those who attend will be small in view of the fact that General Deacy has agreed to permit the use of tentage owned by the state for the quartering of the veterans.

Separate areas of the reservation for each of the various units will permit all those who served in the same companies and regiments to be quartered together.

Approximately 100 men from New Castle, former members of Troop F, were members of the 28th Division during the war, and will be included in the reunion plans.

RECENTLY a seasoned veteran of radio I came in to hear the new 1931 Atwater Kent. He was frankly doubtful if even Atwater Kent could improve tone quality as much as we said. He listened and surrendered.

"Why, man," he said, "it's perfect! Send one out!"

The other day we met him on the street. "The best thing you ever did," he said, "was to sell me that new Atwater Kent—finest I ever heard, and all the neighbors say so too. Whoever gave it that name—the Golden Voice—certainly hit it right."

Come in and listen as our guest. No obligation. Just come and see why so many people, are saying, "I'd rather have an Atwater Kent."

Notre Dame-Penn Battle Features In East-Michigan To Play Harvard

GREAT CONTESTS ARE EXPECTED

By COPELAND C. BURG International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Like a giant dragon with a mean and hungry look in his pale green eyes, as though searching for bigger and better victims, old man football today climbed atop the tallest college spire and in a vociferous shriek heard from New York to California, roared the message—"You ain't seen nothing yet!"

And then in all-concealed delight, the relentless and ever-seeking wrecker of the high and mighty announced next Saturday's football card, topped by such classics as Notre Dame versus Penn at Philadelphia, Georgia versus the New York University in New York, Michigan versus Harvard at Cambridge and Alabama versus Florida at Gainesville.

With hardly less glee the old gentleman who collects his toll willfully every Saturday afternoon smacked his lips over the clashes bringing together Columbia and Colgate in New York, Pitt and Carnegie Tech at Pittsburgh, University of Southern California and California at Los Angeles, Detroit and Fordham at Detroit, Army and Illinois in New York City and Navy and Ohio State at Baltimore.

In fact all of the powerful teams of the nation are taking on important foes this week with the exception of Dartmouth who plays Allegheny, a small but undefeated college; Northwestern, engaging Indiana and Yale, picking on Alfred, Syracuse-Penn State.

That good Syracuse outfit which rose to the heights last week to tie the Brown machine will play Penn State at State College, Princeton meets Lehigh at Princeton and unbeaten Marquette will battle Iowa at Milwaukee.

Out there on the flowery slopes of the Pacific Stanford mingles with Washington at Palo Alto and there will be no blanket of carnations on the field when the battle is ended.

In the South in addition to titanic drama which Bama's big power house will unfold with Florida, the team that tied unbeaten Georgia, Georgia Tech versus Vanderbilt at Atlanta, Southern Methodist versus Texas A&M at Dallas, Baylor versus Texas Tech at Waco.

AT NEWARK—Tony Lambert, Newark 140-pounder, defeated Benjie Levine, Newark (10).

Philly Lewis and Norman Kid Wolfe bout halted for inaction (6).

Young Firpo, Pennsylvanian, N. J. lightweight, defeated Herman Follins, Ambler, Pa. (10).

AT FREEPORT, N. Y.—Hans Mueller, German welterweight, scored technical kayo over Eddie Foster, New York (5).

Augie Parente, New York lightweight, defeated Joe Grant, St. Louis (6).

AT HOLYOKE, Mass.—Harry Ebbets, Freeport, N. Y., middleweight, knocked out Paul Rojas, Cuba (2).

AT TORONTO—Joe Glick, Brooklyn lightweight, defeated Henry Perlek, Kalamazoo, Mich. (10).

AT ROCHESTER, N. Y.—Bucky Lawless, Auburn, N. Y., welterweight, defeated Jackie Korner, Rochester (10).

AT MEADVILLE, Pa.—Louis Severo, Meadville lightweight, knocked out Joe Cogan, Cleveland (1).

AT PITTSBURGH—Archie Bell, Brooklyn bantamweight, defeated Willie Davies, Charleroi, Pa. (10).

AT TRENTON, N. J.—Johnny Breanan, Trenton 122 pounder, defeated Tommy Maroon, Kansas City (10).

Three Freshmen Stars On Westminster Team

NEW WILMINGTON, Nov. 4.—Three freshmen who have won their spurs on this year's Westminster College football team are Alan Harper, Zelenoff, halfback; Cromwell Ketterer, Rochester, halfback, and Charles Myler, New Castle, end.

Harper and Ketterer have supplied the needed scoring punch with their speed and ball carrying ability. Myler, who has seen action in four of the five games played, should develop into one of the best terminals the Titans have had.

In addition to these three men, Glenn Shaffer, quarterback, adds another bit of glory to the freshman class at Westminster. Shaffer led in scoring with four touchdowns and four points after touchdowns, for 28 points.

Gridiron Gossip

The Westminster Titans with their third victory under the belt, will strive to make it four for the season when they tackle the strong Geneva team at New Wilmington this coming Saturday. The men of Geneva are rare to get at this time of year, following their latest victory that over Juniata. Coach Howard Harpster will take a strong well balanced team to New Wilmington to battle the Blue and White clad Titans.

Down in the Pitt Stadium, the battle royal of Pittsburgh will be waged this week, with Pitt and Carnegie Tech furnishing the fireworks. The Pitties hope to snap out of their slump that has plagued them through the last two games. Notre Dame kicked the Panthers and the Nebraska Cornhuskers held them back to take the measure of the Panthers and even up the defeat of last season. The game should pack the stadium.

Allegheny College with a string of unbroken victories will undoubtedly join the list of defeated this week, when they go to Hanover, New Hampshire, and tussle with the undefeated powerful Dartmouth eleven. The Alligators have always given the big Green team a real engagement and there are several who predict that the Dartmouth team is going to find the Megawillians tough hoppers this year. Allegheny's latest victim was Grove City. Coach Maurice Crum is going to instill a lot of fight into the team this week.

Duquesne University will have North Dakota University as the menu for Friday night at the Forbes Field well-lighted ball park. The North Dakotans took a walloping at West Point on Saturday, but they have a strong team and will give the men of Layden a tough engagement. North Dakota has been beaten very little this year. The Army has a powerful team and the boys from the Mid-West didn't really expect to beat the Cadets.

High Team Has Light Workout

Locals Start Training For Next Game With Rayen High On Saturday Afternoon

Rayen Expects To Avenge For Defeat Handed Them Here Last Season

Following its easy victory over the Rochester high team on Friday night the New Castle high school squad started training for Rayen high which will be played next Saturday afternoon at Youngstown. The practice session on Monday at Taggart field was a light affair with signal drills taking up most of the time.

The entire New Castle squad came through in good condition. The boys went through signal drills for over an hour after which they called it a day. This afternoon's workout will probably be another light event.

The Youngstown aggregation this season has a fair team. Training at the Ohio camp started on Monday. It will be remembered that the New Castle boys sent the Rayenites back with a defeat last season and according to dope Rayen will be out to even things up.

The contest will probably start at 2:30. Tickets for this game have been placed on sale at the Sporting Goods store on East Washington street. Four sections are being reserved for New Castle fans who accompany the red and black eleven to Youngstown Saturday.

Notre Dame-Penn Battle
Features In East-Michigan To Play Harvard

GREAT CONTESTS ARE EXPECTED

By COPELAND C. BURG
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Like a giant dragon with a mean and hungry look in his pale green eyes, as though searching for bigger and better victims, old man football today climbed atop the tallest college spire and in a vociferous shriek heard from New York to California zoomed the message—"You ain't seen nothing yet!"

And then in ill-concealed delight, the relentless and ever-seeking wrecker of the high and mighty announced next Saturday's football card, topped by such classics as Notre Dame versus Penn at Philadelphia, Georgia versus the New York University in New York, Michigan versus Harvard at Cambridge and Alabama versus Florida at Gainesville.

With hardly less glee the old gentleman who collects his toll willingly every Saturday afternoon smacked his lips over the clashes bringing together Columbia and Colgate in New York Pitt and Carnegie Tech at Pittsburgh, University of Southern California and California at Los Angeles, Detroit and Fordham at Detroit, Army and Illinois in New York City and Navy and Ohio State at Baltimore.

In fact all of the powerful teams of the nation are taking on important foes this week with the exception of Dartmouth who plays Allegheny, a small but undefeated college; Northwestern, engaging Indiana and Yale, picking on Alfred.

Syracuse-Penn State
That good Syracuse outfit which rose to the heights last week to tie the Brown machine will play Penn State at State College, Princeton meets Lehigh at Princeton and unbeaten Marquette will battle Iowa at Milwaukee.

Out there on the flowery slopes of the Pacific Stanford mingles with Washington at Palo Alto and there will be no blanket of carnations on the field when the battle is ended.

In the South in addition to titanic drama which "Bama's big power house will unfold with Florida, the team that tied unbeaten Georgia, Georgia Tech versus Vanderbilt at Atlanta, Southern Methodist versus Texas A&M at Dallas, Baylor (Continued on Next Page)

Fidel LaBarba Wins Over "Kid" Chocolate

(International News Service)

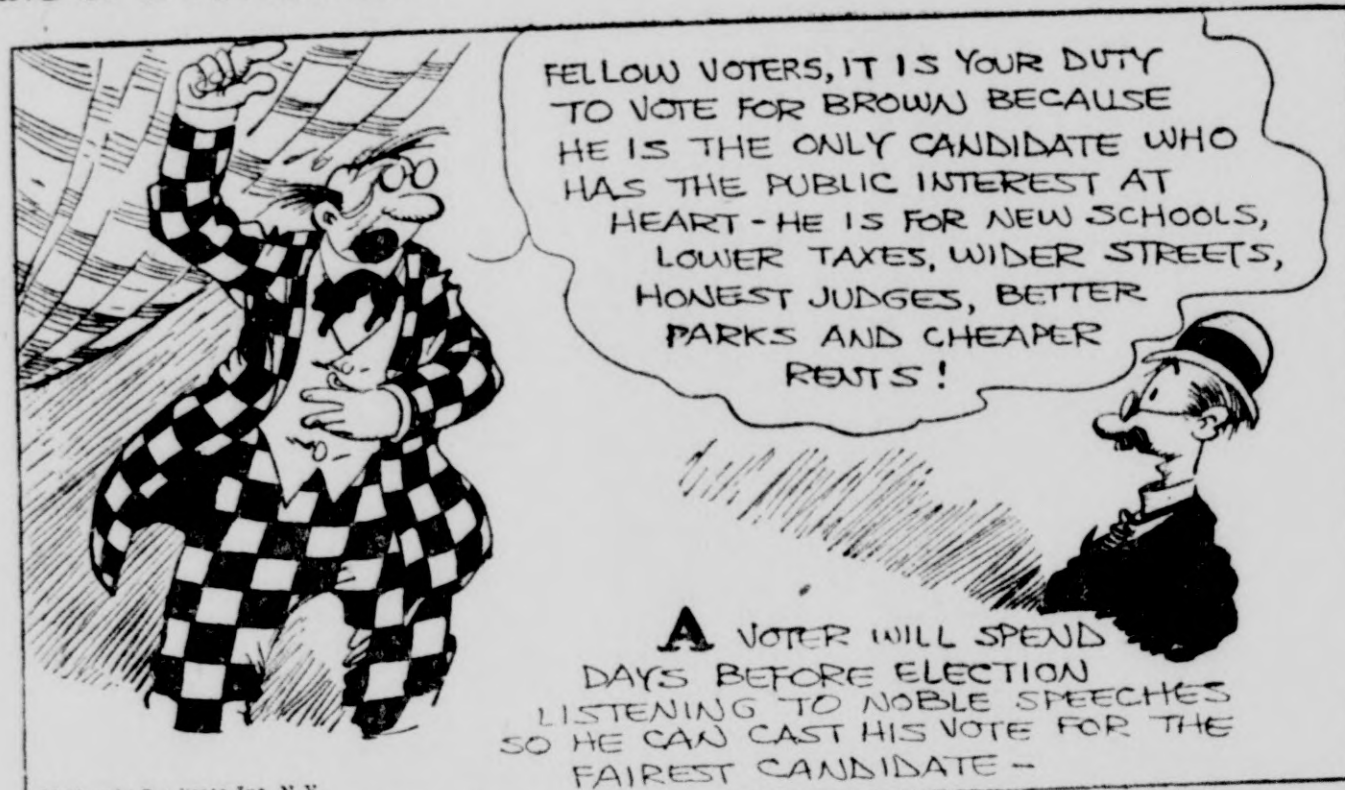

NEW YORK, Nov. 4.—Fidel LaBarba was so happy today that he laughed and cried by turns. Even as he laughed, it was a strange mixture of joy and enthusiasm.

It is something to hang a defeat on Kid Chocolate's door, and Fidel certainly nailed one there last night. The coast fighter took at least five rounds, Chocolate won three and two were even. Some thought LaBarba won six rounds.

The decision was well received by a crowd of about 50,000.

MAKING UP A VOTER'S MIND

Three Freshmen Stars On Westminster Team

NEW WILMINGTON, Nov. 4.—Three freshmen who have won their spurs on this year's Westminster College football team are Alan Harper, Zeilenpole, halfback; Cromwell Ketterer, Rochester, halfback, and Charles Myler, New Castle, end.

Harper and Ketterer have supplied the needed scoring punch with their speed and ball carrying ability. Myler, who has seen action at end in four of the five games played, should develop into one of the best terminals the Titans have had.

In addition to these three men, Glenn Shaffer, quarterback, adds another bit of glory to the freshmen class at Westminster. Shaffer leads in scoring with four touchdowns and four points after touchdowns, for 28 points.

Gridiron Gossip

The Westminster Titans with their third victory over the belt, will strive to make it four for the season when they tackle the strong Geneva team at New Wilmington this coming Saturday. The men of Beede are rarin' to get at this Geneva crew, following their latest victory that over Juniata.

Coach Layden may shift his lineup somewhat for the game Friday. Thiel College after taking a lacing here last week from Wash-Jeff will go down to Bethany, West Virginia on this coming Saturday to do battle with a much abused Bidson eleven. The Bethany team has been licked plenty this year and the writer cannot see any hope for them beating Thiel, especially with Wardle and McClure doing their stuff. Coach Knight has been having a lot of tough luck with the Bidsons this year, injuries and one thing and another, but he hopes to have them going at top speed against the Lutherans.

Grove City College seeing red after that defeat handed them at Meadville by the strong Allegheny team last week, will take a jaunt down to Waynesburg this coming Saturday to meet the Yellow Jackets. The Waynesburg team generally plays good football against the Groves, and the victories stand about even for a span of years.

Allegheny College with a string of unbroken victories will undoubtedly join the list of defeated this week, when they go to Hanover, New Hampshire, and tussle with the undefeated powerful Dartmouth eleven. The Alleghenies have always given the big Green College a real engagement and there are several who openly predict that the Dartmouth team is going to find the Meadville team's tough hordes this year. Allegheny's latest victim was Grove City. Coach Maude Crum is going to instill a lot of light into the team this week.

Duquesne University will have North Dakota University as the foe for Friday night at the Forbes Field well-lighted ball park. The North Dakotas took a walloping at West Point on Saturday, but they have a strong team and will give the men of Layden a tough engagement. North Dakota has been beaten very little this year.

The Army has a powerful team, the boys from the Mid-West didn't really expect to beat the Cadets. Political headquarters will have to engage a trouble clerk to take care of all these reports of party lines being out of order.—The Louisville Courier Journal.

Seniors Defeat George Washington

Class League Game Takes Place At Taggart Field On Monday, Score 19-7

Senior class football team of the high school proved too much for a small George Washington junior high eleven in a game played at Taggart field on Monday afternoon. The final score favored the senior high boys, 19-7.

The winners scored their touchdowns in the first, third and fourth periods. George Washington came through with its tally in the final minutes of play when Lane intercepted a pass on his 35-yard line and brought the ball to the 5-yard line. The seniors drew a penalty here for unnecessary roughness and the ball was placed on the 1-foot line where Huffner plunged over the goal line.

The seniors scored their first touchdown in the first quarter thru a series of line plunges and a 25-yard run by Herbold who took the ball over. The second came in the third quarter when James Herbold intercepted a pass and ran 65 yards for a touchdown. Chambers scored the last tally from the 12-yard line after his team mates had brought the ball there through line plunges and several passes.

For the seniors the playing of Herbold, Chambers and McGoun featured. For the George Washington team Lane in the backfield and Howley and Battley on the line were the best. Todd, playing his first game at center for George Washington, made a creditable showing.

The summary follows:
Seniors 19

Sankey Speaks In Ellwood City

Talks On "Safety" To Members Of Kiwanis At Meeting Monday

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 4.—In dealing with his favorite topic of "Safety" C. E. Sankey, general manager of the safety department of the National Tube Company told the Kiwanis at their dinner meeting last night that they were great workers.

"Too much time spent in pessimism, too much energy wasted on fear, and not enough optimism, is what is bad for good business, was the summary of his discussion which was listened to with interest by these club members.

"The greatest calamity is wasted effort," said Mr. Sankey, in continuing. "We dwell too much on the wrong things." No successful business is run without a certain amount of waste, which we must watch and cut down. Honesty with ourselves is the first move in removing this waste. Take an inventory of yourself. Not from the exterior, but from the heart. After you have become the man whom you can respect, then decorate. But first find out wherein lies the waste and remove it. There is no man in business today who does not have waste material which at some time or another might be just the thing which is going to be his downfall.

Seventy-five manufacturing plants which have gone into business during the last seven years failed. Why? because they failed to take inventory and allowing the waste to accumulate, it ate up their profits. They were not taking safety into consideration.

Mr. Sankey who has made safety talks before thousands of men, always brings fresh subjects into his address. For years he worked in the local works as safety director and at which time the local mill won several records for no accidents. Although he now has offices in Pittsburgh he remains loyal to his friends in Ellwood and is ever received into the club circles of his friends with a welcome hand.

Sankey Speaks In Ellwood City

Talks On "Safety" To Members Of Kiwanis At Meeting Monday

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 4.—In dealing with his favorite topic of "Safety," C. E. Sankey, general manager of the safety department of the National Tube Company told the Kiwanis at their dinner meeting last night that they were great wastrels.

"Too much time spent in pessimism, too much energy wasted on fear, and not enough optimism, is what is bad for good business, was the summary of his discussion which was listened to with interest by these club members.

"The greatest calamity is wasted effort," said Mr. Sankey, in continuing. "We dwell too much on the wrong things." No successful business is run without a certain amount of waste, which we must watch and cut down. Honesty with ourselves is the first move in removing this waste. Take an inventory of yourself. Ingrown Nail Turns Right Out!

Pain Stops Instantly!

"Outgro" is a harmless antiseptic medicine for chiropodists. However, anyone can buy from the drug store a tiny bottle containing directions.

A few drops of "Outgro" in the crevice of the ingrown nail reduces inflammation and pain and so softens the tender, sensitive skin underneath the nail, that it can be removed without pain and the nail turns naturally outward almost overnight.

Most of the members of the Flying Eagle Patrol, Joe Popescu patrol leader, were present, and planned on erecting a cabin in a close by country district. The boys are not purchasing the place of the construction of their club house.

Several of the scouts passed their examinations for signalling, and a first aid demonstration was made under the direction of Wm. Krebs who recently received the Junior Life Saving Honors. About ten of the boys will receive honors from the Court of Honor, which will be held sometime in November. The boys enjoyed a hike last Saturday and plan another in two weeks to Camp Phillips, the scout camp.

Hallowe'en Party In New Scout Hut

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 4.—The fire burned low. The Nightingale troop with their mothers, all in costume, stirred the embers to a brighter glow in order to toast their marshmallows better.

The scene was set in the new scout hut on the bank of the Slippery Rock, and every one had fun at this party last night.

Ghost stories were related and fortunes were given. Many games were played for which prizes were awarded.

The party was in charge of the troop captain, Margaret Bennett, Martha Thompson and Mary Rhodes lieutenants. Dorothy Tomb was a special guest.

At the conclusion of a short business session district business meetings were served by the hostess, assisted by Miss Anna and Miss Blanch Boyd.

J. E. B. CLUB

versus Texas at Waco and Tulane versus Auburn at New Orleans are carded.

Chicago-Purdue
Chicago must face Purdue at Chicago and Wisconsin may have a breather in South Dakota State at Madison. Missouri plays Iowa State at Columbia and Michigan State has North Dakota State at East Lansing.

Utah, unbeaten and with a formidable record, opposes Colorado College at Salt Lake City, Kansas, the team that blew up against Penn last week end, has an engagement with Nebraska at Lawrence.

Williams plays Wesleyan, Villanova has Bucknell and Rutgers will test Lafayette among the smaller schools in the East.

Philadelphia, Cambridge and New York City will draw the big Eastern crowds this week. A mob of nearly 80,000 fans was expected to watch the Irish and Penn at Franklin Field and in New York capacity crowds were looked for at the P. U. Grounds, scene of the Georgian-N. Y. U. tilt and at Yankee Stadium, where the Army will shake hands with Bob Zuppke's boys. The Columbia-Colgate game will be staged at Baker Field and is attracting wide interest, due to the fact that Columbia surprised even itself last Saturday by turning back iachymose Gil Dobie's Cornell machine.

After a slow start, Michigan has developed a splendid team and the Harvard match will be the big event of the day in New England.

Anne Adams Is At The Overlook

Miss Anne Adams, of Pittsburgh, formerly of New Castle, is resting at Overlook Sanitarium. Miss Adams, who has many friends in New Castle, was a former state treasurer of the Business and Professional Women's clubs.

Miss Adams has a high and responsible position in Pittsburgh with the Standard Life Insurance company.

TWO BUNNIES

Albert Kuder of Court street shot two rabbits on the first day of rabbit hunting season Saturday, November 1, in the vicinity of Volant.

Mr. Kuder saw very little game and accounts for it to the light snow fall of the first day. The first snow of the year causes the small game to stay hidden.

After a slow start, Michigan has developed a splendid team and the Harvard match will be the big event of the day in New England.

The test of mid-western football which up to this writing, has been definitely superior to the game played in the east this season, comes Saturday, November 8.

On that day the grid battalions of the central states must defend their standing on all fronts but one in 14 intersectional tiffs. Six divisions of mid-western troops invade the east, one goes south, seven stand on their home grounds in an attempt to repel attacks from east, south and far west.

The mid-west's score sheet against the east looks very good (if you are a mid-westerner). Mid-west teams have scored six wins (three by Notre Dame) and lost but two battles to aggregations from the Atlantic seaboard.

Against the south the mid-west has an even showing—two wins, two losses, one tie.

Attorney Walter S. Reynolds Makes Address At Lions Session At Noon

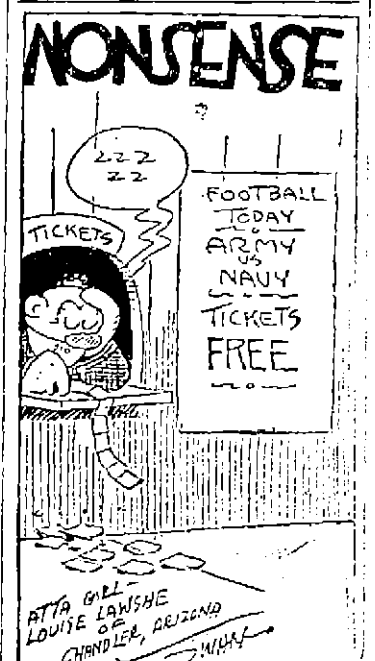

All the charms of that northernmost possession of the United States, Alaska, were gloriously unfolded before the Lions club at their meeting Tuesday the Elk's home today by Attorney Walter S. Reynolds, this city, who passed three months on exploration here back in 1919.

"The Alaskan territory, which is one-fifth the size of our country, is more often thought of as a strictly arid and barren land," Mr. Reynolds explained. "But such an impression is entirely wrong. I crossed the arctic circle in my shirt sleeves when the thermometer hovered at 83 degrees."

After pointing out that Alaska is warm in the summer time, a place where hundreds of varieties of flowers grow, the speaker informed that it does get bitter in the winter time. He discussed in full the primitive conditions under which they lived while there.

PINCHOT IS ELECTED

Lawrence County Goes To Pinchot Majority Is 4500

Hemphill Loses Both City And County In Election Tuesday

ALL REPUBLICAN CANDIDATES WIN

Total Vote In County Is: Pinchot 9885 And Hemphill 5346

Gifford Pinchot, successful candidate for the governorship of Pennsylvania in the general election held Tuesday, November 4th, swept through Lawrence County in the balloting, piling up a majority beyond that expected by his adherents. With 88 precincts reported out of the 99 in the county, Pinchot's total is 9885, and John M. Hemphill, his Democratic opponent 5346, a majority of 4539.

As was expected, the Pinchot majority was larger in the country than it was in the City of New Castle. In the city he polled 4112 votes, as against 2773 for Hemphill, a majority of 1339. In the districts outside of the city he polled 5773 as against 2573 for Hemphill, a majority of 3200.

Above Estimate

The 4539 majority for Pinchot is 539 more votes than his headquarters here estimated. Their estimate being a majority of 4000. The Hemphill headquarters, both Liberal and Democratic estimated not more than 2000 majority, with the probabilities that Hemphill would carry the City of New Castle.

From the totals available, and adding perhaps 600 for Pinchot, Socialist, and scattering votes, the total vote for governor in Lawrence County was approximately 16,000. This was also higher than the estimates of the headquarters here, the highest there being 15,000 and the lowest 14,000.

The vote throughout the county indicates that party lines were forgotten. The number of straight Republican or straight Democratic votes was comparatively few, and apparently the majority of the voters split their ballots in one way or another.

No Contest

In the other state wide races, there was no contest being made by the Democrats, at least none that compared with the battle waged for John M. Hemphill, and as a result Davis, Shannon, Dewey and the balance of the Republican candidates piled up majorities of four and five to one.

For United States Senate, James J. Davis, now secretary of labor in the cabinet of President Herbert Hoover, polled 11,697 votes in Lawrence County, his Democratic opponent, Sedgwick Kistler, getting 2,342.

For Lieutenant Governor, General Edward C. Shannon received 10,090, to 2,569 for his Democratic opponent, Guy K. Bard. For Justice of the Supreme Court, Judge George W. Moxey received 10,220 as against 2,617 for Judge Henry C. Niles, Democrat.

PA NEW OBSERVES

Quick work on the part of election board enabled The News to flash the latest returns to a waiting crowd outside the office early last night. Others learned of last-minute developments via the telephone. First word came from the first precinct, seventh ward, while the second precinct in the same district phoned its count in a moment later.

PA News understands there's a movement on to have more flags on display next Tuesday than ever before. It's a fine idea, and every home and business house should cooperate by flying one.

The public square park is receiving a beauty treatment today and PA News believes that it will prove advantageous to its appearance. That reddish hedge that they are planting looks kind of nice, bare as it is. Next summer it will be elegant.

Congress Will Have Three New Democrats From Pennsylvania

Three Democrats Crash Through In Voting Tuesday For Congressional Posts

And Four Democrats Will Make Up State Delegation

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 5.—The Democrats have gained three seats in Pennsylvania's delegation to the National House of Representatives, it was indicated today by virtually complete returns from the state's congressional elections.

The Democrats elected four members of the delegation of 35 in districts held by the Republicans, while losing one seat that had been held by a Democrat. Their gains were in the 11th, 14th, 22nd and 30th, while a Republican supplanted a Democrat in the 12th.

The Democrats' gains were Patrick J. Boyland, of Scranton, in the 11th; Norton L. Lichtenwalner, Allentown, in the 14th; Harry L. Haines, tobacco manufacturer, of Red Bank, in the 22nd; and Rep. Everett Keet in the 30th. In the 12, C. Murray Turpin (R) was elected.

Nineteen Army Airplanes Fly Over This City

Hundreds of New Castle people saw for the first time formation flying, when 19 army airplanes flew over the city at about 3 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon.

The planes were flying quite high and a number of them flew in "V" formation, each formation consisting of three airplanes.

It was a very few minutes after the 19 army planes had appeared from the western skies that they had passed over New Castle and disappeared to the southeast.

Senator Hastings Is Re-Elected By Delaware Voters

Republican Senator Again Winner In Delaware Over Democratic Candidate

(International News Service)
WILMINGTON, Del., Nov. 5.—U. S. Senator Daniel O. Hastings, Republican, again won out in his wet and dry battle with Ex-Senator Thomas F. Bayard, Democrat, for the U. S. Senatorial seat at stake in the Delaware election yesterday on the basis of returns today from all but 22 of the 222 districts. Hastings' majority appeared to be 8,000.

Robert M. Houston, Republican congressional nominee, also defeated his wet opponent, Colonel Kohn Le Fevre, possibly amassing a thousand more votes than Senator Hastings.

The vote for the 200 districts reported gave: Hastings 38,293; Bayard 30,112; Houston 38,747 and Col. Le Fevre 29,253.

Congress Stays Dry In Spite Of Gains By 'Wets'

Anti-Prohibition Forces Will Be Formidable Factor In House, Is Belief

THREE STATES VOTE AGAINST DRY LAWS

Inroads Made By Wet Bloc Had Its Inception In Primaries Last Spring

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—One of the greatest upsets in the political history of the country was spread upon the records today as slow-moving returns continued to emphasize the breadth and scope of the Democratic turnover from the Atlantic seaboard to the slopes of the Pacific.

The Democrats in all probability have won control of the house of representatives of the 72nd congress. Probably they will be able to organize it, and they have missed actual control of the senate only by the narrow margin of a seat or two.

Shortly before noon today, with normally Democratic Kentucky still unheard from, the Democrats were figured to have 209 seats in the new congress to 205 for the Republicans. 1 for the farmer-Labor party, and 20 seats still in a stage of uncertainty. It requires 218 for actual control.

Two States Uncertain

In the senate, the Democrats increased their representation from 39 to 46, as against 47 for the Republicans, and South Dakota and Kentucky are still uncertain, so they may emerge with actual control of the senate—something they did not dream of yesterday.

A Democratic senator from Kansas, assured today through the concession of defeat by Senator Henry J. Allen, brings George McGill to the senate from Kansas for the short term.

Allen's defeat was a shock to the Republicans and no less to the Democrats. He was accounted one of the so-called "Hoover group" and frequently spoke the White House position on the floor. He was serving an appointment to the vacancy created by the resignation of vice president Curtis.

But irrespective of whether the Democrats win numerical control of either house, the administration has lost control of both branches of the 72nd congress. Actual control will be vested in a coalition of Democrats and insurgent Republicans from the middle and northwest, whenever they care to exercise it upon a given issue.

The Senate has been and is now in just such a state. The house is thus to join the upper chamber in the next congress in its political independence of the White House.

Democrats Resume Power In Voting In North Carolina

Solid Democratic Delegation From North Carolina Will Go To Washington

(International News Service)
RALEIGH, N. C., Nov. 5.—A solid Democratic delegation to congress again had been elected by North Carolina today, as two seats lost to the Republicans in 1928 apparently were reclaimed.

J. W. Bailey, who won the Democratic senatorial nomination from the veteran Senator Furnifold M. Simmons, was carried to almost a three to one victory over George M. Pritchard, Republican candidate.

Senator Heflin Badly Defeated

Fiery Petrel Of Alabama Given Crushing Defeat In Voting Tuesday

(International News Service)
MONTGOMERY, Ala., Nov. 5.—Alabama's army of renegade Democrats who nearly put the solid Democratic state in the Republican column two years ago, were safely back in the fold today after routing Senator J. Thomas Heflin, fiery petrel of Alabama politics, in Tuesday's election.

Heflin, who led the Democratic revolt in 1928, was decisively defeated for re-election to the senate by the regular Democratic nominee, John M. Bankhead, the son of the man Heflin succeeded in the senate. The incumbent, barred from his party for his disloyalty, ran as an "Independent Jeffersonian."

Charles Curry Jr. Apparent Winner

(International News Service)
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 5.—Charles F. Curry, Jr., today had apparently established a safe lead in the fight for representative in the third district. Late returns showed he was leading J. M. Inman by 6,500 votes. Both are Republicans.

Curry's father, former congressman from this district, died last month while still in office.

WILL ROGERS says:

(Special To The News)
BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Nov. 5.—Well, this day after election many a good man will find that he has been replaced because he failed to bring in enough government loot from Washington.

Did you ever figure what constitutes our modern "representative?" The one that can bring home the new federal post office, even if they wasn't using the old one; federal aid for roads, that nobody ever drives on; and a governmental dam.

That's the height of statesmanship, to come home with a dam, even if you got nowhere to put it.

Just raid the national treasury enough and you will soon be referred to as a "statesman."

Bulkley-White Ohio Winners In Voting Tuesday

Robert J. Bulkley, Cleveland Elected To United States Senate

WHITE ELECTED TO GOVERNORSHIP

(International News Service)
COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 5.—Riding the crest of a state-wide protest against "hard times" and prohibition, George White, Democratic candidate for governor from Marietta, and Robert J. Bulkley, Democratic candidate for U. S. senator from Cleveland, have apparently swept to a landslide victory as a result of yesterday's election, according to tabulations announced from the secretary of state's office early today.

Governor Myers V. Cooper, who in weeks of campaigning appealed to the voters "not to change boats in mid-stream," went down to an ignominious defeat at the hands of Ohio's electorate, according to the tabulations of 6117 of the state's 8935 precincts.

At four o'clock this morning governor Cooper had registered only 596,074 votes, as compared with the 662,979 votes—a majority of 66,905—recorded by his doughty Democratic opponent, George White.

Robert J. Bulkley, the "dripping wet" Democrat from Cleveland, was leading his Republican opponent, Roscoe C. McCulloch of Canton, by 79,161 votes in the 6117 precincts of the state.

Senator Schall Is Defeated In Minnesota Vote

Blind Senator, Incumbent, Defeated By His Democratic Opponent

(International News Service)
ST. PAUL, Minn., Nov. 5.—Thomas D. Schall (R), the blind incumbent, today refused to concede victory to Einar Holstad (D) in the Minnesota senatorship race despite Holstad's lead of 60,000 votes.

The Minneapolis Tribune, the only major newspaper in the state supporting Schall, conceded defeat and called the election the "biggest setback in the history of the Republican party in Minnesota."

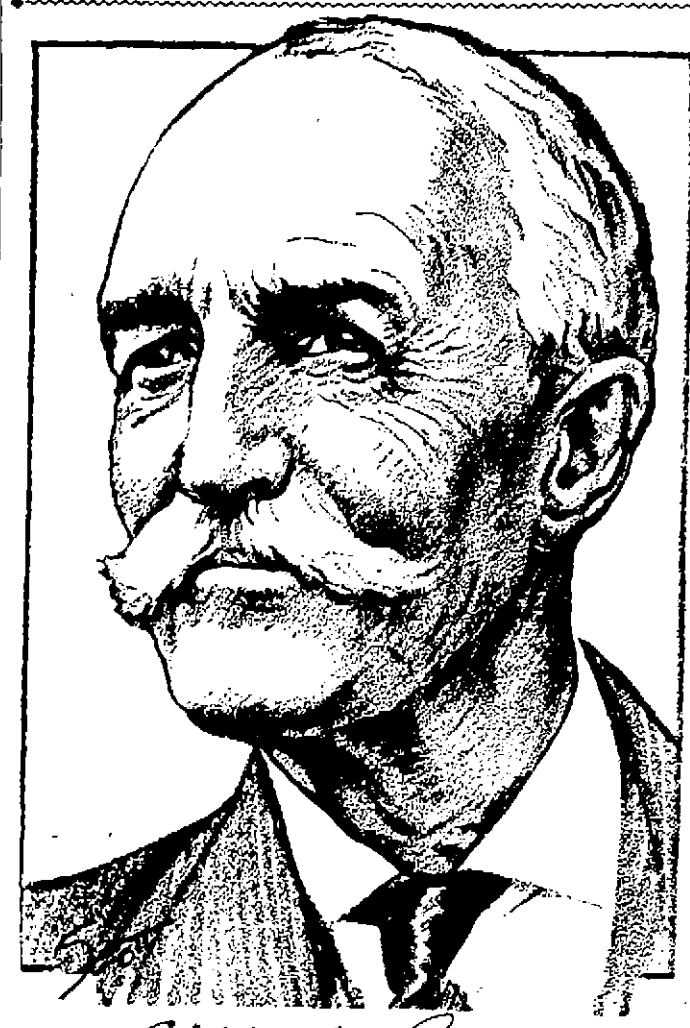

A former labor candidate, Floyd B. Olson, apparently was elected governor over Ray P. Chase (R), state auditor.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—A country-wide political revolt—nurtured by economic distress and a growing resentment against prohibition—rose up today and smote the prestige of the Hoover administration a stunning blow by bringing the Democrats to within an eyelash of controlling the next congress.

The Democrats may actually control both houses, but it will take the final count to prove it. It is that close.

An aroused electorate went to the polls yesterday in 47 states and swayed right and left at "the ins" and at prohibition, producing in the end a series of spectacular Democratic victories that could be called little else than a landslide.

Some Results

(1) Franklin D. Roosevelt, Democratic-wet, was re-elected governor of New York over Charles R. Tuttle, Republican-Wet, by the astounding plurality of more than 700,000 votes—a point never reached by "Al" Smith even in his palmyest days.

(2) Three states—Illinois, Massachusetts, and Rhode Island—voted disapproval of prohibition by formal referendum, and followed this up (Continued On Page Two)

Hemphill Gets Tremendous Vote In Philadelphia—Dauphin Surprises

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 5.—Drawing away from the Philadelphia county line under a burden of more than 217,000 ballots cast against him, Gifford Pinchot, Pennsylvania's next governor, steadily forged ahead in the rural district late today despite the determined fight waged by his youthful opponent, John M. Hemphill.

With only slightly more than a thousand scientific votes yet to be reported throughout the state and few of those in the urban districts where Hemphill had pinned his hopes of victory, this picturesque veteran of countless political wars enjoyed a comfortable lead of more than 68,000 with indications pointing to a fulfillment of his prediction of a 75,000 to 120,000 majority.

Rural Regions For Pinchot

A remarkable semblance to the hectic primaries of last May was noted today as the upstate agrarian counties wheeled into line with Pinchot majorities. Bucking the Philadelphia organization last May, Pinchot left the Philadelphia county line with a heavy vote yoked to his candidacy. Once away from that danger line, however, the "Tall Forster" last May—and today—went serenely through the rural regions, garnering a thousand votes in this precinct and a few hundred in that.

With Pinchot's ultimate victory a definitely established, though not entirely consummated fact, chief interest this afternoon centered into what figures his majority would run. Only a few of the 1,063 precincts yet to report are located in industrial centers—Hemphill strongholds (Continued On Page Two)

Iowa Republicans Again In Control—Senator Steck Beaten By Dickinson

(International News Service)
DES MOINES, Ia., Nov. 5.—While Democrats in many parts of the land today were celebrating unexpected victories in yesterday's elections, Iowa Republicans are again in control of Iowa's government with only one Democrat holding a major office.

The major victory for the G. O. P. in the Hawkeye elections yesterday went to Lester J. Dickinson, Algonia, Ia., who defeated Daniel F. Steck, Democratic incumbent United States senator from Iowa, by a large margin.

The shooting's over, the speeches done, and the balls and busts of the campaign days are smashed and through and past. And we can get back to the daily task, with ease and rum and pop, for the campaign speeches have taken time and threaten us out of our step. Now somebody had to be high or low, and somebody had to lose, and some of the boys lost their hard earned dough, and some of them lost their shoes. But the thing is over so let's forget the speeches and runs and by plain, there's work to be done and some other affairs. It's party seven today.

White House Is Stunned

Democratic Victory At Polls On Tuesday Is Surprise Blow

DEMOCRATS MAY CONTROL CONGRESS

By GEORGE E. BURNO
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—In stunned silence, the White House scanned today's swelling reports that tabulated the off-year Democratic landslide.

President Hoover and his advisors had confidently expected they would retain control of the house by a majority of twenty, and the returns which indicated that the Democrats might make such a clean sweep as to be able actually to organize it left them flabbergasted.

No one around the executive offices had anything to say for publication. In fact, no one had anything to say at all. Everybody was too busy tabulating latest returns and trying to work out a majority of even two or three for the Republicans in the house.

As early as ten-thirty, the president was advised he might fear for the worst—that it looked as though the Democrats had grabbed the house and come within a seat of getting the senate.

The White House dopesters were hanging on the returns from Kentucky, where the ballot boxes were only opened this morning for count, and they were none too sanguine.

At the time Mr. Hoover and his aides called it a day last night and turned off the radio, they were still sticking to the prediction the G. O. P. would return a majority of 20 in the lower house of congress. Apparently this was a bed-rock safety figure the administration strategists had worked out in advance.

First word that all was not well with that majority of 20 was conveyed to the president while he was having coffee in the china room after his customary 7 o'clock medicine ball exercise. James L. West, director of publicity for the Republican national committee, who had been left in charge of national headquarters here, brought the bad news.

This was sufficient to get the executive to his desk shortly after 8, where he scanned overnight figures with Walter H. Newton, his political secretary, who had stood up most of the night watching the results as they came over the wire. Each newspaper association summary was promptly rushed into his office.

Aside from feeling the sting of the implied rebuke to his administration which the general election holds, the president suffered at the polls in a personal way.

The Quick Relief Medical Company, manufacturers of a certain proprietary medicine, inserted an advertisement in a number of publications. The advertisement made several statements, one of which was that a reward would be offered to anyone who used this medicine three times a day for three weeks according to the directions on the inclosed wrapper and then contracted influenza, a cold, or any disease caused by taking cold.

In the next town of Hamfield lived Mrs. Della Dobb. Mrs. Dobb came across the advertisement in her favorite paper weekly, and on the strength of it bought a quantity of that particular medicine.

She used it as directed and had been using it thus for nearly two months when she contracted influenza. Mrs. Dobb believed she was entitled to the reward, so she wrote to the company about it. But the Quick Relief Company refused to pay and stayed adamant. Whereupon Mrs. Dobb filed suit.

STATE MAJORITY FOR PINCHOT TO BE ABOUT 75,000

—and even in these few Pinchot was expected to present a credible showing.

Not To Affect Result

In the remainder, although the size of the vote was a matter of conjecture, it was believed by political leaders that the Pike county statesman would draw at least enough adherents to his standard to offset whatever advantage was gained by Hemphill in the urban districts and to bring his majority to within a striking distance of the 75,000 mark.

With only slightly more than a thousand scattered precincts yet to be reported, tabulation of the votes cast in yesterday's election for governor showed Gifford Pinchot leading John M. Hemphill by 68,486 votes shortly before noon today.

With 1063 precincts, mainly in rural districts yet to be heard from, the returns gave:

Pinchot—874,033.
Hemphill—805,577.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 5.

—The voters of Pennsylvania have spoken and Gifford Pinchot, Dry Republican, will be their governor for the next four years.

Pinchot, who has been in the nation's political spotlight ever since the Roosevelt administration, barely nosed out John M. Hemphill, wet Liberal Democrat, in one of the closest gubernatorial races staged in the history of Pennsylvania, according to almost complete returns early today.

The victory of this gray-haired veteran of a hundred political wars thrust him into the national spotlight as a speculative figure for the 1932 presidential race. He won over younger Hemphill, who was making his debut as a seeker of public office, but their race remained in doubt through the night.

Claim 125,000

The Republican nominee's headquarters claimed his election up to 125,000 but at the moment, Pinchot was running at 94,000 ahead of Hemphill with 6513 precincts out of 8,221 reported. It was possible Hemphill might slightly reduce Pinchot's lead before the final vote is tabulated.

The gubernatorial race was close but the rest of the state-wide Republican ticket was swept into office by tremendous majorities. Secretary of Labor James J. Davis was elected to the senate to occupy the seat denied William S. Vare two years ago. Judge George W. Maxey of Scranton was named to the State Supreme Court and all the other Republican candidates for state offices rode to victory with them.

Democrats Gain

In the congressional fights, the Democrats scored roundly, winning four seats in all a gain of three over the single member they boast in Pennsylvania's present delegation. The Democratic victories were won in the 1st (Lockswanna), 14th (Berks-Lehigh) 22nd (York) and 30th (Montgomery) districts.

The contest between Pinchot and Hemphill overshadowed all the other contests. Between them, one versed in all the lore and witchcraft of politics, the other making his debut as a novice, they shattered a dozen precedents throughout the state. Their race also piled up a hundred new feuds to haunt Pennsylvania politicians in the future.

Amazing Strength

Pinchot won the governorship by his amazing strength in Allegheny and Dauphin counties and his powerful run in the rural communities of Central and Northern Pennsylvania. He carried Allegheny by 75,000, Dauphin by the amazing margin of 26,000 and ran like wildfire through "the central tier of agricultural counties."

Hemphill shattered all precedents within memory by turning the city of Philadelphia Democratic. In this city, he rolled up the tremendous plurality of 21,000, with some divisions still missing. No Democrat has ever approached victory in this city in the last century, let alone winning it by such a huge margin. He also carried the wet Democratic communities through Berks, Lehigh and Northampton counties, added Erie and Montgomery and ran Pinchot a close race in some western counties.

Many Bolters

While Hemphill lost, he was by no means disgraced. He ran the greatest race a Democratic candidate for governor has ever run in Pennsylvania. Indeed he may even reach the staggering total of a million votes given Alfred E. Smith in 1928, except that the latter lost by another million to Herbert Hoover and Hemphill will be but barely nosed out in this contest.

The returns demonstrated clearly that Republicans bolted to Hemphill by hundreds of thousands. Pinchot probably ran 500,000 behind the rest of his ticket in the state. This figure does not represent all the Republican bolters, because Pinchot undoubtedly won some 250,000 Democratic votes in upstate counties which would place 750,000 Republicans under Hemphill's banner.

There were shocks and sensations in the returns from various counties. The Hemphill managers received their greatest shock when reports indicated Allegheny county had remained loyal to Pinchot by a majority of around 75,000. There had been many rumors current and the Hemphill managers believed them to the last that Allegheny would bolt to Hemphill in the election. Instead Pinchot carried it by a stunning majority.

The story of Pinchot's victory can be told in a single sentence. He carried every county from the Susquehanna river to the Ohio border line, with the lone exception of Erie. He swept dry Democratic counties just as Woodrow Wilson would have done and he piled up majorities in Republican counties like a Theodore Roosevelt.

His Dauphin county majority of 26,000 was exceptional but it demonstrated his strength through the central section of the state just as his Pittsburgh victory revealed his strength in Western Pennsylvania.

Hemphill however ran a marvelous race. He carried eight counties, though the Pinchot managers had boasted before the election that he would win but one—Philadelphia. In all, he won Philadelphia by 217,000, Berks by 10,000, Lehigh by 12,000, Northampton by 4,200, Montgomery by 8,000, Erie by 3,000, and Montour and Monroe by small margins.

The bitterness of the campaign will breed political wars in the future. The bolting of hundreds of thousands of Republicans and Democrats to the opposite party standard may be felt for years to come.

Party Warfare Seen

The result in Montgomery county certainly will provoke warfare. Hemphill carried the county by around 5,000 apparently, although Pinchot's managers had predicted victory by 20,000. The result represented a clash between C. Duncan Johnson, secretary of Revenue in Governor Fisher's cabinet, just on the eve of election. Just declaring Johnson's regular Republican organization intended to "knife" Pinchot and that was what happened. There will be bitter political battling in Montgomery county for many days to come.

Pinchot won and Hemphill lost, but both men have projected themselves into the national political spotlight by their sensational race. For Hemphill, his loser's share may be a chair in the lofty councils of his party in the nation; for Pinchot it may be a race for the presidency in 1932. At least the governor, with a large proportion of the Pennsylvania delegation in back of him and with the support of the insurgent bloc in congress, will have something to say at the next Republican national convention, either as to the party platform or as to the party nominee.

STAR LORE

RELATIVE BRIGHTNESS OF THE MOON

By Arthur Dev. Carpenter
Professor Boadwin, astronomer, Cornell university, recently remarked facetiously to the writer: "The moon is a perfect nuisance."

The professor said because of the moon's interference with star observation at the observatory with his students. Of course every schoolboy and schoolgirl knows that the moon is but reflected sunlight. The moon has no radiance of its own. As determined photographically the light of the full moon is but 1-650,000 as bright as the sun, while comparison with the sun by other methods gives the moon a mean brightness of 1-455,000 with possible error of 10 per cent according to Professor Russell.

When the moon is shining brightly, all but the brightest stars disappear.

by the election of wet senators to replace drys in the senate.

(3) Ruth Hanna McCormick, the first woman to ever make a serious effort to gain the senate as the nominee of a major party, went down to crushing defeat at the hands of Col. J. Hamilton Lewis, Democratic-wet, in Illinois. Mrs. McCormick was Republican and dry.

(4) Ohio, birthplace of the Anti-Saloon League and mother of many outstanding drys, went wet and Democratic by electing Robert J. Bulkley to the senate in place of Senator Roscoe C. McCulloch, Republican-dry. A Democratic governor, dry, also was elected.

(5) Gifford Pinchot, the flaming insurgent in Pennsylvania Republicanism, dry, won the governorship of Pennsylvania despite the bolting of half the party to John M. Hemphill, Democratic-Liberal wet.

(6) Almost the last vestige of the Republican victory in the south in 28 was wiped out through the Democrats reclaiming congressional seats lost to the Republicans two years ago, and by the retirement from public life of the two chief Smith bolters—Senator Heflin in Alabama, and Senator Simmons in North Carolina.

(7) Albert C. Ritchie, Democrat, who has for ten years advocated the apparently now popular revolt against prohibition, was reelected governor of Maryland for the fourth time, a thing without precedent in the free state.

(8) Dwight W. Morrow, Republican-wet, whom many regarded as a possible Republican presidential nominee in 1932, despite his recent gesture of renunciation, secured a comparatively easy victory in his senatorial contest in New Jersey.

These were only the highlights of an election filled with outstanding developments and upsets.

The Democratic sweep knew no boundaries. It started at Cape Cod with Massachusetts electing Marcus A. Coolidge, Democratic-wet, over Ex-Senator Wm. M. Pitt-Rivers, Republican-dry, dipped into Connecticut and elected a Democratic governor, continued through New York in Roosevelt's amazing triumph, proceeded through Ohio, Indiana, and Illinois, bowling over long-sitting Republican congressmen, turned up the first Democratic senator Colorado has sent to Washington in years, swung north into Montana to reelect Senator Thomas J. Walsh of Teton Domain, and finally blew itself out in the northwest where more Republican congressmen were unseated.

The Democratic tornado left in its wake a trail of twisted and broken political hopes, and at the same time breathed the breath of life into others.

day proved on today's returns to have been almost as wet as it was Democratic.

The only three states that voted directly on the issue of prohibition turned thumbs down on it—Illinois, Massachusetts and Rhode Island—all by overwhelming majorities.

In addition, the representation in both Senate and House pledged to vote for modification or repeal of existing prohibition statutes was greatly increased.

Congress Still Dry
The Taney congress will still be dry, preponderantly so, but it will not be as dry as the present congress, and in the house particularly the wets will be in sufficient numbers as to constitute a formidable factor.

As nearly as could be judged today, the wets added between 50 and 60 to their house representation in yesterday's balloting. The present wet strength in congress—none of which was lost—amounts to 100 in round numbers. This approximately 150, or more than one-third of the house in the next congress, will be openly, avowedly and militantly dry. This does not take into account these members now rated as drys, whom the wets have already contended would abandon the dry cause if convinced that a change in public sentiment actually has taken place with regard to prohibition.

The wet bloc claimed by the association against the prohibition amendment constitutes only the prohibitionists who stand for repeal of the 18th amendment modificationists are not included.

The anti-prohibition victory revealed by Tuesday's returns had its genesis in the primaries.

Gain in Middle-West

Four of the outstanding dry spokesmen in the house, all Republicans, were defeated in the primaries—Cramton of Michigan, Hudson of Michigan, Sears of Nebraska and Dempsey of New York. Their places have been taken either by outright wets or by those committed to sympathetic consideration of it.

The solidly dry delegations in Indiana and Iowa were broken in yesterday's election. The wets gained three seats in northern Indiana, while in Iowa, in the second district, B. M. Jacobsen, Democratic-wet, unseated Rep. Lewis, Republican-dry. The gains were more pronounced in the eastern states.

Kentucky apparently holds the key to whether the Democrats actually will have numerical control of the house. Under a new and so-called "honest election law" the blue grass state does not permit the ballot boxes to be opened until the day following election. Hence the counters in Kentucky proceeded with their task today while the politicians hung breathlessly over telegraph wires for news of the outcome.

The tea table presented a handsome appearance with its dainty appointments being carried out in pink and white, a centerpiece of pink and white chrysanthemums centering the table and tall wax tapers in silver candelabra being placed at the ends, the dainty pink and white china and beautiful silver, carrying out the color effect.

Matters of importance will be discussed at this time.

Birthday Party

Honoring the 12th birthday of her daughter Edith, Mrs. Anthony Nene of Wilson avenue entertained a group of her friends in their home Monday evening to celebrate the occasion.

Games, music and stunts whiled away the leisure hours. Piano solos were given by Margaret Mary Maher that were well received. At a selected hour the hostess, assisted by Mrs. James Walsh and Miss Ruth Nene, served a delicious lunch. During the evening the guest of honor received many lovely and beautiful gifts in memory of the day.

Those present were Mary Elizabeth Wadlinger, Leona Preisel, Helen Dyer, Mary Jane Casson, Margaret Nene, Mary Louise Frazier, Nellie Graham, Betty Fee, Marie Sollers, Thelma Kienast, Virginia Lou Travers, Mary Louise Murphy, Agnes Mescall, Margaret Mary Maher, Dorothy Winterbottom, Mary Catherine Gallagher, Anita and Anthony Nene, Doris Jean Walsh, Ruth Nene, Frederick Nene, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Nene, Mrs. James Walsh and the honor guest.

Party At Volant.
Another novel party in keeping with the numbing season was the masquerade given by Miss Pearl McConnell at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McConnell of Volant, last Saturday evening.

After all guests had arrived some time was spent in guessing who came with prizes going to Eber Comman and Earl Walker. Halloween decorations predominated throughout the house, making a spooky appearance.

Music and games of a wide variety were played until a late hour when 30 guests were served with delicious refreshments by the hostess, assisted by her mother, Mrs. J. N. McConnell, Mrs. J. N. McConnell, and Mrs. C. O. McConnell. Special guest was Miss Clara Webber of New Wilmington.

Patterson Circle.
The Patterson circle of the First Presbyterian church met Tuesday evening with Miss Nemo Rayne, West Garfield avenue with Nellie Ringer and Mary Sharpe as associate hostesses.

Mrs. Catherine Dufford gave an interesting talk on "The Southern Mountains" and Mrs. Gilbert Long talked on "Siam".

The evening closed with dainty refreshments, served by the hostesses and they adjourned to meet December 2 with Ruth Sample, Mahoningtown.

Shower Honors Bride

Honoring Mrs. Richard Gwynn a bride of recent date, was honored on a recent evening when Mrs. Charles Bender of East Washington street entertained a group of friends at a miscellaneous shower.

Bridge featured the social period, with the prize for honors being awarded to Mrs. Donald Bekles. Later a lunch was served by the hostess.

Announcement of Engagement

Announcement of the engagement of Miss Katherine Redding of Pittsburgh, daughter of the late J. H. Redding, one-time superintendent of the Erie & Ashtabula division of the Pennsylvania railroad, to Thomas L. Cannon, also of Pittsburgh, has been made.

During her father's service here Miss Redding developed a large circle of friends locally.

Entertains for Class

A dinner, followed by a period devoted to games, fortune telling, radio music and a general good time, were features of the get-together held by the Sunday school taught by Kenneth Gaston at the Reformed Presbyterian church last night at The Gabies. There were nine couples present.

The dinner was sponsored for the members by Mr. Gaston.

NOW BACK TO NORMAL

BACK to normalcy was an issue in 1920. Today it is a trend. Having attended to the business of electing a new congress to the best of its ability, the nation can give its undivided attention to the equally important business of getting back on its feet economically. There are economic issues to be decided as well as political ones.

Except that they provide a safety valve for freeing some pent-up steam, which it is dangerous to confine, elections might better be dispensed with when business is in distress and millions of workers are in still greater distress due to unemployment. No man without work and with prospects of hardship could rationally exercise the right of franchise. Emotionalism mixed with politics makes an ominous brew.

However, burning issues quickly cool off after the ballots have been counted. The victorious are apt to place greater store by their majority than by the victory of their issues and the vanquished admit that the country will somehow be saved from its own folly. Elections never seem so important after the count.

This election gave us some surcease from our worries over business depression and unemployment, and now that it is over we may work a little more and worry a little less.

THE DAYS OF HEROISM ARE NOT ENDED

No less than forty-six persons in the United States and Canada have been honored this week with medals by the Carnegie Hero Fund Commission for saving the lives of others at the risk of losing their own. In every instance the act of heroism was performed without any thought of reward.

We are supposed to be living in a selfish age. As a matter of fact we have almost daily incidents of everyday life in which both men and women make great personal sacrifices for the sake of others. It is a good thing to give publicity to these incidents; they speak well for human nature and prove that the instinct to help others persists to a greater degree than is generally supposed. The world is filled with unsung heroes, and it is safe to say that the forty-six who have been decorated with the Carnegie Medal only comprise a small proportion of those who are entitled to the praise and congratulations of their fellow men and women.

PEEKING INTO SANT CLAUS'S PACK

The toy market is ever a refreshing study for the glimpse it reveals of the child's world. The Bureau of Census has just completed a report on production in 1929 which may be an indication of the 1930 assortment, when Santa Claus delivers his annual lines. Doubtless the manufacturer tries as far as possible to consult juvenile taste and anticipate juvenile demand. If a mistake is made a resultant carryover to the next year curtails the ensuing output in those numbers. Thus factory lists are not always an infallible index to consumer wants. But with due allowance for these exceptions some interesting deductions may be drawn.

A striking feature of the new offerings is the gain in wheel toys. Young America, like its parents, has become wheel conscious. The fact that doll carriages do not keep abreast in the general increase might suggest that little girls have fallen under the blight of modernism in their attitude toward the restricted size of families. Fortunately other details do not bear out the inference. A substantial increase was shown in the creation of doll parts and doll clothes. The maternal instinct, therefore, is still active. It reveals itself in essential modes. The perambulator is only a minor expression in these thoughtful habits. Grown-up couples often find the first baby carriage serves several successive passengers and the replacement market in a given family is not notable. Sometimes, indeed, a baby coach is discarded prematurely. Whether similar considerations influence the doll mother can be told only by those capable of fathoming the child mind.

There is another novel aspect to the vehicle age in Lilliput. Despite a shrinkage of $100,000 in the value of children's automobiles, 60,000 more cars were turned out than previously. Clearly this means that the lower priced product has its corresponding vogue in the realm of make-believe. The midge of the road appeals to the midge in the nursery. Probably these various manifestations are imitative heritages from the life of adults. In any event they deserve the consideration of industrialist and economist.

Folk are expecting a lot from 1931.

Now, if the Wall Street bears only hibernate when the others do.

Oh, Culture; what nonsense people profess to enjoy in thy name!

There would be fewer bones of contention if there were fewer bone-heads.

What have goose-bone weather prophets to say about "lamie-duck" congressmen?

Now that the screens are in the storeroom there are several months in which to forget which screen belongs to which window.

Blessed are the meek. How an important man suffers when the public won't share his good opinion of himself.

San Francisco's Great Bridge.
Our Homeless Native Born.
Selassie Gave A Party.

By ARTHUR G. BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1930, King Features Synd., Inc.)

Men and Women of San Francisco voted Tuesday for one of the most important and magnificent improvements ever undertaken by a great city.

The proposed Golden Gate Bridge will be not only one of the greatest but one of the most beautiful engineering achievements in the world, another proof of California's hospitable desire to make visitors welcome, and proof of San Francisco's driving power and determination to achieve.

The probable cost, $35,000,000, will be a small price to pay for one of the most useful, magnificent and beautiful structures in the world.

Those who believe that foreign immigration threatens our nation with a mob of "homeless unemployed" will be interested in statistics concerning 14,000 homeless men in New York's Bowery, questioned about their past and present by the welfare council of New York.

They were practically all native-born Americans more than 40 years old, unskilled and without any money.

Yet would find it hard to gather together 14,000 foreign-born of that type.

Marvelous, Wonderful, amazing, far beyond the adjectives of any writer of circus advertising was the crowning of Haile Selassie First, as Emperor of Abyssinia, at Addis Ababa.

The emperor, you must know, is a direct result of the visit that the Queen of Sheba paid to King Solomon. She had a baby when she came home. That baby is Selassie's ancestor. This may be mentioned as Sheba has been dead 2,000 years, and more.

The Powerful Solomon, for whom 1,000 wives were too many, would hardly recognize his emperor descendant with thin ankles, King hands, a little whiskered face, like any one of a dozen gentlemen in German restaurants.

The Emperor and his wife, powerful, heavy woman, sat up all night praying. In the morning they washed, and meanwhile the supply of water was cut off from everybody else in Addis Ababa, that it might be kept pure for the monarchs.

Abyssinian Princes wear silk, satin, gold and carried shields of rhinoceros hide and medieval swords hundreds of years old. Six snow white horses dragged the emperor in a carriage that once belonged to the German Kaiser.

The delicate emperor was almost suffocated with incense and stifling smoke from candles at the coronation in the church.

When that was over the bearded priests danced a wild dance in front of the church, swaying their bodies violently to the music of drums and cymbals.

Then the emperor sat on a high platform, out of doors, to be seen and cheered, with four wild roaring lions fastened with ropes to the platform. With their beautiful golden manes they were supposed to be guardians of the throne of Ethiopia, descendants of the lion of Judah. They would have eaten the emperor, if they could have got him.

Finally, the emperor fed 25,000 of his tribesmen with the raw meat of 5,000 head of cattle, and as much as they could drink of wine made of fermented honey.

It was a real party.

STICK TO THE JOB

Do not be swayed by every breeze. To every impulse do not bend. Who gains his purpose by degrees? He who waits for the end. This better patiently to climb. And stand sure-footed at the crest. Than to evade the price of time. And at the last, be dispossessed.

Stick to your job and learn it well. Of change for petty gain beware; Do no life-long glory sell. For one brief year of morning's fair.

If you are given a task to do. Keep this in mind from day to day: Success is just as close to you As to some taller far away.

Be not content with seeming wise. The future is a hidden book. The trout, deceived by gaudy flies, Is caught upon the angler's hook. So men from this to that will race, Grasping at every lure they see. But those who walk at slower pace Make friends with opportunity.

Stick to your job whatever it be; The better post is near at hand. In wisdom lies your destiny; Success can find you where you stand.

From rung to rung the ladder climb. Beware the blind, foolhardy leap; Learn from experience and time. And what you gather you shall keep. (Copyright, 1930, Edgar A. Guest)

Effect Of Brazil's Overtune Is Considered By Americans

Relations Between This Country And The New Government In South America Are Discussed By Press Of The United States.

Many Americans are wondering what policy the United States will follow as to recognition of a new government in Brazil and what the effect of the revolution will be on the relations between this country and the new government.

On this point the WORCESTER DAILY TELEGRAPH thinks the United States has not always shown a consistent policy, and it considers that while the "re-establishment of more friendly and more intimate relations with Latin America is a most commendable purpose," all our advances are likely to be accepted with reserve until we can establish a policy which makes it definitely clear that we do not bully to the north of the isthmus and conduct to the south of it until we ally the suspicions of such little peoples as still think us rapacious and the suspicions of such greater peoples as still think that our councils with them are the councils of foxes.

The ALBANY KNICKERBOCKER PRESS is convinced that it is to the interest of the United States to show to Europe that this nation is not seeking hegemony over a hemisphere. And it is markedly and unquestionably to the interest of our growing trade in South America to show that we are not interfering in favor either side in a contest of arms for the control of government in any South American country.

THE QUAKER OF IT.
For the first time in its history, our country has a Quaker President. Much interest has been shown in the little church, almost unknown until last year, which President Hoover attends in Washington. Because of the Quaker custom of allowing any one to speak in the services who feel so disposed, it was realized that cracks and prophecies might take advantage of their opportunity to harangue or otherwise embarrass the President.

It was therefore thought best to secure a pastor and to follow a more formal order than had been the custom. But the church still has no pulpit, organ or choir, and the service is made up of alternate prayers and talks with an occasional song.

The prayers are silent prayers. Only about 400 worshippers can be accommodated with comfort in the little church.

NOTHING UNDER THE SUN
Is profitable to a nation if it undermines the character of its citizens.

Can help the man who makes no effort on his own behalf.

Can make a town great which sacrifices children to factories.

Is accidental to the man who has dedicated his life to becoming a great soul.

Ever defeats the man who always renews the battle.

Is too small for God to notice if it gives us trouble.

Can ever be profitable enough to repay us for selling our convictions.

We traveled in the print of olden wars.

Under the leadership of Attorney Harry H. Frank, General Chairman of the Allied Jewish Campaign in this District, plans are progressing rapidly for New Castle's participation in the Campaign which is now engaged in a National fund raising effort to raise six million dollars for the American Jewish Joint Distribution Committee's constructive work on behalf of the destitute Jews of Eastern Europe, and for the program of the Jewish Agency for Palestine to aid in the development of a Jewish Homeland.

The local campaign will open with a mass meeting in The Castle on Sunday afternoon, November 9, 1950 at 2 o'clock. Judge William S. Lewis, of Philadelphia, 2nd Chairman of the National Campaign, will outline the purpose of the Drive, how the forces allied and how the money will be distributed. Civic leaders in the District will also address the meeting.

This is the first Joint National Campaign by the Jews of this country for the welfare of the Jews of Eastern Europe and for the upbuilding of Palestine. Former campaigns were conducted separately. Agreement to conduct a unified fund raising effort was effected at a National conference in Washington on March 8th-9th to which President Hoover sent his message of praise, in which, among other things, he said: "The work which you have done, apart from its humanitarian aspects, is a large contribution to the cause of Good Will between people."

Following is the personnel of the local organization as announced today by Chairman Harry H. Frank, Esquire:

Honorary Chairman, Dr. Eliah Kaplan; Vice Chairman, L. Kohn; Ben Kline; Louis Sandler, J. F. Perelman; Secretary, Nathan Love; Treasurer, L. Ruzewich; Publicity Chairman, Jack Gerson; Dr. H. A. "Just A Step Ahead"

Davis Extended Great Plurality

Secretary Davis Receives
Huge Majority Over
Kistler In Senate
Fight

MOST CONVINCING
FOR MANY YEARS

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 5.—Secretary of Labor James J. Davis who came to this country as the son of a Welsh immigrant only a few years ago and rose from the ranks to serve in the cabinets of three presidents, today was swept into the United States senate by one of the largest votes ever given to any candidate for any office by Pennsylvania citizens.

With more than half of the state's 3,321 districts reported shortly after one o'clock this afternoon, Secretary Davis was credited with a lead ratio of almost three-to-one over his Democratic opponent, Sedgwick Kistler.

At that time the vote, based on 5,957 scattered precincts throughout the state, gave:
Davis 1,035,482.
Kistler 375,068.

Davis' victory was one of the most convincing ever to be won by a Pennsylvania candidate for a federal post. Philadelphia sent the former iron puddler away into the rural regions with a substantial majority which was steadily increased throughout the night and during today. The issue was never in doubt but the every size of Davis' majority was breath-taking.

In only one county was Kistler successful in his campaign and that was in his home county of Clinton which he carried by a narrow margin of slightly more than one thousand votes.

Soviet Timber Trust Seeks New Markets

Experience Difficulty In Getting Products Loaded At Home Port

(International News Service)
LENNINGRAD, Nov. 5.—While "Exporters" of the Soviet Timber Trust, is looking for new markets in South America following the ban on Soviet timber in the United States, it is experiencing difficulties with dockworkers in the Leningrad port. Thousands of men loaded sawn timber on ships are reported to have gone on strike and deserted their jobs so that foreign shipowners threatened to sue for damages entailed by the delays in waiting for cargoes to be loaded. The trust has now appealed to the regional executive committee of Leningrad to commandeer unskilled laborers from factories and mills to replace the deserting longshoremen. The number of young Communists and even professional men who volunteered to load timber on their days off has not proved sufficient.

A similar exodus of laborers took place from the lumber camps along the White sea, because the workers couldn't find enough to eat and preferred to go back to their farms and help their wives with the field work. The official figures, published in the newspaper Economic Life, stated that 24,000 lumberjacks had thrown up their jobs.

Neely Gets Large Majority Vote In W. Virginia

(International News Service)
CHARLESTON, W. Va., Nov. 5.—Matthew M. Neely, Democratic candidate for United States Senator in West Virginia, had piled up a plurality of more than 113,000 votes over his Republican opponent James E. Jones, in returns tabulated from more than one-half of the state today.

West Virginia is normally Republican by a majority of 55,000 votes. The political campaign of Neely and Jones was one of the most spectacular in the history of the state. Neely is a former senator. Jones is a switchback coal operator. Both of the candidates were endorsed by the West Virginia Anti-Saloon League.

Educator Asks Radio Channel For School Use

Would Reserve Fifteen Per Cent For Use Of Schools

(International News Service)
ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 5.—Schoolhouses soon may be as obsolete as the blue-back speller, if congress approves the proposal of Dr. Willis A. Sutton, president of the National Education Association to reserve fifteen percent of all broadcasting channels for use of schools.

This first step toward a scholastically synthetic era in which the youth of the nation will get its education in the home without ever seeing the teacher has been proposed by Dr. Sutton to Senator J. H. McCalister of Rhode Island and Congressman Daniel A. Reed, of New York, chairman of the committee on education in the two houses.

Dr. Sutton's plan was considered and approved at a conference of officials of the National Education Association and directors of educational institutions now operating broadcast stations.

It was formulated after Dr. Sutton, who is superintendent of Atlanta schools, had studied the effects of radio education in city schools here, all of which for the past three years have been equipped with receiving sets which bring to the student bodies talks and educational features which relate to work of the school room.

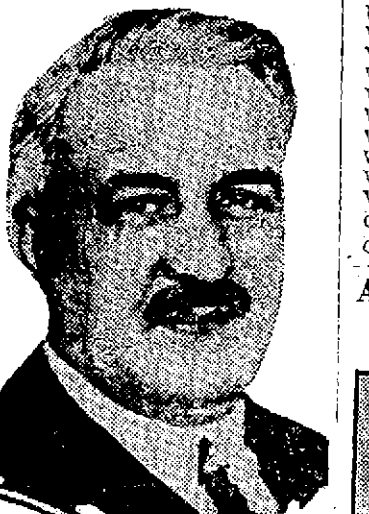

"Of course, it is far distant, but no one can say that the education of the future will not be conducted wholly through broadcasting and without schoolrooms or classes," Dr. Sutton said. "The air already is an invaluable aid to the schoolroom and now is the time to reserve for the nation's schools a portion of the public domain of the air."

Crime Investigator Gets Thief In Home

Keeps Intruder Prisoner For Several Hours For Questioning

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—When Mark O. Prentiss, who helped organize the National Crime Commission, came home to find a burglar in his Park Avenue apartment, he was so delighted he kept the intruder for two hours to question him about his life.

The thief was grabbing everything in sight when Prentiss quietly let himself in. At the point of a cane sword Prentiss invited the man into his drawing room.

Prodded with both questions and cane sword, the thief squirmed uncomfortably in his chair. Prentiss was amused that the man had chosen the apartment of an organizer of the crime commission for the scene of a burglary but the burglar was visibly annoyed, and not less so when Prentiss substituted a bit of the unwieldy cane sword.

Prentiss made the man demonstrate how he broke in the apartment. Then he called the police.

"He didn't look a bit like the popular conception of a burglar," said Prentiss afterwards. "He was a fine looking chap, nicely dressed and neat as a pin. He looked like a good salesman."

Discussion Group To Meet In Trinity

Friday evening will mark the first meeting of a discussion group in the Trinity Episcopal church, beginning at 8 o'clock, with Rev. P. C. Pearson in charge.

"What are the fundamental principles of the Christian Religion?" will be the theme of the service and Rev. Philip C. Pearson offers to the public the opportunity to consider the one thing which is this day, determines whether or not a place is fit to live in, namely, its Christian standards.

NOTES OF TROOP "F" 103RD CAVALRY OF NEW CASTLE

When Charles D. Gibson of R. D. 5, leaves for Harrisburg on the 13th of this month to take the preliminary entrance examination for West Point, every guardsman will wish him good fortune. Gibson has passed the rigid physical exam required by the state before the entrance can be taken at the state capitol building.

The gathering of city, county and state celebrities at the troop banquet, will be for the purpose of holding a booster meeting to show the visiting military authorities the desirability of an armory in this city, according to the invitations sent today.

L. B. Round sent several invitations himself, he said today. Mr. Round's activities are varied. Known to the troop principally for his interest in local guard activities, he is also interested in Sunday school work and civic welfare. Today he meets with the Municipal Golf Committee to plan future improvements for the Municipal course.

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

This column will be a bit abbreviated today, due to the exigencies of the day after election. On such a day, ordinary news has to take second place to the returns from other cities and states. Local tables must be compiled, and the editorial crew is usually a sad eyed crowd after an all night vigil with figures and telephones.

Short as it is going to be, the column would be lacking if I did not insert a paragraph of appreciation for the very nice thing you did for me yesterday. The returns indicate that considerable roaming will be done in Harrisburg next Spring, and only because you were kind enough to say so with your ballots. Thanks, and one's fingers cannot seem to pound out the proper words of appreciation, but inside, way down deep, there is that feeling which Briggs describes as "grand and glorious." Thank you.

The weatherman was kind last night to those of us who had to check precincts for the totals of the election. The "three musketeers" were out as usual, consisting of Tommy Blake, Billy Williams and the conductor, and if you heard an automobile roaring past, your home this morning with strange noises emanating from it, be assured it was nothing serious. Merely Billy Williams singing Mother Machree.

As usual, the first precinct of the seventh ward was in with its complete returns early. This board has the distinction of being the first board in the city to be composed entirely of women. It has been this way for a number of years and by now it's tradition that mere man hasn't a chance to get on.

And if the ladies promise not to blush, we'll suggest that it at any time the city authorities want to start a school for election board work, the first precinct of the seventh ward would make an ideal classroom. The girls know their work, do it quickly and accurately and are to be congratulated.

Squire Cooper of the Eighth Ward has a mystery on his hands. One as deep as the murders in the Rue Morgue, or who kidnapped Charley Ross. This mystery is an owl, a screech owl, one of the feathered family that hoots at you.

Tuesday morning the squire walked out into his yard and found the owl, quite dead. "He seems to be quite breathing and hooting. Not a sign of violence on him, not a gunshot wound, nothing except that the owl was dead. Now the squire is trying to figure out whether the owl committed suicide, whether it accidentally bumped into a wall, or whether some hunter tossed it into the yard as he went by.

Most of us always have time to stop and watch a crew of brick droppers at work. They are busy on North street today, dropping brick and are showing a lot of speed. Must be an art, or a science. And you'd be surprised at the nice people who stop and encourage the boys on with their moral support.

The annual ingathering of the Needlework Guild takes place in the Castleton Hotel starting tomorrow. Take a few minutes off and drop in and see for yourself what this Guild means. It's an inspiration just to see what they have done, and you are urged to stop there on your way downtown.

No overhead, no membership expenses, no dinners or teas to come out of the proceeds. Nothing except new clothing for needy people and many a little life will be warm this winter because some Needlework Guild member did her bit.

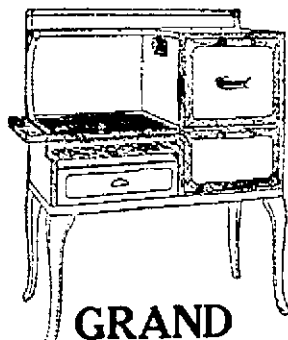

While Butler avenue is being used, the work is not all done. The curbing is being laid and this will take several days to complete.

GIRL SCOUTS

TROOP 8

Troop 8 Girl Scouts met on Tuesday evening at 7:30 at the Arthur McGill school, with their leader, Mrs. A. Rigby in charge. Regular routine business affairs were taken care of and new patrol leaders were chosen. It was decided to have meetings on every Wednesday night at 7:30 then on Tuesday nights. A short dramatization period was held and folk dancing was enjoyed in the gymnasium. Eight new members were added to the troop last evening.

The troop will meet Wednesday, November 12.

The Parent Problem

by GARRY C. MYERS, Ph.D.

Well Chosen Material With Directed Reading Will Aid Group Study

Finding Trained Leader Sometimes Difficult For Parents Meeting Regularly To Solve Problems

Head, Division of Parental Education,
Cleveland College, Western
Reserve University

There are many groups of parents who meet at regular intervals to study the child in relation to the home, the church, the school and the community. Such groups are forming in increasing numbers. Parents in these groups are earnest people, eagerly attempting to improve themselves as parents. A problem which confronts such study groups is leadership. Where may we get someone who is trained well enough for a leader? Sometimes such a person is available; often not. If, however, the group has very simple, well selected materials with directed readings, they can get a good deal, even if they lack leaders with much training. Of course, good study materials with good leaders are most desirable.

Several years ago the Ohio Congress of Parents and Teachers requested me to prepare a pamphlet, to be used by study groups. I did so calling it "Six Programs for Child Study Groups." Many thousand copies were distributed free throughout the state, the country, and into many parts of the world. There were several printings.

Mrs. Myers and I have just revised this pamphlet bringing up to date the book lists to date with page references.

The subjects covered are fears, anger, jealousy, children's lies, and property habits (stealing) and there is a habit scale which Mrs. Myers constructed for guiding parents in checking children's habits.

This pamphlet you may have in limited quantities for your study group, by writing Mrs. Ethel Peters Simon, State Office, State Department of Education, Columbus, O. We got no pay for writing it. We are happy to discover that it has been useful to many hundred study groups and to many thousand parents who wish to have their reading and studying guided at home.

I am constantly informed that many study groups are using my column in the paper for group discussion. Some mothers say they are making scrap books of the articles. Those who do have a wide variety of simple materials on the preschool, six and twelve, and adolescent ages, I shall be glad to answer questions through these columns for individuals or for groups. Those who wish to have a personal reply should write me in care of this paper, enclosing stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Considerable free study group material may be had of the U. S. government by writing a postcard to Department of Interior, one to the Department of Labor and one to the Department of Agriculture.

Clendening Gives Rules For Gaining

Eat Five Small Meals A Day To Increase Your Weight

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
A dietetic authority gave these ten rules for gaining weight:

1. Have a complete physical examination by a competent physician, to be sure there is no organic disorder causing your underweight.
2. Calm yourself. "Learn to accept the trivial annoyances and small misfits of life as a matter of course. To give them attention beyond their deserts is to wear the web of your life to the warp." (Hubbard).
3. Sleep. Resistance is lowered as much by the lack of sufficient sleep as by another factor. All you can soak into your system in 24 hours is not too much. Fresh air, of course.
4. Exercise. Great muscular exercise should be avoided, but the ordinary setting-up exercises, begun with moderation and gradually increased, will stimulate appetite and help the body function to be better performed.
5. Don't talk too much. Delete the details.
6. Have a rest period in the daytime, if possible.
7. Avoid tea, coffee, nicotine and other stimulants.
8. Eat. Count your calories. Gradually work up from 500 to 1,000 calories more than your maintenance diet if you want to gain from one-eighth to one-quarter of a pound a day. You should have a foundation diet and add gradually one half to one pint of cream; two to three egg yolks daily (high in iron and fat and vitamin A); increase your butter, potatoes and other high calorie foods.
9. Eat. Stretch your stomach! You will find that if your stomach is stretched to care for more food you will begin to care for it, too.

10. Eat.
The only criticism I have with this set of instructions is the emphasis laid on over-eating. As explained in yesterday's article, the constitutionally thin person does not necessarily gain when more food is added to the diet. The most important part of the system is in the accessory factors, such as rest periods after eating and exercises to strengthen the abdominal muscles, thus creating conditions of extra need for food.

Particular instructions for the kind of food to eat are as follows:
You should have five meals a day, as each one is small and you need extra nourishment.
The best foods for you are broiled tender meats, such as chicken, turkey, guinea fowl, steak, roast beef, bacon, lamb chops, oysters and fish. Avoid veal, broiled ham, pork and fried meat generally, as being tough and difficult to digest. Vegetables in any form except fried, soups, salad and light desserts are good. Have your bread toasted. Avoid spices, pickles, soggy puddings, tough articles, uncooked articles, except oranges and grape fruit. (Other fruits should be cooked.) Drink a glass of cool cream in the middle of the morning, middle of the afternoon and before going to bed.

(Editor's Note: A new pamphlet, "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes," by Dr. Clendening, can be obtained by sending 10 cents in coin and a self-addressed, stamped envelope, to Dr. Logan Clendening, in care of this paper, or Central Press Association, 1435 E. Twelfth street, Cleveland, O. The pamphlet on "Hygiene of Women" also is available for 10 cents.)

CLUB GROUPS MEET MONDAY OF NEXT WEEK

Interest Groups Of Benjamin Franklin Girl Reserve Activities Underway

The Monday evening meeting of the Benjamin Franklin Girl Reserve club to be held at the junior high school building promises to be of even more than usual interest.

It will be an "Interest Group" meeting, a time when the girls will divide off into groups of dramatics, handicraft, etc., and work out novel projects that interest them. When the groups are organized, several weeks ago, the members of the club joined what ever tribe in which they were most interested.

Miss Eva Coulter, faculty advisor to the club, announces that the following groups will meet. Some of them are just new groups and promise to be quite popular with the girls.

Handicraft group will start out at the next meeting in "soap carving." Miss Ruth Johnson, one of the members, and Miss Margaret Guy, a teacher, will instruct.

Two candy-making groups will meet—one group will be in charge of Miss Marion Campbell and Miss Agnes Carven and the other group in charge of Miss Ruth Sample and Mae Sands.

Miss Dorothy Cain, of the senior Girl Reserve club and Miss Elizabeth Beeler will instruct the group in dancing.

Dramatics group will be under the supervision of Miss Ruth Lewis.

Leather tooling group will be instructed by Miss Jean Jackson, a member of the Highland avenue school faculty.

Miss Eleanor Busang, city nurse, will instruct a group in first aid and health.

In addition to above mentioned divisions of the Girl Reserve club, a girl's basketball team is being organized by Miss Helen Maloney, and quite a number of the club members have shown enthusiasm about this branch of work. This class in basketball will be conducted every Thursday afternoon.

John McCandless will be in charge of a swimming class for the Franklin Girl Reserves interested. This group will meet every Friday afternoon for a dip in the Benjamin Franklin school swimming pool.

Miss Coulter announces that the basketball group will meet on Thursday, November 6 and the swimming group will meet on Friday, November 7.

Other groups meet Monday, November 10, and every other Monday from then on through the year.

FOREST SERVICE WARNS AGAINST GLUTTING CHRISTMAS TREE MARKET

An adequate supply of evergreen trees to cheer American homes at Christmas time is in prospect. The cutting of trees has already begun in the northern tier of states. In response to numerous inquiries the forest service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture says that Christmas tree cutting need not necessarily deplete the forests, if the cutting is carefully done and only surplus young growth not needed for maintaining full stands of timber is taken.

That the joy brought by Christmas trees may be undimmed by possible losses to farmers, the forest service offers a word of warning against hasty cutting of trees with the expectation of unusual markets. Christmas trees from farm woodlands are frequently a source of added income to the farmer, but he is likely to regret it if he ignores the law of supply and demand.

Find a market with a responsible buyer before doing any heavy cutting of trees for sale, is the forest service's advice, based upon the experience of farmers in various localities in past years when uncounted thousands of fine trees had to be consigned to the dump because of glutted markets. Indiscriminate cutting and peddling seldom pays. Especially in the larger cities, farmers must compete with large commercial shipments from northern forests.

There are two or three points in favor of local trees, says the forest service. They are generally fresher and retain their leaves better than earlier harvested evergreens shipped from a distance. Local contacts can be made ahead of time and orders taken. If the trees are cut from crowded stands as a thinning operation, and if the farmer can get sufficient return for his labor, Christmas tree cutting may bring the farmer some extra cash—very acceptable in a short-crop year—and also leave the woods in better shape for future growth. The farmer will gain by cutting discriminately, leaving the most vigorous trees to grow into valuable timber. Thinning where there are over-crowded, and taking inferior, stunted or crooked trees, the crowns of which are often admirably suitable for Christmas decorations.

Forest service men find that often in dense stands several thousand young saplings may exist on an acre of ground, on which only a few hundred can ever mature. Christmas tree cutting, then, may aid tree culture.

Firs, spruces, pines and cedars, in the order named, lead in popularity. For wreaths and fancy greens, almost any species of evergreen will serve. Logging and pulpwood cutting of spruces, firs and other evergreens make available for the Christmas trade the tops and branches of many thousands of trees.

Public forests and farms every year suffer greatly from depredations by Christmas tree cutters, especially from thefts by motorists along roadsides. Even cemeteries and parks are not immune. Many fine trees are ruined by the thief who takes out the tops. The forest service strongly condemns this form of vandalism, which results in considerable losses to owners of woodlands and mars the scenic beauty of the highways.

BEAUTYREST MATTRESS $39.50

Acc Box Spring to match, $42.50

STORIES come to us from all quarters. You've read the praise that well-known people have publicly given to this famous Beautyrest mattress.

But some of the most enthusiastic letters we have had have been from quite humble people to whom this "marvelous night's rest" after a hard day's work means more than you can imagine.

Instead of the old stuffed mattress which would pack down into hard hollows—hundreds of tiny resilient coils buried between layers of softest cushioning.

OVER A MILLION people already own this superb mattress. And every day in the year nearly a thousand more families purchase Beautyrests.

It's as far an advance in comfort over the old-style mattress as the modern armchair is over the old-fashioned horse-hair sofa!

Good Weather Is Needed By State In Road Program

Several Weeks Of Favorable Weather Necessary To Finish 1930 Program

LITTLE WORK TO BE CARRIED OVER

(Special To The News)
HARRISBURG, Nov. 5.—Several weeks of favorable weather are needed by the highway department in order to reach its goal of 1300 miles of road constructed during the present season. Unless unusually severe weather sets in officials are reasonably sure of attaining the mark set at the beginning of the year.

The latest figures compiled by the department show 1225.83 miles of new road built by the department's field forces and also under contract. The weekly construction records are now under the thirty-mile figure as against fifty and sixty miles every seven days during the summer.

Most of the new road being laid at present is macadam surface. Last week out of 25.5 miles completed 18.58 miles were macadam and the remainder concrete.

200 Contracts In Force
When plans were made last winter for the 1930 construction season the department fixed 1000 miles as the total mileage to be completed under contract and 300 miles by departmental field forces. Since construction started this spring 977.48 miles of new road have been finished under contract and 248.35 miles by department forces.

There will be little highway work done during the winter months. Last fall the department carried over under contract several hundred miles in uncompleted projects. On many of these jobs contractors were able to go ahead with the rough grading work.

The department has 200 contracts in force and many of them will be finished before the close of the season.

son. A road letting is being planned for next month. This will not contain any major road projects and the mileage involved is small.

Few people realize the fact that Mr. Wibert is a resident of our city at the present time, which means that a noteworthy addition has been made to the musicians of the district.

The recital will take place from 7 p. m. until 7:30 p. m. It is planned for the time that the crowd will be assembling for the evening meeting to be addressed by Congressman John E. Rankin of Tupelo, Miss.

John M. Hemphill Concedes Defeat

Defeated Democratic Nominee For Governorship
Congratulates Pinchot

DEMOCRATS WELL PLEASED BY VOTE

(International News Service)
WEST CHESTER, Pa., Nov. 5.—With the single word "congratulations" in a telegram to Gifford Pinchot, his successful Republican opponent, John M. Hemphill today conceded he had lost his fight for the governorship of Pennsylvania.

In a longer statement made public earlier, Hemphill had expressed the hope that the Republicans and Democrats who united with him in the battle against prohibition would continue their efforts to secure repeal of the amendment and the enforcement act.

Collins Issues Statement.
HARRISBURG, Pa., Nov. 5.—In a statement issued here today, John R. Collins, state Democratic chairman, said:

"I concede the election of Gifford Pinchot by a narrow margin and the election of the balance of the Republican state ticket. We did our best to overcome the registered Republican majority of better than two million but we couldn't stand up against the lavish use of money in the last few days of the campaign.

"However, the Democrats will set four or five congressmen in Pennsylvania, we will have the same number of seats in the state senate and will have increased our membership in the legislature by 12 or 13.

"It was not a bad fight. I feel that the Democratic party is more solidly united than ever and that the start we made this year, our excellent state ticket and our constructive state platform will mean much for the future strength and fighting condition of the Democratic party. I feel deeply grateful to the thousands of loyal party workers and the press of the state for the support given the state organization in its efforts."

Four of the children attend school and the only clothing they possessed prior to going to the Salvation Army, was the clothing they had on and it was about as good as nothing at all. The same was true of the rest of the family.

The Salvation Army fitted them out as far as possible but lacked some of the essential articles of clothing in its supply of second hand clothing.

Should any person desire to assist this particular family, the Salvation Army would be glad to call for and deliver direct to this family anything that might be donated.

Richards Wins For Assembly

Republican Candidate Is Re-elected Over Ira M. Ramsey

THIRD ELECTION
FOR MR. RICHARDS

BART RICHARDS

Carrying the first, second, fourth, fifth and eighth wards, Bart Richards, Republican candidate for General Assembly from the first district of Lawrence county (New Castle) defeated Ira M. Ramsey, Democrat, in the Tuesday, Nov. 4, election by 761 votes, polling 3,734 votes to his Democratic opponent's 2,973.

His election on Tuesday makes the third consecutive time Mr. Richards has been elected to the General Assembly from New Castle, and is the second time Mr. Ramsey has been defeated for the office, losing in 1928.

While there were no outward signs of a campaign until a week or 10 days before the election, an intensive fight was waged by Mr. Ramsey from that time on, and his vote in some precincts, particularly in the sixth and seventh wards, indicate his efforts. He also carried the third ward by a narrow margin.

Morrow's Lead Mounts Steadily

Estimate Dwight Morrow Will 'Win Senate Fight By Plurality Of 180,000

(International News Service)
TRENTON, N. J., Nov. 5.—Dwight W. Morrow's plurality in the New Jersey senatorial election, climbed rapidly as late returns were piled on today, and with only 458 districts missing out of 3325 it was indicated Morrow would lead by 180,000.

This indication is much nearer the plurality forecast for the West Republican, Morrow, as early returns came in. Republican leaders had seen Morrow's lead dwindle to about half what had been predicted. But his Democratic opponent, Alexander Simpson, fell behind as the latest figures read: Morrow, 494,461; Simpson, 327,559, giving Morrow a lead of 166,902 and indicating it would increase to 180,000.

He should make an able representative for his district. As an attorney he has had many years of experience. As counsel for boros and school boards he is thoroughly familiar with the codes governing them and should fit in splendidly in the General Assembly.

Eickett, formerly of Ellwood City who is now residing in Monessen, Pa., where he was transferred by the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie railroad with which company he is employed.

Mayor Walker To Select Opponent For Charity Game

New York U. Will Meet Either Utah Or Western Maryland For Unemployed Fund

(International News Service)

Officials of New York University said the violets would be glad to meet either Utah or Western Maryland but pointed out that the New York College had merely offered to play for charity and that selection of the violet's opponent was entirely up to the mayor's committee.

Mayor Walker was expected to make an announcement concerning the game today or tomorrow.

Laying Brick In North Street

Thoroughfare To Be Open For Traffic Within Few Days

Woods & Golder employees today commenced laying brick on North street between East street and Neshannock avenue and according to F. F. Miller, engineer for the city the work should be completed and the thoroughfare open to traffic this week.

The work was expedited through the contractor and the city engineer. The concrete was poured and wheelbarrows were used, rather than trucks, to place the cushion of sand on the cement base. The brick was hauled in trucks from Bessemer and the brick laying started this morning.

The brick is being laid from East street, east to the intersection of Neshannock avenue which has been paved.

The thoroughfare was widened two and one-half feet on each side. The old paving was of brick material.

EATING "DUCK SOUP" TO ENGLISH CHAMPION

(International News Service)
NEWCASTLE, Eng., Nov. 5.—Henry Chepwell, champion eater of the north of England, is about to sit down to a momentous meal when his championship will be seriously challenged.

Henry is, as he says openly, terribly "set" about this contest. Hard things have been said of him by the local miners who claim that he is only a "cheap" champion. It seems that he bases his claims on the same this without the slightest fact that, after going home and having his dinner and supper, all he did was to eat a miserable pie made of steak and kidney and weighing only a wretched eight pounds.

Accordingly, Henry, very rightly, has asked for a real test and good sportsmen are seeing that he has his opportunity. The proprietor of a local hostelry is having a pie weighing 14 pounds specially cooked and Henry, in full view of the public, is prepared to sit down and consume this without the slightest reservation. He has also undertaken to consume all the liquid refreshment wherewith the jolly landlord of the inn is prepared to supply him.

The local fans will gather in force for the contest and admit freely that if Henry carries out his promises they will seriously consider his claims to the ancient title of "Biggest Eater of the North."

There is now a household commonplace to regulate humidity. It isn't called an ameliorator.

Bo Broadway

by JOSEPH VAN RAALTE

By Central Press
NEW YORK, Nov. 5—Looks like Romance would never die.

Right in the heart of the business depression—or "trade recession" as they prefer to call it in Wall Street—a young man out of work sticks up a little side-wheel millinery shop in New York, relieves the comely female proprietor of thirty bucks and then sends her a bunch of American beauty roses with the proceeds.

REVISION IN ORDER

A wandering minstrel—a stripling youth accompanied by another troubadour bearing a lute, invaded the back yard of a sixteen-story apartment house in Harlem the other afternoon, and elevating his clear tenor voice to a height of about nine feet, broadcast the fact that he was "dancing with tears in his eyes." Someone called a cop. A chase ensued. The lad with the lute faded into obscurity, but the other one—the singer with the sideburns, having dissipated his lung power in song, was in no shape to qualify in a foot race and landed in jail.

O. Henry voiced the belief that "there never will be an end to the troubadours."

If the Old Master were roaming the town today it may be he would revise his estimate.

THE DIGNIFIED PRO

For years I have labored under the belief that butlers, like poets, are born, not made.

That pained and disdainful expression of aloofness they all affect, must be, it seemed, an endowment at birth—an attribute of the cradle. It didn't appear possible that any set of men on this earth could be as doggone dignified as the least butler looks.

But it seems I'm all wet.

Glancing aloft on Lexington Avenue the other day I encountered the following sign: "School For Butlers."

MATERIAL

I was telling a newspaper friend about the School for Butler remarking that a man can't hang on to any kind of fancy these days.

Instead of sympathizing with me in my disillusion, he remarked:

"If a fellow spent a week in that school he'd get a helluva swell 'Sunday story!'"

The Eminent Motor Magnate of Detroit has a new book on the market under his name—"Moving Forward."

I don't know whether Brother Ford writes his own stuff.

On one or two occasions, having "ghost written" for a Bigwig or two, I'm naturally suspicious when I see the name of a prominent financier, or manufacturer, affixed to the title page of a book, a magazine or newspaper article.

If Hank writes his own stuff more power to him. There are several gems in "Moving Forward." One in particular deals with mergers.

Henry has never favored the merger idea. He characterizes it in the following paragraph:

"No lamp posts have been provided for weak or over stimulated business to cling to, so they are apt to cling to one another. The embrace is called a merger."

DULL TIMES

One of the depressing aspects of the "trade recession" is the number of self-appointed specialists who have climbed to the housetops to prophesy a dreary diagnosis of the difficulty.

We all have a pretty good idea of what caused the headache. While we need more than anything else in the world, at this minute, is a velvet-footed and self-effacing seer with a great, big tray full of ice-cold, economic tomato juice cocktails.

Oh, boy!

MORE TRUTH

There's a little moth-eaten wobbly little show on Broadway in which the following line is spoken:

"Nobody can ruin a play like an author."

And every time the line is uttered the audience breaks into sincere applause.

Davis Sweeps Through City

SWICK ELECTED; HAS NO OPPOSITION

One of those "old fashioned Republican majorities" was piled up in the City of New Castle by the state wide candidates on the Republican ticket in the election of Tuesday, November 4th. While the contest was put up by the Democrats for their state wide candidates, yet it was thought that perhaps the Hemphill vote might carry the other candidates to a respectable showing. This did not materialize and the Democratic candidates were snowed under.

For the United States Senate James J. Davis polled 5373 votes in New Castle (all precincts reported), to 1955 for Sedwick Kistler, the Democrat. For lieutenant-governor General Edward C. Shannon, Republican candidate polled 4602, to 1127 for Guy K. Bard, Democratic candidate.

Similar Judge Majorities
Similar overwhelming majorities were piled up for the Republican candidates for justice of the supreme court and judges of the superior court. For supreme court, Judge George W. Maxey polled 4772, to 1101 for Judge Henry C. Niles. For judge of the superior court (two to elect), Judge William B. Linn, an incumbent, polled 4814, while Judge James B. Drew, polled 4636. Both were on the Republican ticket. On the Democratic ticket, Judge Aaron E. Redner polled 661 votes, and George F. Douglas 833.

For congress the present incumbent, Dr. J. Howard Swick, Republican, had no opposition on any ticket and polled 6425 votes. For secretary of internal affairs, Philip H. Dewey, Republican, polled 4749 votes while Lucy D. Winston, Democrat polled 493 votes.

Secretary Davis Wears Big Smile

Successful Candidate For Senate Seat Is Very Happy

JAMES J. DAVIS
(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 5.—With a broad smile on his face, James J. Davis, secretary of labor in the cabinets of three Presidents—Harding, Coolidge and Hoover—sat in Republican headquarters here Tuesday night and listened to the uninterrupted flow of election returns that presaged his matriculation into the United States Senate.

As county after county throughout the state reported huge majorities for "Puddler Jim", the former iron worker relaxed enough from his habitual reticence to say: "I am grateful for my election, which seems assured on the face of the returns. I came from the people. I have always served the people, and I will continue to serve them."

Voting Machines Lose In New Castle

Vote Is Against Use of Machines In New Castle By Big Margin.

New Castle will not use voting machines for some time, the proposal to install them in this city losing on Tuesday, November 4th, by the following vote, Yes 315, No 3853. There was little campaigning done for the proposal to install machines, friends of the idea preferring to present it to the people and allow them to use their own judgment without any high pressure campaign. Opponents of the idea fought it vigorously and were successful, although only about 70 per cent of the voters who went to the polls on Tuesday registered any choice in the matter.

Shading

Important In Drawing. Says Jack Sords

This is another lesson in the national cartoon contest of Central Press.

By JACK SORDS

Famous Sports Cartoonist

In doing a cartoon always be sure that your shading is BALANCED. Balancing shading or color, as the artists call it, is of prime importance in a drawing. By balancing shading I mean arranging the darker portions of your drawing so that the picture gives a balanced appearance. Here are two examples of good balance of shading. Note that the darker parts of the picture are arranged so they virtually alternate with the lighter parts. This is good balance. Study these two drawings. Then try to redraw them, without looking at them, placing the shadings just as they are here.

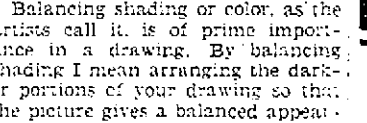

NEXT: Unbalanced Shading.

State Legislature Will Remain Under Republican Wings

Next State Legislature Will Be Decidedly Republican In Makeup

Twenty-Five New State Senators Are Republicans — Two Are Democrats

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 5.—The next state legislature will be as overwhelmingly Republican as might be expected when Pennsylvania rolls up its usual Republican majorities. It was indicated today by incomplete returns from the various assembly posts filed yesterday.

Of the 25 newly named state senators 22 are Republican and two Democrats.

The house will have a huge Republican working majority for out of the 208 state representatives elected yesterday. Incomplete returns showed the election of only ten Democrats and two Socialists though late returns may swell the majority. The Democrats elected three from Berks county, one from Clinton, one from Elk, two from Lehigh, one from Schuylkill and two from York. The Socialists elected two from Reading.

The lone Democrats in the senate will be Lammus of York and Henry L. Snyder of Lehigh, who defeated Senator Horace A. Schantz.

There will be five state senators from Philadelphia and 41 state representatives of the Vane organization thus insuring the incoming governor of a stiff battle by the Vane faction during the next legislature.

HOW OLD ARE YOU?

When Will You Be 42?

Today You Say—And That Is That—But Tell Me Are You Very Fat

Well, if you are—it's probably your own fault—You don't know how to eat right and that's one reason. If you would like to learn how to lose the fat you hate—and no one else likes—do as I did—Take this 30 day test—

Cut out candy, cakes—pies and ice cream—cut down potatoes, rice, butter—cheese, cream and sugar—

Eat anything else you feel like eating—but moderately—lean meat—fish—chicken—vegetables and fruit are best—

Take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts—in a glass of hot water every morning before breakfast—don't miss a morning—follow this advice. One woman lost 19 pounds in 4 weeks—another got rid of 47 pounds in 3 months—A New York woman lost 14 pounds with one bottle of Kruschen and is full of vim and pep, so she writes—

At Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., or any drug store in the world you can get these magic salts—one 85 cent bottle lasts 4 weeks—Ask for Kruschen Salts—an enemy to Fat.

Here's Quick Way To Break Up a Cold

Makes You Feel Like a New Person Almost Before You Know It

THE thing to do with a cold is to break it up in a hurry—with something you know does the job; not to trifle with a lot of trick ideas and remedies. Colds are too dangerous to experiment with.

Get a box of Hill's Cascara Quinine at any drug store. Take two tablets now. Then follow directions on box. Drink lots of water; too—

Soon that miserable, aching feeling begins to go. The cold breaks up. The poisons are moved from your system. The world looks like an altogether different place.

Those results come because Hill's goes back the first principles by going to the seat of the trouble. It's not a new-fangled fancy idea but a tried and proved way that's made to do ONE THING WELL: to knock a cold in a jiffy.

Hill's costs only a few cents. Use it for quick relief after everything else you've tried has failed.

By J. Carroll Mansfield

39. Daniel Boone—The Battle of Blue Lick

HEARING OF THE RAID ON BRYANTS

STATION, MEN FROM NEARBY SETTLEMENTS HURRIED TO THE SCENE. DANIEL BOONE WAS AMONG THE FIRST ARRIVALS WHO HASTILY STARTED IN PURSUIT OF THE HOSTILES, HOPING TO RECOVER THE STOLEN CATTLE.

(Copyright, 1930, by J. Carroll Mansfield)

THE ANGRY SETTLERS OVERTOOK THE INDIANS AT BLUE LICK, EAGER FOR REVENGE. THE UNDISCIPLINED BACKWOODSMEN DISREGARDED BOONE'S ADVICE TO WAIT FOR REINFORCEMENTS AND, THROWING CAUTION TO THE WINDS, CHARGED RASHLY INTO THE WOODS.

EVERY BUSH AND TREE CONCEALED AN INDIAN MARKSMAN, AND THE SETTLERS FOUND THEMSELVES ASSAILED IN FRONT AND ON THE FLANKS BY A GREATLY SUPERIOR Foe. SOON THE FRONTIERSMEN WERE FIGHTING FOR THEIR LIVES.

THE UNEQUAL COMBAT BECAME A MASSACRE. BOONE AND A SHATTERED REMNANT OF THE LITTLE FORCE CUT THEIR WAY OUT OF THE TRAP AND ESCAPED TO THE SETTLEMENTS, LEAVING SEVENTY OF THEIR COMRADES DEAD ON THE BATTLEFIELD.

HAPPENINGS IN WORLD OF SPORT

High Eleven Goes Through Scrimmage Tuesday Afternoon

Second Team Shows Up Well Against Varsity Eleven At Taggart Field

Tuesday Afternoon's Workout Is Long; Rayen Preparing For Locals

Tuesday afternoon's workout for the New Castle High school football team proved to be a long and strenuous one as the local red and black eleven prepared for its annual grid contest with Rayen on Saturday at Youngstown, Ohio. The second team which opposed the varsity combination showed up well last night in the workout at Taggart Field.

Kicking for the point after touchdown and kicking off were other things that made up the workout. Following this the boys lined up for the first scrimmage of the week. The first team consisted of the same team that defeated Rochester with the exception of Lasky at halfback. Lasky did not report for the practice last night.

The second team in several instances demonstrated ability by holding the first team on the 1 yard line in four attempts. Throughout the scrimmage the second team looked good. Mike DeCarbo is the only member on the casualty list at the present time. He is suffering with a sore shoulder but will be ready for the Rayen game on Saturday afternoon.

The boys were excused after close to two and a half hours of drilling. According to reports Rayen will be in good mid-season form to meet the Pa. New boys in the second meeting between the two schools. In the first contest New Castle easily trimmed Rayen and the Ohioans are out to even the count.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Tommy Arnold, southpaw who turned in several impressive victories in bouts here has returned from Buffalo and according to Jimmie Dime will be soon ready for action. Joe Midway and Big Boy Velange also pine action.

Reports state Jimmy Dunn intends to move his entire stable from Cleveland to Pittsburgh. Boxing is dead in Cleveland and that is the residence of some mighty good boys.

Eddie Flick is now ready for anything that may come up. Eddie is a junior lightweight who put Jackie King away. He is in the stable of Robert Latona.

Knockout Billy Murphy, welterweight who either punches his man out or is punched out is looking now at Pittsburgh for action, according to Enticing Terry, his manager.

It won't be long until Smith and Dyer, Johnny Newton, Dave Williams and the balance of the managers start sending boys through stiff workouts in anticipation of bouts.

Al Zill proposes to start the gloves whirling in Youngstown and will have Emmett Rocco as his ace in the hole. Emmett has come back to the limelight and is as big a favorite as ever.

The Bridgeport says in a headline: "Friedman robbed in New Haven." Edward Shugrue, the sports editor says Al Lippe, manager has a right to complain against the decision given Ralph Ficuccio of New York.

Willie Davies and Archie Bell drew $4,000 at Pittsburgh, Monday night. He fought as a bantamweight against Archie Bell. When he boxed Midget Wolgast here and weighed about 112½, the house totalled $5,300.

Should Fidel La Barbara get a crack at Battling Battalino it is our opinion that he will not have any difficulty winning the featherweight championship. Battalino is not an impressive crown-holder.

George Earnshaw, according to Charles Rigler, veteran National league umpire, is the best right hand pitcher since Christy Mathewson. He says that in one game he umpired Earnshaw curves curved 8 of 10 pitches.

The East is ahead of the West in intercollegiate victories. The East has won 21, Midwest 18, South 11, Southwest 1 and the Far West 1. There have been 28 games played.

Proposals for a postseason Army-Navy game for the benefit of unemployed has attracted attention. Chicago, New York and Philadelphia are ready to bid for the game. It is believed the game would draw $750,000.

Joe McCarthy, manager of the New York Yankees conferred with Colonel Ruppert and Ed Barrow yesterday and it has been decided to start the Yankees training season March 1. The Yankees will go to St. Petersburg.

Franklin Team Is Defeated, 13-0

Notre Dame Junior football team defeated the Ben Franklin regulars in a practice game played on Tuesday afternoon at Taggart Field. The score was 13-0.

Richards and Morelli featured for the winners. Pegnato, Jones and Izzo were the best for the Franklin eleven.

URGED TO STUDY SOCIAL SCIENCE

DENVER, Col., Nov. 5.—Social science must be studied in connection with medical science as a preparation for a medical career in the future, according to a paper by Dr. C. Granby Robinson, dean of the New York hospital-Cornell medical school, read before the forty-first annual meeting of the Association of American Medical colleges here.

In order to understand why a man becomes sick a doctor should know what a man is, according to Dr. Robinson.

Prospective medical men will also have to measure up to a definite standard of mental, moral and physical well-being. Dr. Torald Soliman, dean of the Western Reserve University School of Medicine, Cleveland, Ohio, urged the adoption of such standards as a means of stemming the rising tide of youthful M. D.'s pouring out of medical schools throughout the country.

A SAD, SAD STORY

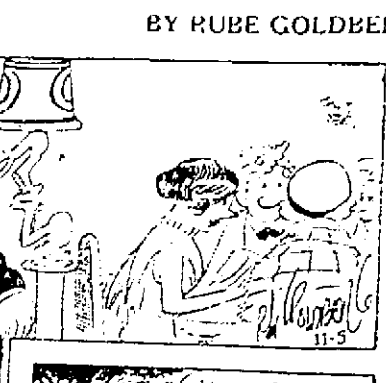

PAUL SMALL WAS VERY ANXIOUS TO BECOME A BIG SHOT AMONG CULTURED PEOPLE—HE READ THE CLASSICS AND ALL THE LATEST BOOKS SO HE WOULD BE ABLE TO DISCUSS LITERATURE—

HE WENT TO GRAND OPERA SO HE WOULD BE ABLE TO DISCUSS ALL THE SOCIAL GRACES SO HE WOULD BE PERFECTLY AT HOME IN THE BEST SOCIETY—

BUT HE FOUND THAT THE BEST PEOPLE DO NOTHING BUT PLAY CONTRACT BRIDGE AND THAT WAS THE ONLY THING HE NEGLECTED TO LEARN!

HE NEGLECTED TO LEARN!

Geneva Installed As Favorites Over Titan Eleven For Saturday

Westminster Will Have Hands Full This Year In Defeating Geneva Crew

Blue And White Eleven Will Be In Fine Shape For Annual Grid Combat

(Special To The News) NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Nov. 5.—When Geneva and Westminster face each other on the gridiron at New Wilmington Saturday afternoon, the Covenantors will be the favorites. For two years now the Titans have ruled the Beaver Falls area on the grid, but under Coach Howard Harpster, Geneva has come back with a bang and is, on paper, a four-touchdown favorite.

The showing of Geneva against such strong teams as Bucknell and Grove City proves that there is little to be desired in the Harpster lineup. A stalwart line, fast forward-snatching ends, and shifty backs who can run and pass and kick with the best of them give the Covenantors one of the best teams in the district.

In Graham, Ewing, and Knapp, Geneva has three of the best backs in Western Pennsylvania. Ewing is the star defensive back, although Knapp is perhaps one of the best broken field runners in the east. Graham, the left-handed pass heater, looks like Harpster himself in uniform.

Ransom Is Good "Slim" Ransom, all-around athlete, is a tower of strength at center for Geneva. "Slim" can back up a line with the best of them in the section. More than this, his uncanny ability at fathoming plays makes him one of the most valuable defensive stars on the Gold and White team.

Against such a brilliant array as this, plus others, Coach "Dike" Deede will pit a compact Titan outfit with very little offensive threat.

The injury of Elmer Meider, speedy end, the loss of Pipely, last year's star end, and injury to other mainstays of the Titan squad gives Deede, but a dozen or more men from which to select his starting lineup.

Build Up Defense But the Titans will play a hard defensive game Saturday. The practice yesterday, with emphasis on defense against forwards, a thing which was emphasized all last week in anticipation of the Geneva game, proved that Deede expects the Titans to be on the defense during the greater part of the game. As a result, defense rather than offense will be stressed.

While Geneva excels in a passing game, Westminster has scored only six out of a total of 73 points this season by way of a forward. The Titan passing in the Junior game was far from effective, and the only gains of note were made on straight football.

Graduate Manager A. A. McDonald expects a record crowd at the game Saturday. Bands from both schools will play at the game. Almost all the Geneva student body will trek from Beaver Falls for the contest. Clear weather and a cold day should provide the fans with a good contest.

METHODIST CHURCH WINS ADDED RIGHT

BERLIN, Nov. 5.—By decision of the Prussian ministry of states, the Methodist Episcopal church has been granted the rights of a juristic person in Prussia. This confers upon it the same standing as heretofore enjoyed by the former state church.

The document, concerning the rights was presented at the central conference of the Methodist church of Germany. Bishop Laurens J. Bray was present as representative of the Methodists of America, and the English Methodists were represented by Bishop Workman, president of the Methodist church conference of England.

FATHER AND EIGHT SONS IN ORCHESTRA

FREIBURG, Nov. 5.—A father and his eight sons constitute the orchestra of the village of Hofstaden, which has just won the first prize in competition with 14 other orchestras. Hofstaden, one of the most elevated villages in Germany, has now been made more accessible by the new railway up the Schanau-fallbach; the loss of Pipely, last year's star end, and injury to other mainstays of the Titan squad gives Deede, bers of the family orchestra.

HUSKIES BOUND FOR STANFORD

Stanford university, still smarting from a crushing defeat by Southern California, now faces invasion from the north in the Washington Huskies, who come to Palo Alto Saturday, Nov. 8. Here are some of Washington's outstanding men: top view, Howard, center, and Lap-penbusch, guard; left, inset, Fabner, guard; right, inset, Schwegler, tackle; below, Coach Jim Phelan and Captain Al Holmes, tackle.

Gridiron Gossip

One of those blacic battles you clash for the championship of that hour so much about in the papers remain ruled over by Father Paul will be staged at New Wilmington. Just who will win this struggle in this coming Saturday afternoon and over uncertain. This is one game the combatants in the way will be that the boys have a tough time Westminster and Geneva. College football machines. Ancient rivals the two teams always put up a great exhibition. Last year the Titans smothered the Covenantors, this year the Harper coached machine may turn the trick. One never knows which way the victory is going.

The Bethany Bisons considerably used up by a good many grid team. This year will stay at home over the week-end and entertain Thiel College. This being a Tri-State game, and the fact that it will be an acquainted day at Bethany, because the Bisons have yet to play a home game this year, a big crowd is expected. The Bethany team really expects to come through victorious. Thiel has a great little team, and they are favored to hit the West Virginians.

Albany College undefeated so far this year, has little to look forward to this Saturday when they will play at home over the week-end and entertain Thiel College. This being a Tri-State game, and the fact that it will be an acquainted day at Albany, because the Bisons have yet to play a home game this year, a big crowd is expected. The Albany team really expects to come through victorious. Thiel has a great little team, and they are favored to hit the West Virginians.

New Wheel Chair Is Given Feree

Gift Of People Of City Is Presented To Cripple
This Morning

MAN LENEFFITED
EXPRESSES THANKS

"See but this is great. The biggest treat I've had in the past two years. It means more than a thousand dollar bill to me," exclaimed the delighted Clarence Feree, crippled newspaper salesman who holds forth at the city building corner, when he had been placed in his fine new wheel chair, the finest money could purchase, and the gift of many generous people of the city to him, and permitted to use it for the first time. "I certainly appreciate what the good people of this city have done for me in making possible the purchase of this chair and I'm sure that through it, I'll regain some use of my legs and that there will be some way in which I can repay those kind persons who got this chair for me. It's a dandy, a beauty. I can't express my delight in getting it."

This was the manner in which Clarence tried to express himself as he was the center of an admiring group as he tried out his new chair in the presence of an ever increasing group of friends, who gathered about to see the chair.

It was located late yesterday by the Brudin Furniture company through whom it was ordered and immediately put together. This morning Jacob F. Rentz, in whose hand the gift fund was placed and others went to the Brudin store, and took it to the location at East Washington street, where Clarence with some difficulty was transferred from the invalid chair that he was compelled to use as a result of his old wheel chair breaking down and being no longer repairable.

The chair was purchased through the Brudin Furniture company, which concern is getting it with out a cent of profit and solely for the purpose of helping out Clarence.

The actual cost of the chair including freight has been paid. There still remains a splendid sum of money which Mr. Rentz plans to use for the best interests of the crippled young man for whom it was given.

CORNELL'S NEW SOPHOMORE STAR

Gridiron enthusiasts of Ithaca, N. Y., home of Cornell university, who have been hoping for another George Pfann ever since that star graduated, believe a capable successor to the great George has been found in this scrappy sophomore, Bart Viviano. Viviano's running with the ball and defensive play has featured Cornell's play so far this season. He is an alert, shifty runner and a deadly tackler.

Alden Descendant Collects Relics

CLOCKVILLE, N. Y., Nov. 3.—If John and Priscilla Alden were alive today they undoubtedly would look with approving eyes on the collection of Indian relics owned by their descendant, Elbert Kelsey, 69, of Clockville.

In a 22-room farmhouse, well over 100 years old, Kelsey, ninth generation in the direct descent of the Aldens of Plymouth fame, has collected valuable mementoes of Indian life in Central New York. Stone and iron tomahawks, arrow and spearheads, stone deer-skinning implements—everything pertaining to the Oneida and Iroquois Indians are on view.

Don't feel abused, son. Hoover and Lindbergh weren't invited to join fraternities, either.

Report 100 Are Trapped In Mine Near Marietta, O.

(International News Service)
MARIETTA, Ohio, Nov. 3.—More than 100 men were entombed by a terrific explosion in Mine No. 55 of the Sunday Creek Coal Company at Milfield, 7 miles north of Athens, Ohio, this afternoon according to word received here.

Will Send Aid.

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 3.—Informed by International News Service that an explosion had partially wrecked a colliery of the Sunday Creek Coal Company near Athens, Ohio, and that at least 100 men were believed entombed, J. H. Forbes, chief of the mine safety division of the bureau of mines, immediately got in touch with officials of the mine by long distance telephone this afternoon.

Forbes said that if on confirmation of the report he believed the situation sufficiently serious, he would send a mine car to the scene in charge of a rescue gang.

TIGER SAVES TRAINER FROM BEAST'S ATTACK

(International News Service)
LEIPZIG, Nov. 3.—A tiger saved the life of his trainer at a performance here in the well-known Hamburg Hagenbeck Zoo.

A tigress attacked the trainer, named Kaden, threw him against the wall and was snatching at his throat, when a big, male tiger, faithful to the trainer, jumped on the tigress and killed her by several bites in the neck.

Kaden came off with a few scratches, and continued the performance. The public did not even know that his life had been in danger.

Close Fights For Seats In Congress Control In Doubt

At 1 O'clock This Afternoon
Republicans Were One
Ahead In See-Saw Battle

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—A choice election prize-control of the national house of representatives—still dangled tantalizingly before both Republicans and Democrats early this afternoon.

The outcome continued in doubt as belated returns saw-sawed the lead. At 1 p. m. the count stood: Republicans, 209; Democrats, 209; Farmer-Labor, one; doubtful, 17.

Complete returns from Kentucky, Missouri, Indiana and West Virginia were awaited to settle the issue. Unexpectedly close races in these and other states made it possible for either party to snatch enough seats to organize the house and control the nation's purse-strings.

The Democratic gains were widespread. Faced with the necessity of capturing 53 seats held by Republicans to win the house, they trusted incumbents both in industrial and rural sections.

In any event the house race was close enough to give Northwestern Insurgent Republicans the balance of power in the 72nd congress.

$500 Check Renews Faith In People

Former Educator Gets Money
Loaned Forty Years Ago

(International News Service)
DENVER, Colo., Nov. 3.—William Norris, head of a Denver dairy cow concern, has renewed his faith in human nature. In fact, he has almost returned to his childhood belief in Santa Claus.

A cashier's check for $500 from "guys who I am" recently arrived in Norris' mail.

Not being an expert at crossword puzzles, anagrams, or hide the but, Norris is losing considerable sleep in his effort to guess who his benefactor was. The letter containing the check was addressed to Manchester, Ohio, home of Norris years ago, and was drawn on the Corn-Exchange National Bank of Philadelphia.

"It might have come from one of any number of boys or girls now grown to maturity, whom I helped years ago to obtain an education," he said. "I was then a school teacher in Ohio. After 40 years I haven't the least recollection of those boys and girls."

After leaving Ohio Norris taught school in Mississippi. He founded the Houston Normal school in that state and served as superintendent of schools for Chisawau county, Miss. "About 40 years ago," the letter accompanying the check said, "you helped me with a small sum of money which was a great help to me at the time. I am now returning it with interest. Guess who I am."

Schmeling And Stribling May Be Matched Up

By HOKE WELCH

ATLANTA, Ga., Nov. 3.—A battle for the heavyweight championship of the world between W. L. Young, Stribling and Max Schmeling, present holder of the title, loomed today when "Pa" Stribling, the Georgian's father-manager, announced that he had reached an agreement whereby Stribling would fight on the 1931 milk fund card, promoted for charity by Mrs. William Randolph Hearst.

Schmeling already has accepted an offer to participate in the charity program, and, with Stribling's acceptance made known today, it was believed that the German heavy will place his title at stake in a bout with the Georgian aspirant to the throne.

Ducking Of Girl For Discipline Divides School

Hostilities Open Between Students And Heads Of Colorado School

(International News Service)
BOULDER, Colo., Nov. 3.—Hostilities between students of the University of Colorado law school and of the engineering school have subsided after a threatened break as the result of the first ducking ever administered a woman student.

Miss Virginia Tasher, pretty sophomore student from Denver, made a "lax pass" when she walked up the front steps of the law building. Campus tradition reserves this privilege for the law students.

Punishment meted out to students who fail to observe campus rules is a ducking in the campus lake. Miss Tasher was tried in court by law students. She was convicted and sentenced to the lake.

Instead of being tossed off the bridge, the usual method of administering the punishment, Miss Tasher was permitted, in deference to her sex, to walk into the cold waters.

She entered the lake unflinchingly and thought it "great fun." Word then reached the engineers that the lawyers had ducked a woman student. The two of the engineers were aroused and they sent an ultimatum to the law students that a repetition of the deed would bring about open hostilities.

Dean James Grafton Rogers, the law school issued an order that no more girls be sentenced in the most court, and Dean Herbert Evans of the engineering school ordered the students under his jurisdiction to refrain from any violence.

Hemphill Expresses His Gratitude At Great "Wet" Vote

(International News Service)

WEST CHESTER, Pa., Nov. 5.—"I have no statement to make at this time except to express my keen appreciation of and sincere thanks for the loyal support I received from my fellow Democrats and many thousand Republicans who joined us upon the great issue of national prohibition," John M. Hemphill, defeated Liberal-Democratic gubernatorial candidate, declared at his home here today.

"I sincerely trust that none of us welded together in this campaign upon this great issue—the national crisis which demands elimination of the 18th amendment, and its enforcement act—will give up the fight until we have courageously made Pennsylvania's vote consistent with the actions and lives of her people.

"The Keystone state will be ready to do her part in recovering to America her constitutional democracy," he asserted. "I wish especially to congratulate the Democratic party of Pennsylvania upon the straight-forward and statesman-like platform upon which I stood with pride and enthusiasm. And upon the fact that in Sedgwick Kistler we have developed a leadership superior to any within my memory."

ENGLISH PAPER OF INTEREST TO SCHOOL PUPILS

Little Josephine Redman, a student of Thaddeus Stevens school, brought to class the other day a newspaper from Liverpool, England, sent to her by her aunt. The paper was passed around and the girls and boys of her class were extremely interested in the pictures of the school children and their teachers in Manchester, England. Their teacher explained to the Thaddeus Stevens pupils how schools in Manchester are conducted.

One thing that interested the boys and girls particularly was that the English teachers are called "head-masters."

West Sider Nets Results On Hunt

Has Bagged Limit Of Rabbits And Other Game On Every Trip To Woods

Being a crack marksman has meant ultra-delicious dinners in the J. W. Reimold home, Smithfield street, during the past few days. Reimold, a Pennsylvania railroad signal foreman is spending a two-weeks' vacation hunting—and getting results.

Since the curtain on the season went up, Reimold has bagged his limit of "cottontails" daily, bringing down a pheasant and a grouse on different days besides. With him was his son and D. G. Foster, whose efforts have also met success.

TOWNS FIGHT FOR PLACE ON RAILROAD

(Associated Press Service) DENVER, Col., Nov. 5.—Memories of the early day railroad fights which characterized the settlement of the west were revived here with the laying out of the Santa Fe short-line between Las Animas, Colo., and Amarillo, Tex.

Fritchett and Springfield, towns in southeastern Colorado, had ambitions to be on the new line. The Interstate Commerce Commission favored Springfield. The railroad contended that construction of the line through Springfield would defeat the purpose of the short line.

Final surveys are being prepared to determine the construction and operating costs of the two routes. If sufficient evidence is obtained the railroad expects to appeal to the commission for a reversal of its ruling. The Boke City-Amarillo sector is expected to be in operation by next spring. Actual work on the Las Animas-Boke City part of the line will then be started, providing a settlement of the differences between the opposing towns has been arrived at.

Grading of the southern end of the road is practically completed and rails have been laid on about 50 miles of the road.
